With this announcement "Razz" Johnson, a negro truck driver, answered the insistent demands of Motorcycle Patrolman A. L. Pressley that he crawl from beneath his truck, which was stalled in the middle of one of this city's main traffic ways.

Pressley glanced beneath the truck. "Where's your clothes?" he demanded. "They's wha clothes ain't ought to be," Razz explained. "I'm down here a-fixin' my truck when my gears or somethin' gets hold of my pants and well, that's all—my clothes ain't—that's all."

"Razz's" entire wardrobe consisted of a pair of shoes. The revolving rod of his machine had "stripped" him of the rest of his belongings.

Pressley stopped a passing motorist and secured the loan of a rain coat for "Razz."

"Sweet mamma, but I've an embarrassed baby," "Razz" apostrophized as he drove away.

The AUTUMN EXPOSITION

Exhibitors and visitors to Charlotte during the course of the Carolinas Exposition are reminded of its coincidence with our own Autumn Exposition of Fashion and are cordially invited to visit us while in the city.

Were proof needed of the vital place accorded woman in the scheme of things mundane, our Autumn Exposition brings evidence irrefutable. You are warmly invited to a "try-on party" that you may know the true beauty of the display.

AUTUMN brings her own exclusive world of beauty, wholly unknown to any other season. There is the gleaming of rare brocades, the deep lustrous richness of furs, the inimitable daintiness of silken underthings, the incomparable smartness of trig tailleurs, the exotic splendor of evening apparel, all gloriously intermingling. One senses an atmosphere of breathless anticipation, so vividly do these beautiful garments suggest the wonderful affairs in which they are to play a part.

These Alluring Under-silks

Furs of Amazing Beauty and Worth

Our New SHOE Dept.

They hardly look as though they were meant to be worn, they're so delicately lovely, yet they have a propensity for wear all out of proportion to their fragile look. Bits of lace of rare quality, a rosebud or two, a knot or a streamer of ribbon, add to the adorable attractiveness of crepe de chine and Georgette with new weave Glove Silk Undies for the more tailorishly inclined. Our showing includes Teddies, Camisoles, Vests, Bloomers, Petticoats, Nightgowns, and exquisite Negligees.

Genuine Fox Scarfs—whole skin pieces in light and dark brown and black—bought at just about half price and to be sold accordingly—$19.50 to $59.50. The large flat ones at $25.00 to $75.00 brings new shoes at new prices in time for the new Fall modes including straps and Sally Sandals in so wanted black and the following—every pair an investment in Autumn smartness: Tan and black calf for street wear—Black satin for evenings—Patent leather for afternoon—All fashionable combinations.
