

SCOUTS' NEED OF CHURCH IS URGED

National Officer Says Organization Tries in No Way to Fill Place.

The relation of the Boy Scout organization to the church was the subject of an address delivered by L. W. Barkley, director of the educational department of national headquarters, at the Friday morning session of the three-day conference of Scout executives of the two Carolinas at the Selwyn hotel. Mr. Barkley consumed the morning hour with his address, and discussed in detail council affairs.

"The Boy Scout organization is not a church organization," declared Mr. Barkley. "We do not wish to overlap the activities of the church in anyway, and any efforts in that direction would be in opposition to the Sunday schools. Our aim is merely to direct the boy's attention to those things and let the Sunday school do the rest. Neither do we aim to bring the home into the Scout organization. We only desire to develop the manhood and admirable qualities in the boy by outdoor life and high ideals."

Friday afternoon, Stanley A. Harris, national field executive, will lecture on the management of the Southern district. Suggestions will also be heard in reference to the location of the next Scout conference.

The crowning feature of the conference so far has been the dinner given for the visiting Scout leaders by the local Scoutmasters at the Selwyn Thursday night. At the dinner out-of-town leaders made talks to the thirty-seven Scoutmasters and visitors assembled.

CAN SUBSTANTIATE AUTHENTICITY NOTE

Chicago, April 8.—The authenticity of a letter alleged by labor representatives to have been signed by L. W. Geer, general manager of the Pennsylvania Railroad at St. Louis, suggesting "defamation of all labor organizations if necessary" to obtain information concerning a wage reduction proposal, can be substantiated by witnesses, union leaders declared before the Railroad Labor Board today.

The board was asked to call five witnesses, including Mr. Geer, to clear up the matter. Introduction of an alleged copy of the letter before the board recently called forth a denial from Mr. Geer that he had written it.

The letter, dated March 10, 1921, was addressed to all supervisory employees and asked them to obtain information regarding the attitude of employees on a proposed wage reduction.

"In connection with this proposed investigation, would advise that you use every available means to get this information, even resorting to defamation of all labor organizations, if necessary," the letter said.

AUTOS COLLIDE; NOLES INJURED

A. T. Summers Charged With Operating Car While Intoxicated.

A collision between a heavy touring car and a Ford automobile on the National Highway, just this side of the Catawba river, about 8 o'clock Thursday night resulted in injuries to G. L. Noles, driver of the Ford, and in serious damage to the two machines.

A. T. Summers, driver of the heavy car, was bound over to superior court under bond of $100 by Magistrate J. W. Cobb Friday morning on a charge of "operating an automobile on the public highway while in an intoxicated condition and running into G. L. Noles, not only damaging his automobile, but doing him bodily injury."

According to the evidence as presented to the commissioner, Mr. Noles, accompanied by a young woman, was en route to Belmont. He was about to make a further turn in them in the Catawba river on the National Highway when he saw a machine coming toward him at a rapid rate. He pulled off to the side of the road to let the fast-moving car pass, it was said.

The big machine, however, darted to the left of the road, hitting the Ford a side-swiping blow and turning it over. Both cars were so badly wrecked as to make further travel in them impossible. A call was sent to the city and Chief Walter B. Orr and Deputy V. P. Fesperman went out. Summers was placed under arrest.

Mr. Noles sustained a deep cut in the forehead, necessitating seven stitches and was bruised and scratched considerably. The young woman, whose name was not learned, was uninjured. Two other men were in the machine with Summers.

Jealousy Disrupts Women's Cop Squad

Kalamazoo, Mich., April 8.—Feminine jealousies have disrupted the women's squad of the Kalamazoo police department, Chief Taffe declared today in announcing he had requested the resignation of two police women.

WILLIAMS' CASE

endant, the attorney declared: "In the midst of these foul, outrageous murders, I content myself with saying I know nothing about the three in Newton county. As to the others in Jasper county, I will explain them at the proper time."

"The man who knows about the Yellow River murders knows about the pasture murders, and, if he can explain one, he can explain all," Howard declared.

A recess of ten minutes followed the close of the address, which the crowd, filling every available inch of standing room, heard in deep silence.

Mr. Johnson started his final argument as soon as the recess was up, outlining in a quiet tone what he proposed to do in his address.

Mr. Johnson praised the address of Howard, and added: "As for my friend, Mr. Brand, the distinguished solicitor general, just between you and me, gentlemen of the jury, confidentially, I can't escape the conviction that Mr. Brand has not got a square deal."

"Just beginning his term of office and having worked up his first big case, he was about to reap the reward of honor and had just received a shower of honors from it of the governorship even—when this Atlanta crowd got busy and sent these distinguished men to take his place."

Referring to the examination of witnesses and having made the closing speech, he declared the former congressman did not appear, as did the solicitor general or the attorney general, to be doing their duty as sworn officers of the state, but as the paid attorney of "private prosecutors."

"I would suggest, however, they might well clean up their own house first."

Referring to the Atlanta race riot of 1906, he said, no one hired lawyers to punish the negroes but more than one hundred unfortunate negroes.

Mr. Johnson then made a plea that Williams, for whom he had sought a postponement of trial, had not been given sufficient time to prepare his defense. He asked the jury to remember this when it retired "especially when you run up against suspicious facts and circumstances unexplained."

Johnson referred to the testimony of Manning as that of a "confessed liar and an admitted murderer," who, on his admission, "knocked a nigger in the head as he would an ox."

Scientist and travelers know, he said, that in Africa there are peaceable tribes and fierce tribes, even cannibals, among the negroes.

"I am willing to venture that way back there Clyde Manning's ancestors were cannibals," Johnson declared.

Manning's motive for the killings, he said, was due to his ignorance and the fact that, in "his disturbed and cunning brain, this man (pointing to a Federal agent) had sown the seeds of fear."

Manning, the attorney said, had been told "he was as guilty as Williams" and did not have education enough to know better.

Reference to Manning's having termed the Department of Justice agents "United States protectors" caused the first act on the part of spectators during the day that necessitated a rap for order. It was a spontaneous laugh that subsided at once.

If the eleven negroes had been killed over a period of twelve days, Manning said, some of them would have got wind of the earlier killings and would have fled from the scene of a sinking ship. And remember, he continued, "not one of Manning's family was touched. Remember that."

S. & W. CAFE TO OPEN PLACE IN WINSTON

Carrying out their original idea of forming a chain of "cafeteria" eating places throughout the South, Frank Sherrill and Fred Bebb of the S. & W. Cafeteria here, will open the second link in the chain in Winston-Salem at an early date.

Sherrill said Friday that a lease had been obtained on a building at a desirable location in Winston-Salem. Leases also are sought for at proper places in other cities and other houses of the proposed chain will be opened from time to time with Charlotte as the home office of the chain.

The plans of the promoters are to make the Winston-Salem place the most efficient and best-equipped eating place in this part of the country. The S. & W. cafeteria is already the largest eating place, in point of number of patrons, in this section of the South, it is said.

FRED CLARKE MAY SURVIVE INJURIES

Improvement in the condition of Fred Clarke, Jr., the young man who was hurt when knocked from his motorcycle at Third and Church streets Monday, was reported at St. Peter's hospital Friday. His recovery is now recognized as likely although doubt was entertained by physicians for a time after the accident.

Young Clarke had slackened the speed of his motorcycle to allow an automobile to turn the corner. A car in his rear ran into the motorcycle, knocking him to the ground with violence. He sustained internal injuries.

"EATS" BREAK IN AND WORK STOPS

"Velvet Kind" is Fed to The News Force While Carrier Sings.

Even as Joshua, the Son of Nun, effectively commanded the sun to stand still over the Valley of Ajalon until he should accomplish the defeat of the Canaanites, so did a messenger, even more lovely than the hero of old, march into The News office Friday and command all typewriters to cease until all hands had partaken of "The Velvet Kind."

The messenger came from the office of the Chapin-Sacks Corporation, on West Fifth street, manufacturers of the "cream of ice creams." You have but its unique sign in the drug stores, where a mysterious breeze furnishes a multi-colored whirlwind of confetti in a proclamation about the "cream of ice creams."

The messenger was followed by Afro-American porters, who sat down a large wooden receptacle, with bits of cream and trace of salt on the top. Having made a little speech, the messenger departed, followed by the porters. All hands in The News buildings were ordered to stand to let the typewriters beat at ease for a moment and hold themselves in readiness for mid-afternoon "eats."

It requires almost no effort to stop a reportorial typewriter anyway, not to mention those in the advertising, business and circulation departments. So when it was made plain to the assaulter of L. C. Smiths, Remingtons, Underwoods, Oliviers and other types of typewriters that ice cream was being served there was a cessation of key-board clangor that suggested the flood had suddenly ceased to go over at Niagara and that the cataract had ceased to come down at Lahore.

There was gathering over in the circulation departments, where Sloan Bagwell presides, with the aid of Miss May Bunting, Eddie Riegler, Rob Webb and others. Counters and tables were decked out with papers and a relay of messengers was sent out to collect the occasion plates and spoons.

W. M. Bell, advertising manager, notary public and a quasi-authority on North Carolina politics, was shoved by general consent into the position of master of ceremonies and performed magisterially.

Miss Lula Adams, without whose aid and approval nothing goes well in the office, nodded her Titian-haired assent to the lay-out and stepped forward to transfer the cream from the container to the plates.

It was thought best to make the occasion a matter of some ceremony rather than mater-of-fact, and William Arthur, 10 years old, leader of his class in the Fifth grade of the Third ward school and carrier after school hours, was invited to start the ceremony by singing "Let the World Go By." Although only three feet tall, he has a voice like an Al G. Field minstrel man.

He sang with force and effect and received a round of applause, as the first plate of cream were emptied. Relays of messengers took plates to the third floor, where linotype operators, telegraph operators and editorial managers suspended operations for the time being.

The entire force, from general manager on down, including news hounds, advertising scouts, copy boys, Farley Douglas, the celebrated lick-and-promise janitor, and all others let the world go by for half an hour unnoticed. Afterward all went back to their posts to sing the praises of ice cream makers and the news carrier after school hours to write a paragraph of appreciation. This is it. For many days the personnel of the office will laud the virtues of the "Velvet King," the cream of ice creams, and probable all of it become addicts to its use.

ASHEVILLE MAN BUYS A BOTTLE FOR EVERY MEMBER OF HIS FAMILY

After Spending Seven Years Suffering from Nervous Indigestion Garren's Tonic Restores His Appetite and Adds Ten Pounds to His Weight—Now He Enthusiastically Praises Garren's Tonic.

"Garren's Tonic has done so much for me that I have purchased an individual bottle for each of my children and for my wife, and am going to see that they take this remedy and no other," said Mr. Harrison Hensley, of 371 Broadway, Asheville, N. C., a representative of the Asheville Medicine Co., a few days ago.

"For seven years I have suffered from nervous indigestion and had entirely lost my appetite. My system started running down about four years ago and had reached an alarming state.

"In an effort to build up my system and restore my strength, I had taken practically every kind of medicine that anyone recommended," continued Mr. Hensley, "but nothing seemed to stop the downward run of my health.

"This is February third and about three weeks ago I started taking Garren's Tonic. The result has been more than surprising to me and my friends. I have gained ten pounds in weight; my appetite is one hundred per cent better than it was, and I tell you I feel like a new man since I began taking Garren's Tonic.

"I don't believe there is another medicine on earth that would do what Garren's has done for me, and in the spirit of helpfulness I urge my friends and the public, who suffer from indigestion of any nature, to take Garren's Tonic, now—today.

"Before I began taking Garren's Tonic I was so nervous that I could not sleep and I smoked incessantly but since my nerves have been restored by this wonderful Tonic I do not crave tobacco and my rest and sleep is just fine. For the first time in years I can go to bed and enjoy a good sound sleep throughout the night.

"My wife is troubled with indigestion, indigestion and nervousness, and I feel sure that Garren's Tonic will do for her what it has done for me. Garren's Tonic will do for me, my wife and my children. I tell you I feel like a new man since I began taking Garren's Tonic.

"Wherever Garren's Tonic is sold is sold upon this basis.

"The makers of Garren's Tonic have spent years and years and thousands and thousands of dollars to secure just the right kind of Herbs. Do not let anyone tell you that it is not collectively with the digestive organs of the body.
