CHARLOTTE WINS LISTLESS GAME

Huntersville Basket Five Put Out of Running by 40 to 20 Score.

Charlotte high school got the best of the Huntersville outfit in a listless basketball game Wednesday night, marking the scheduled elimination game between these two teams. The final score was 40 to 20.

The playing of both teams was poor. The locals might have been the only pep in the fray. He passed well and displayed good floor work at all times. He had eight field goals to his credit when the contest ended.

The locals might have doubted their own had they made the easy shots they repeatedly missed.

J. Shields, left forward for the visitors, was the only man who scored consistently for Huntersville.

Charlotte will scuffle for victory in the second of the elimination series Saturday night when a game is scheduled with the Dixie high school outfit. The game will take place at the Y. M. C. A. and will be called at 7:30 o'clock.

The winner of this game will be one of the six teams in the western half of the state to play the final game for the western championship.

SHOULD REACH TO THE BLEACHERS AND STANDS

Boston, Feb. 24.—The arm of the law should be long enough to permit it to reach to the bleachers and stands at baseball parks and call to account all who bet on games, in the opinion of Judge K. M. Landis, baseball's supreme arbiter. Judge Landis, in a letter received Wednesday by Representative Hugh J. Lacey, of Holyoke, commenting on the latter's bill in the legislature to penalize players or others participating in the throwing of games, said he thought the offense should be a felony with a penalty of from two to five years imprisonment.

Cured His RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk seven years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. I refused to have one. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no loss of time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me. Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 806 1/2 Marcellus Avenue, Manassas, Va. Better cut out this notice and show it to any doctor who says you need an operation. You may save your life or at least the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

BALTIMORE BOY LOOKS THE BEST

Chaney Leads Favorites in Merry Fight For the Crown of Johnny Kilbane.

By JACK VEOCK, International News Sporting Editor. New York, Feb. 24.—Johnny Kilbane's fighting days are nearly over. The good-natured little boss of the featherweight division is no longer a chicken, and no one realizes it better than himself.

But even though he doesn't expect to continue his ring career over a long period, he means to make somebody go the limit to win the title unless he decides to retire because of a lack of worthy opponents.

Digging up featherweights to topple Kilbane from his throne has been a favorite pastime of managers and promoters for a number of years. But they never got anywhere with it.

The situation, insofar as danger to Kilbane's skyniece is concerned, has changed but little. There is enough of a change, however, to make it noticeable.

Four or five featherweights who are active in flint circles today are worthy of tabulation as likely looking aspirants to the Kilbane halo.

Two boys who have attracted quite a lot of attention lately stand out from the others. They are Andy Chaney and Billy DeFoe.

Chaney seems to have the edge as far as general sentiment goes and Kilbane himself believes the Baltimore boy is the toughest of the crowd trailing at his heels.

"If you ask me," said Kilbane during a recent visit to New York, "I'll tell you that as far as opposition goes I figure this Chaney the best of the lot. But I'll meet anyone the promoters and the public want me to meet, providing I get the right sort of a guarantee."

"And right here," he added, "I want to make it plain that I consider the featherweight limit 122 pounds, and I don't care what the limit is in New York or any other state. I won the title at 122 and I have a right to say something about the weight at which I will risk it."

In addition to Chaney, who is a staminate of Joe Lynch, the bantamweight champion, DeFoe ranks second. Charlie Beecher and Sammy Seiger third or fourth—take your pick—and the others close behind these two.

Kilbane, realizing that inaction is anything but profitable, is anxious to resume fighting and willing to box, but so far he has been too high in his demands, and this alone has kept him from the ring. Of course, that is Kilbane's business, yet the public would be better satisfied with him if he would show willingness to take a chance with the promoters and gamble on what he can draw to the gate.

STUDES STRONG FOR NICK-NAMES

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 24.—Students of Southern universities and colleges delight in attaching to their football and baseball teams some picturesque nicknames. The reason for some of these names is easily fathomable, but for others cannot be determined, except that they have been used for years.

The list of nick-names and some of the reasons for them, include: The Prayin' Colones, Centre College, Danville, Ky., because they pray before entering contests and because they come from Kentucky where colons abound.

CAROLINA BESTED TRINITY'S QUINTET

Chapel Hill, Feb. 24.—The University basketball team ran wild over Trinity here Wednesday night piling up a score of 41 to 19. Howard Hanby, right guard of Carolina, shot 12 field goals and the whole Carolina outfit passed and dribbled in faultless fashion. Trinity played consistently and displayed the best form of any team seen in action here this year, but with Hanby playing the most stellar game of the season, the Methodists had no chance. The victory evened the series between the two teams.
