

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

June 9, 1921.

Barometric conditions remain practically the same, generally high pressure prevailing over the Mississippi river and low tendency to the north Pacific states.

Light to moderate rains have fallen in North Carolina, the mountain section of South Carolina, extreme southwestern Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma and eastern Texas, with heavy rains of 1.00 to 1.80 in. in a few localities near the Louisiana coast, eastern Texas, and west-central Arkansas.

There have also been light to moderate showers from the lower and middle Ohio westward to western Kansas, and at scattered stations in Colorado, the Dakotas, Wyoming and Montana.

Temperatures are slightly above normal in Tennessee and this vicinity of Georgia and Alabama and day temperatures slightly below normal in Oklahoma and northwestern Texas; seasonable weather prevails mostly elsewhere in the cotton belt. Important temperature changes have occurred in northern districts.

Generally cloudy and unsettled weather is probable for this vicinity until Friday, with occasional showers and little change in temperature.

surfaced road through the central section of the state, connecting Raleigh, Durham, Burlington, Greensboro, High Point, Salisbury and intermediate points to Charlotte. When completed this will be one of the longest stretches of hard surfaced roads in the South, and one that will serve a large portion of the population of the state.

This road can be completed in a minimum of time, for there is already a large number of stretches of this highway already paved with concrete or other hard surfaced material. The road between Durham and Raleigh will follow the Cary route. Wake county already has a hard surfaced road from Raleigh to Cary, a distance of six miles, and Durham county has constructed a road about four miles out of Durham. When these two links are connected it will be possible to go from the Johnson county line on the east to the Durham county line on the west, with a good dependable road, one that can be traveled at all seasons and in all weather.

In addition there will be spur off this road to other important places in the county. One of the best roads from Durham to Chapel Hill. Eight or more miles of this Chapel Hill road has already been completed and the contract has been let for the Orange county end of this road, so that before the new school year, it will be possible to go from Durham to the University over a hard surfaced road.

All of the missing links will be paved before the end of the year, and in addition to the Raleigh-Charlotte road, there will be a great deal of building in the eastern counties, so that the central highway will be tapped on the east by a number of roads coming from the coastal plain section of North Carolina. Some of the eastern counties are not waiting for the highway commission but have big contracts under way themselves. The commission will during this month let additional contracts in the eastern counties, so that in a comparatively short time it will be possible to traverse the whole length of the state on a dependable highway.

No bid to be received less than par, and right to reject reserved.

W. E. PRICE,
Chairman County Board Education Mecklenburg County.
Attest J. M. Matthews, Secretary.

RECIPES FOR A DAY

Barley Gems—Beat two eggs lightly and add two cups of milk. Sift together one cup of barley and rice flour and add two ounces of sugar, half a teaspoon of baking powder. Rub in with the finger tips four tablespoons of butter substitute and add the eggs and milk. Beat well and bake in oiled gem pans.

Ragout of Rice and Bacon—Fry until brown six large slices of bacon and chop coarsely. Prepare a cup of highly seasoned brown sauce, add a quarter of dry cooked rice and the bacon. Mix chili sauce and one tablespoon of chopped parsley. This may be served plain or it may be turned into a greased baking dish, the top covered with dried crushed crumbs mixed with grated cheese and browned over in a quick oven.

DELICIOUS PIE RECIPES

Lemon Cream Pie—Three-quarters cup of white sugar and one large spoonful of butter beaten into a cream. Stir in three beaten yolks of eggs, add lemon juice and grated peel, one lemon. A little almond extract, rose water and three tablespoons of sugar for a meringue to cover the pie when done. This is our good-sized pie.

Lemon-Apple Pie—Take one apple chopped fine, one egg, one lemon chop inside fine, grate the rind, one cup sugar, piece of butter size of a walnut. Makes one pie.

TRY THESE

To Keep Buttons From Being Ironed Off—Place a pin in button and sew over this. When finished remove the pin, thus leaving the thread loose enough for buttons to "play" when pushed by the iron in ironing or tearing off in the wash. It is well to put tape back of them on very thin material.

Dress Shields—Instead of sewing dress shields in waist on with ver small hooks and eyes, having the hooks on the shields, the eyes in the waist. Be sure to get the washable kind. You will find this very convenient indeed.

Stocking—To keep black stockings from turning brown use plenty of bluing water.

KITCHEN HINTS

When making mashed potatoes into cakes, rub the hands with flour to prevent potato sticking to them.

When scouring pans use an inexpensive hand brush which distributes the cleanser much better and seems to lighten this task considerably, to say nothing of saving the dishcloths.

In making salads calling for celery when it is impossible to get celery, take cabbage stalk, cut it up fine and sprinkle with celery seed and let stand a while, then just before using, mash it up.

To prevent whipped cream from getting watery after standing a short time, dissolve a little gelatine in two teaspoons of water and whip in the cream. You can let it stand for hours and it will be as firm as at first.

LOST RIVER BED FOUND.

Caribou, Cal.—A lost river bed was encountered in drilling a power tunnel here recently. It was at a depth of 400 feet and the log of a tree was found in a perfect state of preservation, the wood pruning freely.

CHARLOTTE MEN AT STATESVILLE

Local Merchants Guests at Banquet; David Owens Speaker of the Occasion.

Sixteen officers and members of the Charlotte Merchants' Association returned from Statesville Thursday morning at 1 a. m., after attending by invitation the annual meeting and dinner of the Statesville Merchants' Association. About 115 merchants and visitors were at the banquet table, including visiting merchants from other cities of the Western part of the state.

The Charlotteans reported a splendid time and evidenced appreciation for the cordial hospitality extended by the Statesville Merchants' Association. J. B. Ivey, department store here, was principal speaker of the evening. The Charlotte party made the trip to and from Statesville by automobile. Mr. Ovens in his address, adverted to the cordial relations that have always existed between Mecklenburg and Statesville counties as referred to the fact that the two counties were one in their efforts to insure the building of the first hard-surface highway in the Western part of the state—that between Charlotte and Statesville.

Paying tribute to the Statesville Merchants' Association and J. Paul Leonard, its secretary who is also secretary of the State Merchants' Association, Mr. Ovens said that the pace for merchants' organizations in the state and was copied by the other locals.

There are few new principles to be learned in merchandising, Mr. Ovens said, that were not in effect when merchandising began back near creation's dawn. In selling a pair of shoes the merchant should be able to tell the customer the difference in the quality of the material and the price of the shoe.

"We have learned a few new tricks, however," Mr. Ovens said, speaking with particular reference to mercantile experience in Charlotte and the tendency toward closer co-operation in both of efficiency and consideration for employees. "When it was suggested a few years ago that stores close at 6 p. m. many thought it would not do at all. But we have been closing now for several years at that hour and both the ten commandments and the law of gravitation are still in effect."

"The most important factor in successful merchandising, perhaps," said Mr. Ovens, "is the selling force, that part of your store that comes in closest contact with the public. While merchandising, like other things, proceeds on age-old principles, we may learn by experience that certain ideas, such as making the public feel cordial to your store by a cultivated, considerate sales force and attention to other details, make all the difference in the world between successful and unsuccessful merchandising."

Among the guests at the meeting were all the ministers of Statesville, a group of 15 officers and members of the Charlotte association were also guests, as was Frank Morrison, of the Winston-Salem, former president of the North Carolina Merchants' Association. Mr. Ovens rallied the Twin City visitors gently by referring to Winston-Salem as the great Afro-American center of the Southeast and the most populous city in North Carolina.

LOOK OUT RICH MAN.

Washington.—The wealthy clubman and sportsman with his private hunting preserves stocked with choice game may soon lose many of the exclusive privileges. He may find some day that these acquisitions of his wealth are open to the plain, everyday citizen.

This is possible through a resolution introduced in the House by Representative Anthony, of Kansas, which would enable the Government to acquire and maintain public shooting preserves in various parts of the country where every American who could afford $1 for a license would be allowed to hunt.

Natural gas and coal gas are both combustible gases, but are not identical.

"Who Serves"

Those have not served who gather alone the gold.
Nor have they served whose life is told
In selfish battles they have won.
The deeds of skill that have been done.
But those who served, who now and then
Have helped along his fellowmen.

What

The world needs men today.
Red blooded men along life's highway,
With cheerful smiles and helping hand,
With a faith that understands
The beauty of a simple deed.
Those who serves another's hour of need.

Our

Strong men must stand beside the weak.
Kind men to hear what others speak.
True men to keep our country's laws,
To guard its honor and its cause.
Men who can bravely play life's game,
Who ask no rewards of gold or fame.

Duty

Teaches us to do the best we can
To help cheer our fellowman.
To love, to serve, to be merciful,
And delight in the larger deeds,
Which smoothes the road and lights
The day
For those who pass along our way.

Your best hot-weather "Eats"—Sandwiches

In the good old summer time, your body needs food that is light—but highly nutritious, of course. Sandwiches are the ideal solution. Serve sandwiches—with a fruit ade or ices. There you have refreshment to the queen's taste and at the same time you're certain of honest-to-goodness food!

If you wish them to be specially dainty for the picnic or porch party, remove the crusts neatly with a sharp knife. Here are a few that will appeal for deliciousness:

Strawberry Sandwiches

Bread should be cut thin and buttered lightly. Slice large firm strawberries and spread over slice. Sprinkle with blended powdered sugar, and cinnamon and cover with second slice. These should be made just before time to serve.

Chicken and Olive Sandwiches

Butter the desired number of slices of bread, and on half of slices lay thinly sliced pieces of chicken. Over the chicken spread a mixture of minced olives moistened with mayonnaise. Cover with second slice. These should be made just before time to serve.

Watercress Sandwiches

Spread between thin slices of bread a filling made as follows: One-half cup of butter, six tablespoonsful of minced watercress, one teaspoonful of lemon juice. These ingredients should be thoroughly creamed. Slices need not be buttered.
