

WOMAN CRIED

Suffered Everything Until Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Florence, So. Dakota.—"I used to be very sick every month with bearing down pains and backache, and had a headache a good deal of the time and very little appetite. The pains were so bad that I used to sit right down on the floor and cry, because it hurt me so and I could not do any work at those times. An old woman advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I got a letter. I felt better the next month so I took three more bottles of it and got well so I could work all the time. I advise every woman who suffers like I did to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. F. W. LANSING, Box 18, Alton, Wash.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out, drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc. If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

REV. L. B. WOLF, OF BALTIMORE, AT ST. MARK'S

The Rev. L. B. Wolf of Baltimore, Md., the secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions of the General Synod of the Lutheran church, made a very interesting and stirring address at St. Mark's Lutheran church last night. His theme was, "Greatness in Service the True Expression of Manhood."

The meeting was planned by the Brotherhood of St. Mark's and the address delivered primarily for them, but a large congregation was present and listened with rapt attention to a powerful address on a timely topic. Yesterday was a great day for St. Mark's. Twenty-one new members were received into the church. The speaker said in part: "Certain truths affect Christian manhood in its relation to Jesus Christ and His Kingdom. Men are sometimes proven to be led by prevailing sentiment of greatness and power which grows out of the splendid accomplishment in things material, things useful, things that serve humanity in its physical necessities. There is a danger that the human mind may turn aside from the foundation of true greatness and be led astray. Not only in things material and things intellectual are we accustomed to stand in awe and witness what man may do, but we see him as he uncovers the richness and power of nature, and yet all of these things wonderful as they are as indicating what man can do with matter and mind, they do not consist in true greatness. Man is no greater than his thinking. His thinking is only great in proportion as he wills to do, that which he thinks."

The speaker spoke of the great dream of the engineer in India who projected a great dam, converted barren wastes into fertile fields, gardens, etc. "We should think to a purpose. These are the plans and purposes that may produce temporary greatness in the material world. It is expressed in ability to learn others, helpfulness to humanity, blessing and aids in a measure, but is not comparable with true greatness. True greatness in the Christian's life is derived, is not original, must be assumed, adopted, taken over, and is only truly effective in proportion as it lays hold upon the Son of God. It is adopting the plans and purposes of a life hidden with Christ. It consists in service. Christ served and would have us think in tears he thought in, serve as he served, transform and changing human minds as he transformed and changed, elevating them with higher and nobler planes and ideals and aiding in a better and richer life. We need in this age as in all ages, what Jesus showed by his life to be true greatness, the conception of greatness expressed by Him Our Blessed Master, who gave to us by His life a priceless heritage, a treasure that cannot be measured in any terms except those which show His plan of life. His plan of life consisted in serving greatly, serving nobly, serving unselfishly, serving to lift human burdens from hearts and minds, to elevate human character, to make men God-like. "We must get the viewpoint of Christ to serve greatly. The doing of Christlike things as God developed them in His Son is true greatness. Christ came into the world to change the order of things, to give man a new starting point, to enable him to accept and adopt His plans, aims and purposes, and to show by his life of service and true greatness that we shall be enabled to do those 'greater things than I do, ye shall do as I go to the Father.'"

HER RECOVERY REMARKABLE

Knoxville Woman Asks Other Sufferers to Come and See How Well She is—Tanlac Gets the Credit.

The restoration to health of Mrs. E. M. Traverse, who has just completed her fourth bottle of Tanlac, is one of the most remarkable to come before the southern public, when it is considered how precarious was her condition for many months prior thereto. Mr. and Mrs. Traverse reside at 1939 Linden avenue, Knoxville, Tenn., where they conduct a grocery store.

Yesterday, Mrs. Traverse, in speaking of her recovery, said: "For nine years I suffered from stomach trouble. It became acute last summer and during the winter months I was unable to do anything. I gradually grew worse and became so weak and run-down that I despaired of ever being well again. My husband was alarmed about my condition and provided me with every care and attention. Neighbors called to express their sympathy and to assist me in any way they could. Now the same people call to congratulate me and Tanlac is the talk of the neighborhood."

"I am sixty-one years old," continued Mrs. Traverse, in telling of her amazing recovery, "and now I feel as if I were starting life over again. I had stomach trouble so long that I had practically lost my appetite entirely. A little chicken broth or milk toast was all I could eat and I felt my strength and vitality gradually leaving me. I was provided with the best treatment, but nothing seemed to do me any good. I suffered agonies. My stomach would fill up with gas and I was bloated all the time. I could scarcely sleep at all, was nervous, restless and had a dull sluggish headache."

"I heard of Tanlac and my husband finally persuaded me to take it and I bless the day I did so. I have taken four bottles and I am as well and hearty as I ever was in my life. I can eat anything, and oh, what a joy it is to be able to enjoy good meals and feel absolutely free from pain. I feel no after effects from eating. I sleep well; the headaches have left me and I rest well and feel refreshed in the morning. I am doing my own housework and help my husband clerk in the store. My friends and neighbors do nothing but talk about how well I look, how young and sprightly I am, and I want every woman suffering as I did to know what Tanlac has done in bringing me to the enjoyment of good health again."

Tanlac can be obtained in Charlotte at the R. H. Jordan Drug Store, Trade and Tryon streets, where E. H. Drum is personally introducing it. Adv.-11.

A DILWORTH MAN BURGLED DOWN HOME

Cut Putty from Large Glass and Crept in as Clock Struck Midnight—Didn't Know Whether to Call the Police or the Plate Glass Men.

Rivalling in weirdness the experiences of the Arabian Knights and outstripping in seeming exaggeration the Don Quixote tales, comes a story of real life from Dilworth that makes that suburb go on record as a safe place in which to buy a home.

When the fire-bell rang at 11:15 last Thursday night and a residence on South Tryon street seemed to be on the point of going up in flames, a Dilworth man leaped out of bed and donned his coat, trousers and shoes, and followed the crowd.

When the same citizen hastened home, as the fire-bell struck three times, he missed the key to the Yale lock on his door at home. The more he thought of the situation the faster he walked, and the more copiously he perspired, until he got home, shook the unyielding door, and then said things in the bright moonlight not in polite English.

The cool breezes of early morning, 12:20 a. m. suggested sleep, and the Dilworth man grew desperate. Fate, which never entirely deserts a man, had left the citizen's pocket knife in his hip pocket. His thoughts traveled fast. Out came the knife. With feelings of remorse, and gum shoeing his way silently across the porch, the Dilworth man ran his finger along the edge of a plate glass. The putty felt slightly spongy.

The knife flew around the edge of the glass and the putty rattled noiselessly on a cushion made of a coat and night shirt of the man. The glass toppled; was seized and gently laid on the front porch floor and the man in the buy-a-home movement made a squeeze play of it and regained his equilibrium on the inside of his castle. The family next day wondered why the putty around the pane of glass looked so fresh. The man was silent.

After due consideration the Dilworth citizen at 6 a. m. Friday compromised with his peculiar feelings by calling "88" and asking for a list of glass and putty houses in the city, and got them.

Try this Bissell Vacuum Sweeper For Ten Days Free of Charge

For months we've been looking for a Vacuum Cleaner we could unreservedly recommend. We have found it without question in the Bissell Vacuum Sweeper illustrated here.

Housekeepers who for nearly half a century have been using a Bissell Carpet Sweeper will welcome this Vacuum Sweeper, for

It is a Carpet Sweeper and Vacuum Cleaner Combined

This vacuum sweeper operates as easily as the regulation Bissell Sweeper. It not only removes all surface trash and litter, but by suction draws out dust and dirt imbedded in the body of the rug or carpet confining it in an easily removed and emptied box.

In this way it is carpet sweeper and vacuum cleaner combined and, when you consider you get the two articles in one, the price isn't large—only $10.00.

So certain are we that you'll like it that we offer it unhesitatingly on ten days free trial. See for yourself what a saver of time, labor, floor coverings, hangings and teries it is.
