AROUSSED PUBLIC OPINION NEEDED

Thomas Warns of Sinister Conditions in Methods of Federal Legislation.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Sept. 2.—Members of the American Bar Association were called upon by former Senator Charles Thomas, of Colorado, in an address delivered before the Association here Thursday to arouse public opinion about what he described as "sinister conditions" in the methods of Federal legislation. He appealed to the lawyers to combat a "policy of expediency and profligacy" which, he said, "has long disgraced the country's affairs."

He urged the association to show the people how they had departed from the principles of impartial enforcement of laws and equal rights and to warn them of the dangers of partialism and that the government "must persist in the bestowal of privileges and the distribution of its revenues to those securing its control and widening its authority."

Mr. Thomas is a Democrat, whose second term in the Senate expired last March. The former Senator criticized the development of Federal at the expense of state authority and enumerated many ways in which the legislative encroachments of the Federal government had invaded state authority. He declared that "if the range of political authority be not clearly defined, the Federal system, the results may justify the assertion that it is impossible for a democracy to govern an empire."

Federal aid for numerous projects such as improvement of rivers and harbors, he declared, is now to be submitted by the grant of billions to the ex-service men and women of the reserve and administration of the Federal reserve banks to the exigencies of speculation, agriculture and labor and by the proposed creation of a national corporation to handle the Treasury for the purchase and storage of surplus commodities unable to find an immediate market.

Revenue, he said, is raised as extensively as possible by taxes imposed upon specific interests frankly designed to impress the voter with the conviction that the public burden is placed upon those shoulders than his. Taxes are added, are dictated by political exigencies and controlled by political considerations.

MANY CLASSES FAVORED. Statutes especially favoring groups or classes of people had become a feature of Congressional action, he continued. The groups seeking this "distinction" had multiplied throughout the years until they embraced all kinds of men except taxpayers. They were, he asserted, about 250 of them with headquarters in Washington with active and vigilant lobbies. They draft bills, secure their introduction, distribute them at public expense and bombard committees and Congress for their speedy enactment. They have members of both Houses card-indexed. Their aim, he said, is to obtain discriminatory legislation and their heaviest guns are turned on the Treasury, the former offenders had become either corrupted or chloroformed.

The speaker asserted that numerous leagues and associations had been formed since the war to obtain passage of joint resolutions in Congress favoring the creation of new principalities within the dominions of nations in whose domestic affairs the United States had no moral concern. Passage of these resolutions, he declared, committed the nation to a policy involving it in grave responsibilities. Yet, he knew of no Senator or Representative who had challenged the authority of Congress to do this.

Mr. Thomas advised the citizen concerned for his country to study the measures of the calendar of Congress and acquaint himself with the programs of "these swarming organizations which seemingly are enlisted in a struggle of every class for itself, and the worst last night was the strike in Montana. Temperatures have risen to moderate showers in Georgia, Florida, southern Alabama, and at a few widely scattered stations elsewhere in the cotton belt. Rainfalls in northern districts have increased since yesterday light to moderate showers being reported from eastern Virginia, Maryland, upper Ohio valley, lower lake section, the lower Missouri valley, the middle and northern Rocky Mountain states, and western Washington.

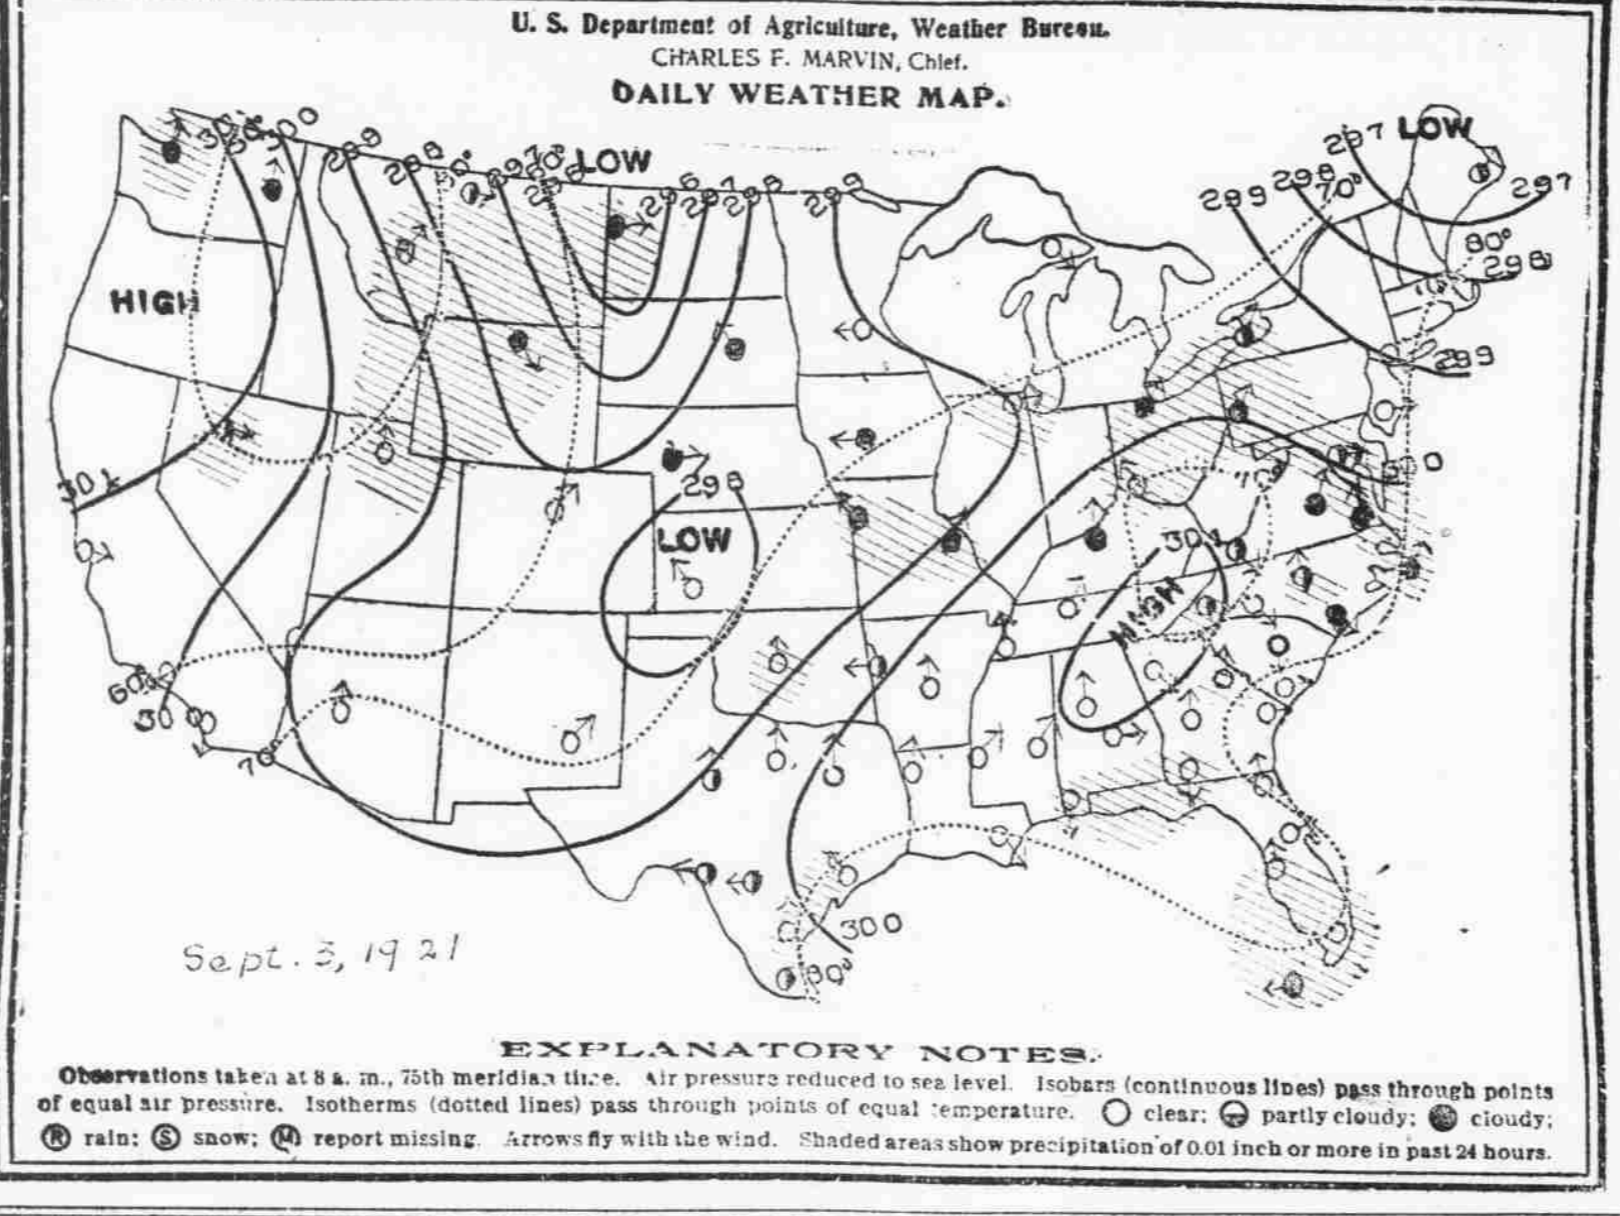

Warm weather for the season continues throughout the cotton belt, with an excess in temperature of four to six degrees over the western and eight to ten degrees over the eastern portion. Maximum temperatures of 100 are reported from a few stations in the Carolinas and eastern Georgia. Excesses have also been reported in North Dakota and Wyoming, and also on the north Atlantic coast where they range this morning from 12 to 19 degrees above normal.

MARCHING LEGION WITH THE

Hollywood, Cal., Sept. 2.—Going downtown last week to buy a new pair of fancy slippers, of which she is notoriously fond, the recently married Doris May, at nineteen, was one of the screen's newest stars, saw several unhappy looking men standing in front of an American Legion post building here. Upon inquiry she learned they were World War veterans, jobless for weeks and hungry for days. "I just couldn't think of buying things that I have to give along without with the look in the eyes of those boys," she declared upon entering the Legion's clubrooms. "You take this money that I was going to use to buy those slippers and give them all a good meal for me."

The young actress has started a campaign among her associates in the movie colony here to have them "do away with unnecessary frills and finery" while the equivalent in money can be used to better advantage in helping the unemployed service men. Since Rev. John W. Inzer, national chaplain of the American Legion, announced that he would perform wedding ceremonies without charge for Legionnaires who attend the national convention of the Legion at Kansas City, Oct. 31 to Nov. 2, a Kansas City jeweler has agreed to supply the wedding rings and a number of merchants have announced that they would donate wedding presents.

BELGIUM TRIES TO HELP CHILDREN TO HELP CHILDREN

Development of Youth Pushed as National Health Measure.

Washington, Sept. 2.—Belgium is working out a program for the conservation of childhood, according to information reaching the Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor. How intelligence, determination and united effort triumph over conquest, war and famine is vividly portrayed in a paper read at the second International Conference on the Protection of Childhood, recently held in Brussels, by Dr. Rene Sand, of the University of Brussels, a copy of which has reached Washington.

According to this paper, even during the years of occupation, when the government had left Belgium soil and the only central co-ordinating agency was the voluntary Comité National public health activities were started on a hitherto unknown scale, and for the first two years there was an actual decline in infant mortality. Dr. Sand accounts for this in part by the cessation of industrial work for women.

RETARDED FULL YEAR

"The average Belgian child was at the time of the armistice, one full year backward in normal development; the weight of the average Brussels school boy was three pounds below normal, while the average school girl was seven pounds below normal. The reconstruction of industry was the establishment of an independent Labor Medical Service, which includes in its functions the protection of working mothers and nursing working women and the care of the health of working children. The service immediately formulated a constructive program which enlisted the co-operation of all agencies concerned in the promotion of public health, including the health of working mothers and their children.

WILLIAM SPENDS HIS TIME IN SOLITUDE

Doorn, Holland, Sept. 3.—(By the Associated Press)—Former Emperor William of Germany finds his almost constant state of solitude in exile since the death of former Empress Augusta Victoria strongly expressing him, despite his efforts to gain diversion by reading, walking, sawing wood and caring for his garden. The visits of relatives and friends have decreased greatly.

WORKING YOUTH PROTECTED.

Belgium has realized that health protection in the community must go hand in hand with health protection in industry, and Dr. Sand emphasizes the following points: General public health work, child welfare, housing, the restriction of alcohol consumption and the education of recreation both for adults and children. A national children's board has been established, which is maintained by public and private funds. The child welfare program includes the periodic free examination of children under three years of age, brought by their mothers for examination; the establishment of free medical dispensaries for expectant mothers, the diffusion of knowledge relating to infant health and maternal nursing, and the supervision of boarded out children under seven years of age. The cost of child welfare work is borne one-half by the state, one-fourth by the province, and one-fourth by the municipality.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

September 3, 1921. The upper Mississippi valley disturbance has moved rapidly eastward to the middle St. Lawrence valley, lower pressure prevailing in all Atlantic and east Gulf States. It is still, however, relatively high over the southeastern states.

A "low" of moderate intensity is central north of west North Dakota, closely followed by rising pressure in the extreme northwest.

In the past 24 hours there have been moderate showers on the North Carolina coast, and light showers in Raleigh and vicinity, and Asheville. There have also been light scattered showers in Georgia, Florida, southern Alabama, and at a few widely scattered stations elsewhere in the cotton belt. Rainfalls in northern districts have increased since yesterday light to moderate showers being reported from eastern Virginia, Maryland, upper Ohio valley, lower lake section, the lower Missouri valley, the middle and northern Rocky Mountain states, and western Washington.

TROOPS ARRIVE

at the Logan county line. The soldiers arrived late and did not leave the 23 cars that conveyed them to Madison. They, however, had a strong guard. Both the Federal and State military authorities believed today will see the end of the belligerency on the Boone-Logan boundary line and the mine's end being in progress late yesterday. Dispersed and return to their homes under the protection of the Federal troops.

International Vice President Philip Murray, of the United Mine Workers, expressed his personal judgment in a statement last night that the presence of the Federal troops will result in immediate quiet being restored. "The men will welcome the Federal troops with open arms," he said. District Vice President William Petry, of Charleston, said he had assurances from the men that they would not oppose the regular troops and would obey their orders and regulations.

General Bandholtz did not anticipate meeting any trouble and it is not expected that the two thousand troops held in reserve in army camps will be needed. There were reports here early today that there was a movement toward home in progress late yesterday. It was expected the Federal authorities would arrive at a decision today on the question of declaring some form of martial law in the counties of Kanawha, Boone, Logan and Mingo. Drastic proclamation, if one is issued, is not expected here.
