Miss Morehead Entertains For Miss Chambers, Her Guest.

Complimenting her charming guest, Miss Sarah Chambers, of Nashville, Tenn., Miss Catherine Morehead entertained Thursday morning at a luncheon at the Charlotte Country Club with a swimming party following.

The club dining room is a most delightful place for morning parties, and in its pretty color scheme of yellow and green it was most attractive in the center of the luncheon table was a big basket of yellow blooms and asparagus fern, with smaller baskets at either end of the table. The place cards were cunning little yellow sunbonnets.

An elegant course luncheon, such as the club is famed for, was beautifully served.

Miss Morehead and Miss Chambers were stunning sport suits, in white and brown tones.

The guests were: Miss Chambers, honoree; Miss Margaret Carr, of Durham, and Miss Martha Boydon, of Atlanta, guests of Mrs. H. M. McAden; Mrs. B. D. Heath, Jr.; Miss Margaret Yorke, Miss Clara King, Miss Calvine Scott and guest, Miss Margaret Poul of Smithfield; Miss Adelaide Caldwell; Miss Rogers Gibbon, Miss Carolina Brevard Moore, and guests. Miss Josephine Rose, of Henderson, and Miss Margaret McDow, of York, S. C.; Miss Joy Draper, Miss Virginia Staton and guest, Miss Marlon Atkins, of Knoxville, Tenn.; Miss Elizabeth Dowd, Miss Virginia Ryder, Miss Mary Brevard Alexander, and Miss Dean Van Landingham.

Bridge Party For Miss Brack.

"The Shamrock" Cafeteria.

The Y. W. C. A. cafeteria, which has been operated in the Central Hotel for several years was closed Wednesday. It will be re-opened Thursday, July 7, under the management of Miss Lottie Hart and Miss Janie Matthews, and will be known as "The Shamrock Cafeteria."

Mrs. Heath Attends D. A. R. Meeting.

Mrs. B. D. Heath has returned from Asheville where she attended the meeting of the first district of the D. A. R. which was held at the Battery Park Hotel. Cities represented at the district meeting were: Hickory, Hendersonville, Waynesville, Brevard and Asheville, the visiting chapters being guests of Edward Buncombe chapter, of Asheville. Among the state officials present were Mrs. William Reynolds, of Winston-Salem, candidate for president general; Mrs. B. D. Heath, of Charlotte, vice-president general from North Carolina; Mrs. Dorian Blair, of Greensboro, state historian; Mrs. J. M. Millikan, of Greensboro, corresponding secretary.

Doctors and Nurses On Lakewood Outing.

The doctors connected with the Presbyterian hospital gave the nurses of the hospital a swimming party, with lunch following, at Lakewood Wednesday night. As many doctors and as many nurses as could leave the hospital enjoyed the outing.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Purcell left Thursday for Blowing Rock. They will remain there until after the fourth of July.

Mrs. Ralph Van Landingham left Wednesday for Linville where she will spend the summer. She was accompanied by her son, Ralph Van Landingham, Jr. Mr. Van Landingham and Miss Dean Van Landingham left for Linville Monday. The Van Landinghams have an attractive cottage at Linville, where for several years they have spent the summer.

Harry and Hanes Lassiter, and Billy Draper will go Tuesday next to Asheville to join other boy friends at Camp Ash-No-Ca.

Miss Margaret Poul, of Smithfield, who has been the charming guest of Miss Calvine Scott for several weeks, left Thursday morning for home. Miss Poul is a daughter of Congressman Poul.

Miss Jean McGinn leaves Thursday night for Washington to join Miss Alice Robison and from there she will go to Boston, where they will join Miss Nina Dean Robison. They will then motor from Boston to Island Falls, Maine. On her return home, Miss McGinn will stop in New York to see her brother, Homer McGinn.

Francis Bruguiere, of New York, will arrive in the city in a day or so to spend some time with Mr. and Mrs. Henry McAden, the latter his aunt. His mother, Mrs. Francis Bruguiere, will join him later and remain for a month or so.

Mrs. W. R. Foreman left several days ago for Atlanta, motoring with a party of friends. She will return in a few days.

Mrs. Peter W. D. Jones and little daughter, Mary Marshall, have left St. Peter's hospital and are at their home in the Blandwood.

Charles E. Wilson left for Atlanta several days ago in his car. He will be absent for a week or ten days.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Enneking have come from Wisconsin to make their home in Charlotte. They are in the Blandwood apartments, South Tryon. Mr. Enneking is associated with the Mott Southern Company.

FRIDAY LAST DAY FOR MAKING RETURN

There is a strong likelihood that reputable citizens of the city and county will allow the sun to go down upon them without having made returns of their property and their poll for taxation in 1921, according to Floyd M. Gresham, county auditor. There was a considerable rush at the list taker's office Thursday and there probably will be an even bigger one Friday when it dawned upon the delinquents that the last opportunity has arrived for making returns.

May was set aside for making returns of property and giving in their polls. June was then added and the first day of July will be added as a last extension.

There is a heavy penalty provided by the state for non-listing of property and the expectation at the tax lister's office is that, in spite of the fact that July 1 has been made an additional day of grace, there will be many delinquents.

In preparation for a rush at the last moment, Mr. Gresham employed a number of extra men to be on duty the last few days. The state provides a penalty for failure to make returns at the proper time.

HAT AND GIRDLER TO MATCH IS NEW

Ribbon novelties are commanding considerable attention this summer, particularly in girls' outfits. A novelty house has just put out this attractive Roman striped combination of hat and girdle, both of ribbon.

What Paris Wears

The kimono sleeve is now more than ever in favor. But the 1921 canon wishes a new interpretation of its own style and, instead of being exceedingly wide under the arms, is quite snug. Quite a hard task for the home dress-maker, but decidedly chic and stylish.

When it comes to suits we find satin and Canton crepe occupying the best attention of the Parisian designers. These are made in redingote lines.

Some of the most effective of the Summer redingote dresses are carried out in dark taffeta over an organdie foundation. A charming model of this kind had wide cuffs, huge collar and foundation of pale gray organdie, while the redingote itself was made of dark blue taffeta.

Smart indeed, the combination of white linen and black satin. A clover gown is thus fashioned. The straight chemise style dress is particularly of the linen, while the lower part of the skirt, the widest part of the sleeves—from the elbows down—and the collar are of the black satin, with a heavy trimming of white silk stitchery.

It is not considered smart to wear a straw—no matter how tailored it may be—with a plain white flannel skirt. Anyway, the girl fair and slender enough to look well in white should never be seen in anything else on the tennis court or the golf links.

Modish gowns in black crepe satin combine wonderfully well with white crepe trimmings, and this type gown is seen wherever fashionable women assemble.

Stay On the Alley,
Use the Right Ball,
And You Are Certain to Win

You cannot play ten-pins without a ball, and you cannot win unless you stay on the alley.

THE dollar is the ball in the big game we all are playing. With it you can win or lose according to the way you play the game.

If you stay on the alley, you can score as many of the points as your skill entitles you to, but you are sure to score something worth while.

BUT if you let your ball roll off the alley into the gutter, you'll never score anything and the end of the game will find you with a blank.

THE savings account is the alley. Stay with it and there isn't a pin that won't sooner or later fall to you. Throw your dollars away and you'll find yourself out of the game and setting up the pins for the other fellow.
