

PORTER RESOLVE IS PUT THROUGH

Substitute for Knox Peace Resolution Now Goes to Conference.

Washington, June 14.—Whether the Senate will accept the Porter peace resolution, passed late yesterday by the House, as a substitute for the Knox resolution already adopted by the Senate, was an uncertain question today. Failure to accept would send the whole question to conference, but, as leaders in both branches of Congress have declared their intention of holding out for their respective measures, there was no indication that a speedy agreement would be reached.

Adoption of the Porter resolution, which would terminate the state of war with Germany and Austria-Hungary, came after two days of hard fighting but the vote was decisive, 49 Democrats joining with the Republicans for a total of 305 votes in favor as against 61 opposing. Only one Republican, Representative Kelly, of Michigan, voted against the measure. All attempts to amend the measure failed.

The Knox resolution differs from the Porter resolution in that it would repeal the declaration of war. Opponents have claimed that Congress ought not to repeal the war declaration as it might be regarded as a repudiation of the war itself. Debate on the Porter resolution centered chiefly about the question of whether American rights would be properly safeguarded.

The House was not in session today, having adjourned until tomorrow.

DEMOCRATS PLAN TO GET CONTROL

Three Off-Year Issues Are Already Pointed Out to G. O. P. Leaders.

By L. C. MARTIN, United Press Staff Correspondent.

Washington, June 14.—Sharp political lightnings, presaging the storm of the Congressional elections of 1922, are forking the sky hereabouts, and the issues of that campaign are beginning to loom up like thunderclouds.

For, despite the fact that the Republican administration has been only a little over three months in power, Democratic party leaders are already active. They count each day of the G. O. P. administration a day in the net campaign, and are proceeding as though the elections were only a short way off.

The issues which have already taken definite shape, in the Democratic mind, at least, are these:

- 1—Governmental expenditures and the tax burden.
- 2—The tariff.
- 3—World peace.

The Democrats are proceeding on the theory their leaders in Congress acknowledge, that the Republican administration will accentuate those issues day by day and month by month until they will furnish all the material needed for a first class fight for control of Congress. The Democratic campaign, as exemplified in the tactics of leading Democrats in Congress, is to call public attention day by day to failures, real or apparent, of the Republicans to live up to campaign pledges of economy, reduction of living costs through slashing of Federal spending, aids to business through speedy tariff revision, rehabilitation of the railroads and kindred domestic questions.

They have already begun to call attention to what they name the delay of the Harding administration in working out an international arrangement to insure peace, as a substitute for the Wilson League of Nations. Senator Underwood, Democratic leader of the Senate, did that in a speech on the pending navy bill.

"You said when you rejected the Versailles treaty that you favored some international understanding," said Underwood to the Republicans, "You have been in power three months, and what have you done?"

It is by that sort of thing the Democrats hope to get the country to watching for every mistake. Error of omission or commission, and every delay of the G. O. P. By the time the campaign actually begins, they hope to have the voters in a state of indignation. Republicans in and out of Congress are aware of this. They are urging leaders to follow Harding's tip and cut government expenditures until it hurts. Hurting a few officeholders to the benefit of the great army of voters back home would be not only wise economics, but extremely wise politics, these somewhat worried Republicans argue.

RIOTING IN BELFAST WAS RENEWED TODAY

Belfast, June 14.—Rioting, accompanied by heavy revolver and rifle firing, was renewed in the Clifton street area of this city early today. In authoritative circles, it was asserted that the rioting was organized by Republicans for the purpose of preventing the visit of King George to Belfast on June 22 to attend the state opening of the Ulster parliament.

Business men going to the center of the city from the suburbs this morning at 8 o'clock found themselves in the midst of a riot in Clifton street. The center of the disorder was adjacent to the Ulster military headquarters, which is flanked by North Queen street and the Carrick Hill Republican area. Denizens of these districts waited for shipyard workers and opened fire.

Staid top-hatted merchants dodged about amid flying bullets, and one newspaper man had a very narrow escape, as a lamp post behind which he had sought shelter was struck by bullets. Stenographers fled, screaming, from the battle zone, and tram cars, with their passengers lying flat on the floors, dashed past at record speed.

Policemen were hurried to the scene, but the rioting continued for some time, although at a more subdued pace. Worth street, adjoining Royal avenue, with the Shankhill district, was swept by bullets from Carrick Hill and Millfield. Several thousand shipyard workers are reported to have been kept from their posts by the riot.

DR. LONG RECOGNIZED BY THE U. OF GEORGIA

Athens, Ga., June 14.—Dr. William Crawford Long was officially recognized today by the University of Georgia as the discoverer of anaesthesia. This action was taken despite the decision of the Hall of Fame in New York, which recently awarded the honor to Dr. William Thomas Green Morton, of Massachusetts.

The university authorities declared they have evidence to prove that Dr. Long first used ether for a surgical operation March 30, 1842, which they say was four years prior to any other known record of the use of anaesthetics. A bronze memorial was unveiled today to Dr. Long, who was an alumnus of the university.

Another memorial was unveiled today in connection with commencement week exercises to the memory of Von Gammon, the famous Georgia football star of the late nineties, who was killed in a game with Virginia at Brisbane Park. The memorial was erected jointly by the University of Virginia and the University of Georgia.

University alumni launched a campaign for a $1,000,000 fund to be used in erecting a building in memory of the University men who died in the World war.

It is proposed to have the building completed by next armistice day.
