

BEAUTY CHATS

ANSWERED LETTERS.

Burley B.—A puffy condition under the eyes usually comes from a disturbance of some function, either of the kidneys or liver. You should consult your doctor about it.

Terry—There is a mistake in your prescriptions, as oils could not be used as a means for curling the hair.

M. D.—Bathe the armpits several times each day with cold water in which several drops of benzoin are used to each pint of water—this will cause the water to turn to a milky liquid, which decides the amount of benzoin. It will neutralize the odor from perspiration and harden the skin so it will improve the condition you complain of.

F. M. S.—In spite of the fact that your appetite is good, your body is not receiving enough nourishment. Seventy-eight pounds is too far below normal weight, for you to be indifferent to the cause.

Your constipation can be helped by taking two yeast cakes each day, but you should certainly be under the care of your doctor.

S. P. B.—Keep the child's hair bobbed or shingled and give it all the sun and air that you can. This, with a clean scalp, is all the treatment that will be needed.

Gabriella—The information was about bicarbonate of soda, or the ordinary baking soda, to be used for keeping the hair light.

Mrs. S.—The little tear duct that runs from the corners of the eye into the nose, is probably inflamed from so much crying. Use hot or very cold compresses over the eyes morning and evening, which will relieve it, provided you do not continue the habit.

Anxious Marie—The electric needle will destroy the hair follicle and no other hair will grow at that place, but that does not signify that you will not grow hair from some other place. If you have the tendency you will grow hair again, but you can lessen it by keeping the pores free from any accumulation of grime and oil secretion.

Elsie—A chiropodist will explain to you about that condition. If you send an addressed stamped envelope, I shall be pleased to send you a formula for a tonic good for hair that is turning grey prematurely.

Mary—Your choice of colors could not be improved.

R. F. S.—To strengthen the muscles of a stomach that have grown flabby, lie flat on the back, arms extended by the sides, bend the knees and slowly raise both legs as far as they will go. Press the thigh firmly against the abdomen and hold the position for a few seconds; then extend and lower the legs to first position. Follow this by standing erect, then lift your right knee and clasp it with your hands, pulling it up as high as you can, against the abdomen. Hold for a few seconds and release it. Repeat the exercise, using the other leg.

The Right Way To End a Call

It is always good practice to close your telephone talk by saying "goodbye."

If you hang up the receiver without doing so, the party to whom you are talking may continue to talk or at least remain at the telephone, wasting his time and keeping the line from being used by somebody else.

The "goodbye" at the end of a telephone talk is an infallible signal to hang up the receiver without delay—it terminates the telephone talk graciously and effectively, and when both parties hang up simultaneously it helps the operator in her work.

THEATERS

Clean Humor In "The Girl In the Taxi"

Clean, wholesome humor, situation comedy in the trend of unfolding causes, rollicking, mirth provoking, hilarious laughter, is in store for motion picture patrons witnessing "The Girl in the Taxi," featuring Mr. and Mrs. Carter de Haven at the Broadway Theatre today and tomorrow. The picture is an adaptation of the musical comedy stage success of the same name by Stanislaus Strangé, and directed by Lloyd Ingraham.

That scene where the policeman quite unexpectedly catches his wife mingling with a group of gaily seekers was worth its weight in gold. To our mind no finer example of farce as it should be on the screen has ever come to the attention of the writer. The situations are immense. The cast is excellent throughout. And the picturesque background with its lavish investiture is pleasing to the eye.

The DeHavens, whose careers as farceurs on both stage and screen has earned for them an enviable reputation, return respectively in the roles of Bert Stewart and Mignon Smith. Bert, called a mollycoddle by his stern parent, steals his father's clothes, pawned them, hides in a taxi, is whisked off with a charming young creature, muddled party and aside from giving a policeman the run of his life and performing an unusual number of ludicrous antics—all very natural and not too far-fetched—caps the climatic incident by giving his father's watch to the policeman in order to extricate said parent from an embarrassing situation.

The production is released by Associated First National Pictures, Inc.

Restivo, the world famous wizard of the accordion, will again at the Broadway for a whole week and his brilliant playing will be one of the features of this theatre's entertainment program. Restivo has won great popularity in Charlotte on his previous visits to this theatre, and his many admirers will welcome another opportunity to hear him play.

The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come at Academy.

Perhaps no better play from a scenic, acting and realistic standpoint, has been produced than "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come," John Fox, Jr., the author, had an uncanny knowledge of the lives and habits of the mountain people of Virginia and wrote a typical southern play depicting the lives and characteristics of these famous people, the hardy and courageous stock which built this nation. There was no fear in their hearts.

The play has to do with feudal days and civil war time. The piece was very ably acted last night by the Jack X. Lewis Players at the Academy and taken interest in their parts.

Miss Grandin was more than excellent as Melissa, the mountain lass, and gave a portrayal of this character with a realism and earnestness hardly surpassed. Anthony Carroll was in the lead as Chad Buford and proved himself an able actor. Ramon Greenleaf, in the part of Major Buford, gave a wonderful impersonation of an old fashioned Kentucky major, brogue and all. Jack Doty assumed the role of Daws Dillon, a renegade guerrilla and looked and acted the part. Mr. Buhsee, another villain, in the part of Nathan Cherry was extremely good.

Mr. Child, as the old mountain squire who was always thinking of his "likker," did one of his best pieces of work. Miss Walker as the dignified aunt and Miss Oliver as the dainty little girl who was trifled with by the hear of many lovers, played very real. Miss Louise Browning gave a very natural portrayal of an old southern mammy. James Marsh, as Joel Thomas, Charles Cuthbert, as Richard Hunt, were up to the standard of the company and finished out the cast.

The play is beautiful to look at and a "perfectly precious" collyer dog, who could be the freest, Mr. Young said, his head when tried for his life for sheep killing, made a wonderful picture. The play is good throughout and was highly appreciated by those present, which was a much larger first night audience. The Jack X. Lewis Players will repeat it Tuesday and Wednesday.

KICKS MADE ON CITY AUTO TAGS

Dark Red Background Causes Characters to be Dim, Critics Say.

Complaint has been made to Police Chief W. B. Orr and to the commissioners of the color-scheme on the new automobile license tags for the city. Owing to the use of dark red as a background, on which are printed letters in black, it is difficult to read the tags. Mayor Walker said that the scheme of colors is not the one ordered by the city, and the manufacturers may be called upon to replace the 3,500 which have been received with tags carrying the specified colors. The city ordered tags with a light red background and black letters. This scheme would have made the letters easily distinguishable, it was said.

If the commissioners secure another order of tags, arrangements will likely be made whereby motorists who have already got their tags may replace them with the new ones. It was explained that automobilists like a local car on which the name of the city is prominently displayed so that the city from which a machine came can be distinguished when it is in distant cities or towns.

The arrangement of the present supply of tags is good, Mayor Walker said, the name "Charlotte" appearing in bold letters. The darkness of the red background makes it almost impossible to distinguish the words on the tag at a distance, however. Since the city received the supply, many tags have been distributed to automobile owners.

DISCUSSING WORLD WIRELESS SYSTEM

Paris, June 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—Forty experts, representing the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan, met here Tuesday for a prolonged conference on the question of world wireless communication. The purpose of the conference is to harmonize the radio rules of the world and formulate plans for bringing wireless into more general use through the encouragement of private enterprise under government control.

The American government has sent a delegation of ten of its best military and civil experts, headed by Major General George O. Squier, chief of the signal service of the United States army.

STRIKES AT RIGHTS OF SMOKING WOMEN

Washington, June 21.—A puff on a cigarette may cost Washington women $25, if a bill introduced by Representative Johnson, Democrat, Mississippi, becomes a law. The measure provides that women who smoke in "public places" shall be fined $25 for the first offense and $100 for a second infraction.

A similar schedule of fines is proposed for proprietors of public places, which the bill enumerates as dining rooms, cafes, theaters, elevators, street cars and railway stations, who permit women to smoke on their premises.

WARNS PEOPLE WHO WANT FREE LUMBER

Washington, June 20.—Representative Young, North Dakota, Republican, member ways and means committee, declared in a statement Monday night that people who wanted free lumber "will be sadly disappointed if the tariff bill, soon to be reported, is enacted in its present form."

In demanding that lumber be retained on the free list, Mr. Young said: "Those of us who think that tariff laws should be written along cautious lines believe that all industries suffering from foreign competition should be protected, but the claims for protection of those which have done a tremendous business during recent years, such as the lumber industry which are quiet now simply on account of the general slump in domestic business, and not on account of foreign competition, may well be scrutinized. We ought to be making a protective law for a ten-year period rather than to meet the expectations of those suffering temporarily from a buyer's strike."

WANT FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

Havana, June 21.—Upon motion of Drestos Ferrara, the house of representatives Monday voted to visit President Zayas in a body and demand a statement of the economic condition of the nation. Dr. Ferrara in presenting his motion, declared he understood from reliable authorities that the administration of General Mario G. Menocal had left the government in a bad financial condition.

BOND DEALERS WILL SURRENDER

Sheriff Advised That Perkins and Westbrook Will Give Up Later.

F. M. Perkins, president, and F. S. Westbrook, treasurer and vice-president of the Southern Trading Company, for whom warrants were issued Saturday afternoon, following a grand jury presentment, charging them with embezzlement, will return to Charlotte as soon as they arrange for the $5,000 bond each which the solicitor fixed in the case. Announcement of this effect was received at the sheriff's office.

The purpose of the two men to return and face the charges filed against them here was announced to the sheriff by a friend of Perkins and Westbrook, it was said. The Greensboro man is here endeavoring to raise bond for the two men. It was not stated just when the matter would be completed and the two men return.

The Southern Trading Company also is the object of a civil action that is being brought by a number of persons who claim they have lost money which they subscribed for stock to the concern. One of these is J. H. Dixon, who claims he is out $4,000, and another is T. T. Griffith, a banker of Gaffney, S. C., who claims he is out $7,000.

Wilson was intimidated by Solicitor General, who has filed suits for alleged embezzlement and violation of the "blue" law of the state might include others than Perkins and Westbrook. He did not give out the names of these.

MISS ROBERTSON IN CHAIR FEW MINUTES

Washington, June 21.—For the first time in history, according to official records, a woman presided over the house of representatives. Miss Alice Robertson, a Republican member from Oklahoma, occupying the chair for about ten minutes Monday.

She was greeted with applause and cheers when Representative Walsh, Republican, Massachusetts, who was presiding in the absence from Washington of Speaker Gillett, invited her to wield the gavel.

The roll was being called at the time on a resolution providing for the creation of a commission to represent the United States at the Peruvian centennial celebration. Somewhat embarrassed but in a clear voice Miss Robertson announced the vote was 266 for to 42 against and relinquished the chair before any member had occasion to address her as "Miss Speaker."
