MISS ADELAIDE PEARSON CALDWELL, Social Editor, Phone 277

Mrs. Lockhart Entertains. Mrs. George Lockhart was hostess at a delightfully informal tea last Saturday afternoon from 5 till 6 at the home of Dr. and Mrs. M. A. Bland on East avenue, where she makes her home, complimenting a very charming bride of May, Mrs. Lockhart, formerly Miss Sarah Moffitt of Wilmington.

Mrs. Hamilton Returns Home. Mrs. W. B. Hamilton, who, for eight weeks, has been seriously ill at a local hospital, is slightly improved, and is able to return to her home on North Church street.

Board of Crittenden Home. The board of directors of the Crittenden home will meet at the home, 513 North McDowell street, Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock.

June Inspirational Meeting At Second Church. The June inspirational meeting to the Woman's auxiliary of the Second Presbyterian church will be held in the main auditorium of the church Monday evening at 8 o'clock, instead of in the afternoon, in order that the business women may be in attendance. Refreshments will be served in the Sunday school room at the conclusion of the program.

Misses Esther B. Matthews of the Korean mission field will talk of her work in Korea, and Mrs. Lillian Holmesley Bott will sing.

SAY "DIAMOND DYES" TAKE NO OTHER DYE

Unless you ask for "Diamond Dyes" you may get a poor dye that streaks, spots, fades and gives that dyed look. Every package of Diamond Dyes contains simple directions for home dyeing or tinting any new, rich, fadeless color into garments or draperies of any material. No mistakes! No failures!

HE HAS NEVER FELT BETTER

Saunders, After Taking Tanlac Eats, Sleeps and Works Better Than in Years.

"Tanlac fixed me up over a year ago and made such a good job of it I've felt fine and dandy ever since," said R. L. Saunders, a baker in the employ of the Federal System Bakes. His home is 20 South Spruce St., Richmond, Va. "I tried everything I ever heard of, even took an out-door job trying to get relief, but nothing did me a bit of good till I got hold of Tanlac and that suited my case exactly. My poor health started with my stomach. Nothing I ate agreed with me, and finally I got to where even a whiff of food being cool, I nauseated me. I actually hated the sight of food and had to force myself to eat enough to keep going. I got so nervous and worried I dreaded to see my wife come and in the mornings I felt all fagged out and unfit for work. "Tanlac sure made a big change in me. It soon had me eating better, sleeping better and working better than I had in years. I gained eleven pounds in weight, too. I never had better health in my life than I have in the past year and I'll go the limit for the medicine, that did it. Tanlac is a world beater."

What Paris Wears

The new blouses are of unequal length—longer on the sides than in the front. The "backless gown" seems quite "passe," for which let us all be thankful. It was as unfeminine as it was, as a rule, unbecoming. Coats are much straighter and have departed altogether from the loose lines of the dolman. Sport hats of Canton crepe embroidered all over in bright metallic lozenges are quite the dernier cri. The craze for metal trimmings is as much in evidence now as it was six months ago. Printed calico and plain linen combined in a clip-on frock with a serrated trimming of the plain goods seems a favorite porch or garden model. Printed foulard is very much used. It is often combined with serge and thus makes charming coat dresses. Nearly all new blouses are made of hip length and slip on over the head. If a hat wishes to be qualified as decidedly "French" it must be trimmed with cherries and glossy green leaves and the battle will be half won. Many new dresses have widely flaring skirts, the fullness placed on the side, while front and back remain just as flat as possible. Silk fringes are very much in evidence just now. We see them on dresses, coats, hats, hand bags and even gloves. The apron-like panel is a smart feature in many spring dresses. Yellow will be a favorite shade this summer. Very chic is the new sleeveless coat showing the sleeves of the frock. Of course in this case dress and coat are fashioned to match. Plain taffeta is used for sport skirts. Very smart the linen frock with sieves and sash of chiffon.
