MISS ADELAIDE PEARSON CALDWELL, Social Editor, Phone 277

From Camp Latta Correspondent.

"Oh, dear, I'm so sorry my week is up." "You don't know how much the girls like you till you start to leave."—What you hear at the end of a week at Camp Latta.

"The week of June 8-15 ended with a glorious track meet. Hot weather? Who minds at camp? Besides, we had the track meet after supper on the tennis court, and the good old moon came out to help light up while May Williamson and Mary Elizabeth Barnett went out in the last event, the high jumps.

"The following winners are to be congratulated on their records: Twenty-yard dash, Stella Boger, first, and Elizabeth Nabors, second. Broad jump, standing, Stella Boger, first, and Dorothy Aiken, second. Running broad jump, Stella Boger, Evelyn Jettom, Relay race, team of Stella Boger and Louise Garbala.

"Two other exciting events of the week were our fishers' trip, and stunt night. For the fishing trip, Martha Biggers packed up ham, cocoa, sandwiches and salad, and the fish caught were cooked by the river, and greatly enjoyed.

"Whisperings, scurrings, borrowings and much energy signified the approach of stunt nights. A committee composed of Louise Garbala, Sara Crouch and Dorothy Aiken was appointed. On an impromptu stage on the side porch, a burlesque movie, "Wild Nell, the Pet of the Plains," was presented by one group, a Kitty song acted out by another, and the prize stunt, "The Pig-Tail Orphanage," by Sara Couch's group, starred Jean Braswell and Lillian Thompson.

"During the intervals, the campers have been competing for camp honors, points being given in swimming, hikes, reading, woodcraft, camp management, and a roll of honor of the girls attaining the highest number of points each week is kept.

"The honor roll for the past week is headed by Elizabeth Nabors, who has 230 points in her favor." "Signed,"

"CAMP CORRESPONDENT."

Miss Wommack Entertains.

Miss Frances Wommack, attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Wommack, gave a luncheon at the Rose Garden tea room Monday at 1:30 o'clock in honor of her cousin, Miss Estelle McCanness, who is visiting her at her home on Park avenue, Dilworth. Miss McCanness is going to Camp Junaluska from here.

Williams-Davis Marriage.

Miss Clara Mae Davis and A. F. Williams were married Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. I. M. Davis, mother of the bride on Louise avenue, by Rev. W. B. Davis, pastor of Belmont Park Methodist church. The ceremony was a quiet affair, attended only by a few intimate friends and relatives.

The Vows Spoken Before a Band.

The vows were spoken before a band of palms and ferns, interspersed with white roses and sweetpeas, in the living-room of the home.

The Bridal Music.

The bridal music was rendered by Miss Louise Young. As the bridal party entered, she played the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin," and during the speaking of the vows she played McDowell's "To A Wild Rose."

The Bride Attendant.

The bride attendant was the bride's sister, Miss Mary Davis, who was gowned in pink tulle and carried a basket of Russell roses and sweetpeas.

The Bride and Groom Entered Together.

The bride and groom entered together, the former lovely in a frock of navy blue charmeuse and lace, with picture hat of black mullin and corsage of bride's roses and sweetpeas.

An Informal Reception Followed the Ceremony.

An informal reception followed the ceremony, after which Mr. Williams and his bride left for a bridal trip to the mountains of western North Carolina. They will make their home in Charlotte upon their return.

The Bride is the Second Daughter of Mrs. I. M. Davis.

The bride is the second daughter of Mrs. I. M. Davis, and is an attractive young lady of the city, commanding a wide circle of friends.

MERCHANTS MEET IN GREENSBORO

Greensboro, June 21.—A large number of merchants arrived in the city yesterday afternoon and last night to attend the 19th annual convention of the North Carolina Merchants' association which begins this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with the assembling and registration of delegates. All sessions of the convention will be held at the O. Henry hotel and the new courthouse.

Following the registration of delegates, R. B. Peters, president of the association, will call the convention to order.

J. Norman Wills, of the Odeff Hardware company, will deliver the address of welcome and M. E. Newsom, of Durham, will respond. The reports of state officers and of standing committees will be made and the work of the convention will be rapidly begun with group meetings tonight. Convention committees will be appointed this afternoon.

The following state officers will make their reports this afternoon: R. B. Peters, president; R. L. Crow, vice president; J. Paul Leonard, secretary-treasurer, and James H. Pou, attorney.

The last session of the convention will be held Thursday night. Three addresses will be made at this meeting: George W. Coggin, of Raleigh; R. R. Clark, of Statesville, and Dr. D. W. Daniel, of Clemson College, S. C., will speak at this time. Addresses will be delivered tomorrow morning by Andrew Burkhardt, of Cincinnati, O., and C. F. Nesbit, of Washington. Tomorrow afternoon Fred Harries of New York, will speak and members of the state association will be guests of the Greensboro Merchants' association at a basket picnic supper at the Battleground immediately after address.

The election of officers and the selections of the place for next year's convention will take place Thursday morning.

All trains today are expected to bring delegates to the convention. A number of reservations have been made at local hotels and members of the local association declare that they believe this convention will be attended by perhaps the largest crowd which has ever assembled in the state for an annual meeting.

Why should your child eat spinach? "It's good for him," you say. Yes, but why? and why MILK? Why BUTTER? Why string beans? Why EGGS? It's because they contain VITAMINES, the newly discovered mysterious force that controls growth and life.

The usual signs of MAL-NUTRITION are—circles under the eyes, bad color, winged shoulder blades, sunken chest, prominent abdomen, stringy forearm, and general "fatigue posture."

Plenty of good pasteurized milk will correct these defects.

The milk with the big "W" on the cap is the kind to use.
