THEATERS

"The Sky Pilot" Spectacular Play.
A human-interest story backed up by dramatic incidents which climax in a mad cattle stampede is "The Sky Pilot," which will be shown for a three day engagement at the Broadway theater, beginning today.

The story is taken from Ralph Connor's book of the same title. King Vidor, as director of this Catherine Curtis production, has faithfully carried out the sentiment of this popular novel and has taken care that the film version of the story maintains the comely human vein as well as the dramatic incidents that mark the film as one of the most interesting and exciting of the year.

There is no doubt but that the scenes of the cattle stampede in which 4,000 panic-stricken cattle are seen dashing madly on toward the form of the helpless little ranch girl will forever remain in the minds of movie fans. Fearing that the excited animals would bowl over his cameramen and their tripods regardless of how strong his platform might be, King Vidor decided to film the scenes from a pit eight feet in the ground, ten feet long and five feet wide. Thus it was that he was able to picture the cattle veered by the "Sky Pilot" from the prostrate body of the crippled ranch girl.

John Bowers plays the part of "The Sky Pilot," with Colleen Moore as Gwen; David Butler as the ranch foreman, and others in the cast are Harry Todd, Kathleen Kirkham, Donald MacDonald and James Corrigan. The production is an Associated First National attraction. An entirely worthwhile comedy in two reels also is on this program, Larry Semon's latest release, called "The Sportsman."

Strand Theatre Friday and Saturday. "Two kinds of Love" the thrilling drama of gold, of woman and of deep tragedy, is not a starring vehicle for any particular actor or actress although its cast is composed of five well-known figures in the history of the cinema. It is a picture with a special cast, carefully selected.

First there is "Breezy" Eason, most adorable of screen youngsters, famed for his entrancing performance in "Pink Tights." He plays an extremely important part in "Two Kinds of Love."

Reaves Eason, Sr., father of "Breezy," who directed the production also takes the principal "heavy" role, that of Bull Dorgan, and although it is some years since Eason, Sr., has acted, according to all reports he handles this difficult role splendidly.

Ted Brooks, that experienced and splendid actor, has the role of the invalid. And virile George McDaniels plays the leading man role which calls for a strong actor such as he is.

The feminine part of "Two Kinds of Love" is represented by Jimsy May. She is the wife of the director, Reaves Eason, and the mother of young "Breezy." She is an actress of experience, and a beautiful young woman, quite capable of handling the difficulties of the important role she is called upon to portray.

PUEBLO CONTINUES TO CLEAN OFF THE DEBRIS

Pueblo, Colo., June 9.—With its police powers in the hands of the military as a result of a proclamation issued by Colonel Patrick J. Hamrock, adjutant general of Colorado, Pueblo today continued to dig itself out of the mud and debris piled up by the floods of last week.

At various relief stations workers continued their efforts to alleviate distress among the refugees. Placing of the police powers entirely in the hands of the military followed a decision by Colonel Hamrock that best results could be obtained by centralizing the authority. The program, as announced by Colonel Hamrock, calls for the immediate withdrawal of the civilian guards on duty since the flood broke.

At least 20 million dollars will be required to repair the highways and bridges of the state as a result of the floods, it was estimated today by Major D. B. Blaine, highway engineering commissioner, after an inspection of the Colorado Springs-Pueblo road districts.

TO BE MARRIED JUNE 25.

Paris, June 9.—The Duke of Marlborough and Gladys Deacon, whose engagement was announced on June 1, will be married late this month, probably June 25, in this city, says the continental edition of The Daily Mail. Miss Deacon, who is a daughter of the late Edward Parker Deacon, of Boston, Mass., has just taken a house at 16 Rue Auguste Vauguerie, from which she will be married.

BUYS A CHURCH.

Denver.—C. J. Whitehurst, local insurance man, grew weary of being a victim of profiteering landlords, so he bought a church, in which his wife, a small daughter and himself are living comfortably.

Whitehurst purchased the Fourth Congregational Community Church which had just been abandoned, and now the church building is his sanctuary against the "rent hog."

At present the Whitehurst family is living in the basement of the church. It has a kitchen and bath, and a large room thirty feet square. Pending the erection of partitions, the large room has been divided by imaginary lines into living room, dining room and bed room.

The auditorium of the church is approximately forty feet square, and Whitehurst plans to complete his home by dividing this space into several rooms.

STATE CHARGES THAT "KISSING BLOND" CAUSED MRS. ORTHWEIN TO SHOOT LOVER

Mrs. Cora C. Orthwein, taken before the trial started.

Mrs. Cora Orthwein is on trial in Chicago for the killing of Herbert P. Zeigler, Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company executive, in her apartment after a night of revelry at various Chicago resorts. The state in its opening statement charged that Mrs. Orthwein killed Zeigler because Zeigler left her for Mrs. Charlotte Lewinsky, known as "the kissing blond." Mrs. Orthwein says she shot in self defense.
