

Why People With Weak Nerves and Thin Blood So Often Fail in Life and are trampled down by strong, keen, red-blooded men with nerves of steel.

Without strong nerves you lose your magnetism, force and courage. You feel your own weakness and others know that you are weak. Trifling things annoy you—this is a sure sign of nerve exhaustion. Some people are born with a very small amount of nerve-vital fluid, because their nerve force has been squandered by the lives led by their ancestors. Others use up their nerve force faster than the body can make it. When your nerve force becomes weakened all the vital organs of your body lose their normal strength and vigor and as a result, all kinds of alarming symptoms may appear. From the pains across the back, one person thinks he has kidney trouble; another may think his spine is injured because of the tender spots which may occur thereon. The dull heavy pain in the lower part of head leads another to think he is going to have paralysis and from the disagreeable fullness or pressure in the front of his head, another feels he is going to die from high blood pressure. Sleeplessness and nervous irritability, heart palpitation and indigestion are very common symptoms. Naturally your strength, vigor, endurance and brain power are all greatly weakened, and in such a condition you are in no position to compete with the strong, keen red-blooded man with nerves of steel. When you lack nerve force, there is only one thing that is going to help you—and that is more nerve force. In such cases mere stimulating medicines and narcotic drugs that often worse than useless; what you must have is something to furnish an increased supply of the nerve-vital fluid to your nerve cells. This is most effectively accomplished by the free use of Nuxated Iron. This valuable product contains the principal chemical constituent of active living nerve force in a form which most nearly resembles that in the brain and nerve cells of man. It also contains organic iron like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. This form of iron will not blacken nor injure the teeth nor upset the stomach. It is an entirely different thing from metallic iron which people usually take. Nuxated Iron may therefore be termed both a blood and a nerve food as it feeds strength-giving iron to your blood and the principal chemical ingredients of active living nerve force to your brain and nerve cells. Over four million people are using Nuxated Iron annually. From the remarkably beneficial results which it has produced, the manufacturers feel so certain of its efficacy that they guarantee satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. Beware of substitutes. Look for the word "Nuxated" on every package. Nuxated Iron for the blood and nerves is sold by all druggists.

NUXATED IRON ENRICHES THE BLOOD - GIVES YOU NEW STRENGTH AND ENERGY.

New Fall Styles In Men's Footwear

Among the large number of new styles now on display in this brogue in dark brown calfskin. It is substantially made of A-1 materials throughout, and is truly a great value at—

$5.50

W. L. Douglas Shoes

THE BEST KNOWN SHOE IN THE WORLD FOR 50 YEARS. Our shipments of Fall styles for men, women and children have been arriving for two weeks, and we believe we have the shoe you desire. Prices range from $5.50 to $9.50.

NATHAN'S
38 East Trade St.

Reputation

The store that has won the confidence of a community, has won its greatest asset—good reputation.

The suit or overcoat you buy here is backed by reputation built through the years. It is the life-blood of our business.

We're keeping the faith by selling clothes of known QUALITY.

MELLON'S

HOLDING ALOOF FROM THE REST

For the Very Simple Reason That the Others Have Nothing to Offer.

BY WILLIAM BIRD.
Staff Correspondent of The News. Special Cable Dispatch to The News. Copyright, 1921, by News Publishing Co.

Paris, Sept. 17.—A plain unvarnished word about Mr. Hoover's Russian relief. There has been much criticism—though cautiously advanced—of Mr. Hoover in certain European quarters where it was felt he was "too exclusive" in his relief organization. It is pointed out that he has turned his back toward Dr. Nansen and the League of Nations effort, and also refused to pool resources with the Supreme Council committee.

Why does Hoover hold aloof? Why does he refuse to co-operate with others? Why does he want to play a lone hand? complain the critics, who seem to feel it is just a matter of personal pride. The fact, straight from a plain-speaking American who is in a position to know, is this: Hoover is the only one of all the relief people who has any money. He has some fourteen million dollars for this purpose. He can get more, much more. Nansen has none. The League has none. The Supreme Council has none.

OFFER CO-OPERATION.

When these other agencies come to Hoover with suggestions for co-operation, he listens politely, and then asks: "What can you do?" They answer that they can er—ah—hum—"co-operate."

What it means, says my informant, is that they are willing to help Hoover spend his money. Hoover will co-operate with anybody who has the goods, but sees no point in cutting one loaf of bread into too many small pieces.

Meantime, one of the most graceful and practical things Hoover has done in Europe is the presentation by the American Red Cross to the Austrian Government of all its surplus stock of tobacco and cigarettes.

What to do with this surplus has long been a problem to the Red Cross authorities at the Paris headquarters. The army stocks of tobacco were sold, along with the rest of the war surplus, to the French government and retailed into cigarettes before American charity, however, did not take to American cigarettes and while American residents eagerly bought their favorite brands by the cartload, there were not enough Americans to make the stock move quickly. Therefore, when the Red Cross proposed that the French authorities buy their stocks also, the French "refused."

Not only that, but it refused to allow the Red Cross to sell them at all in France, unless the full tax were paid. This made the price so high that sale was impossible. Other European governments were appealed to, but in vain, for everywhere the tax on tobacco is high.

HAPPY EXPEDIENT.

At last a happy expedient was hit upon. The Red Cross commission in Vienna offered to give the tobacco, which cost the Red Cross eighty thousand dollars, to the Austrian Government on condition that the latter sell it at a determined price, substantially equivalent to the retail price in America, and devote the proceeds to child relief, under Red Cross supervision.

The hopes in Vienna were shipped and are beginning to arrive in Vienna. There are carloads of cigarettes and other carloads of "roll-your-own" which the Austrian Government will make up into cigarettes before selling, thus getting a higher price.

Meanwhile, plans for applying the proceeds to the immediate relief of Vienna's undernourished babies are well under way. The plan, pointed out by the Government and the Red Cross provides for the purchase of cows, which will be brought into the territory immediately surrounding Vienna. The milk from these cows will go directly to the children who are in various child health stations distributing relief to the babies of the poor.

To expedite the work, the Austrian finance ministry has already agreed to advance part of the money expected to be realized from the sale of the American stocks. The total to be realized, according to Red Cross officials, will be not far from one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, as the inventory value of the goods is considerably below the retail value.

VIENNA LACKS MILK.

Some idea of the dearth of milk in Vienna may be gained from the fact that, whereas the normal supply of the city is about one million gallons daily, it has dropped until it is now hardly one hundred thousand gallons. Part of the cause of this is the fact that great dairy lands, which formerly supported the Austro-Hungarian capital, have been annexed to Czechoslovakia. Another reason, however, is that the Government has fixed the price of milk at a low figure in order to place it within reach of the poor, and the result is that the dairy farmers claim they cannot produce at a profit. A short time ago, in fact, the daily supply fell as low as fifty thousand gallons, but doubled when a slight increase in price was allowed.

Before the milk situation can improve much further, there will have to be greater increases in price. Indeed, one Red Cross report declares that control must be removed altogether and free competition restored if the farmers are to be expected to produce a maximum yield.

At all events, the Viennese smoker may now increase his daily cigarette consumption with a clear conscience, realizing that if, as some doctors assert, it is bad for his health, it is all the same good for the health of Vienna's children.

MAYOR IS UNABLE TO ATTEND CONFERENCE

Mayor Walker will be unable to attend the regional conference on "Town and County Administration," to open at Chapel Hill Monday, owing to the added duties necessitated by the Made-in-Carolinas Exposition.

City and county officials from every section of the State will attend the conference in Chapel Hill. The Charlotte mayor had planned to attend, but the presence of the Made-in-Carolinas Exposition caused him to withdraw his plans.

Mayor Walker is particularly interested in the conference in view of the thorough discussion of the municipal finance act that is to come up during the meeting. Among speakers who will discuss this act will be State Auditor Baxter Durham, Mayor T. R. Eldredge, of Raleigh, Prof. A. C. McIntosh, of the University, and a number of others.

CHICHESTER'S PILLS

THE BILKIN'S KIDNEY PILLS. Ask your Druggist for Bilkins' Kidney Pills in their original brand. They are made of purest ingredients. Take, twice daily, with water. Sold by all Druggists. Always Reliable. Sold by DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.

EXPOSITION NOTES

EDITOR OF "COTTON" HERE.

L. L. Arnold, editor of "Cotton," published in Atlanta and one of the most widely circulated magazines in the country devoted to cotton in its various phases, is a visitor at the exposition. He has been here for several days and is taking notes about points of interest at the exposition.

Charlotte people are warmly to be congratulated, he said, on the enterprise in staging the Made-in-Carolinas exposition. The only criticism he has to offer is that they did not do it sooner and he suggested that Charlotte is emulating Greenville, which has shown itself to be forward-looking and enterprising in erecting the Textile building there and otherwise fostering the textile industry and the exploitation of cotton by that means.

HOUSE BUILDING SHOWN.

The Tuxbury Lumber Company, whose booth is at the door on the farthest east wing leading from the exposition building out into the air dome and right at the east end of the hand stand, shows the visitor to the exposition just what processes have to be followed in building a house from cellar to garret and how the timbers are packed together. It is in charge of M. G. McGuinnis, sales engineer of the Tuxbury Lumber company, and one of the most expert house engineers in the city, it is said. The booth, being hard by the hand stand, is favorite resting place for visitors, combining both the features of rest room and demonstration of the methods used by modern engineers in house building, as well as the timbers and materials used in popular types of houses at the present day.

CHAIR EXHIBIT.

A booth in the north wing and about the middle of the building that has attracted much attention is that of the High Point Bending and Chair Company of Siler City, this state. In the booth are half a dozen specimens of the type of chair made by this company. Several furniture dealers of Charlotte have pronounced the fiber chair types as fine specimens of the chair manufacturers art as can be found anywhere in the world. The work is finished with a decorative touch, and is an art in itself. Speight Warren of Siler City has been in charge of the booth.

Y. W. C. A. BOOTH.

A booth that has been a center of popular interest during the exposition is one operated by the Charlotte Young Women's Christian Association. It is in the north wing of the building, on the left as the visitors go through to the air dome. It has been in charge of various young women of the "Y. W." from time to time, including Miss May Bunting, Miss Edith Summerlin, Miss Georgia Peterson and one Mrs. J. A. Baldwin. The booth has been popularized by the sale of a little package of water colors for amateur painters. The package contains a pencil and brush and a paper with drawings on it representing various animals and persons. The user is directed to apply the brush with a little water on it to the outline of the proposed picture and presto! he has painted a beautiful water color picture. Most of the visitors to the booth do not fail to take away with them a package to try their hand at painting.

SHOWING HUMIDIFIERS.

The DeLange Humidifier, invented at Winston-Salem by the man whose name it bears and manufactured there, is an interesting product of the manufacturing of North Carolina. It has a place of honor in the exposition building near the hand stand and between that and the manager's office. The instrument is in action all the while showing how the air in a cotton mill is kept in a damp condition by the injection of steam into the air, this to prevent saturation of cotton lint that formerly made life in certain rooms of a cotton mill unwholesome.

"WHEAT HEARTS" STAND.

The "Wheat Hearts" booth, presided over by Mrs. Jeanette Fridley and displaying a product by the Wheat Hearts Company of Asheville, has been a popular place with visitors to the exposition. Specimens of wheat hearts, the popular commercial product made from the heart of ordinary wheat grains, are kept on exhibition and specimens of it given out to inquiring visitors. Mrs. Fridley has made the reputation of being one of the most accomplished demonstrators at the exposition.

WHAT STUDENTS CAN DO.

The craftsmanship and artistic taste of a high order belongs to the average North Carolina boy and girl is shown by a great array of goods on display at the Southern Industrial Institute booth in the Exposition, where President J. A. Baldwin of the institute has fitted up a booth at the northeast corner of the building, not far from the east entrance to the air dome.

"The booth is to me one of the most beautiful in the exposition and the most interesting of all of them because of its possibilities," said a visitor standing before the booth Friday night. "I expected to see fine handiwork and artistic things in things where manufactured articles are kept and where artists of long training have placed their wares, but I was hardly prepared to see such wonderful work from the Southern Industrial Institute, where the craftsmanship and artistry shown are, so to speak, the result of native endowment and not of long training."

In the booth are a great many dainty articles of household use, such as tables, doll cradles, dolls, picture frames and other things of interest.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE Security Savings Bank

At Charlotte, in the State of North Carolina, at the close of business, on September 15, 1921.

Resources.
Loans and discounts $431,015.11
Demand loans 18,986.94
Overdrafts, secured, $305.94;
unsecured, $64.00 369.94
North Carolina State 2,000.00
Furniture and fixtures 3,889.50
Cash in vault and net amount due from Bankers and Trust Companies 20,836.59
Cash items held 24
hours 1,081.01
Checks for clearing $40.17
Total $479,019.26

Liabilities.
Capital stock paid in $90,000.00
Surplus fund 2,000.00
Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid 375.42
Bills payable 50,000.00
Deposits subject to check 260,413.30
Demand certificates of deposit 63,020.74
Time certificates of deposit, due in less than 30 days 9,000.00
Cashier's checks outstanding 4,189.50
Certified checks 20.00
Total $479,019.26

State of North Carolina, County of Mecklenburg, ss:
I, W. L. JENKINS, Cashier of the above named Bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.
W. L. JENKINS,
Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 15th day of September, 1921.
J. H. LEACH,
Notary Public.

H. C. JONES,
W. A. MCDONALD,
Directors.

home-made dresses, dollies, handkerchiefs, bedspreads, curtains, cushions, and dozens of other such articles. "Dainty Dot" dresses and beds as they have been named by the students at the institute, are two classes of goods that have attracted special attention for their fine quality and clever workmanship shown in their construction.

VOGLER PLANS START OF CHAIN OF STORES

Plans for the organization of a company here to conduct a chain of stores to handle every kind of food products have been completed by J. A. Vogler and others, according to announcement Saturday afternoon. The plan is to set up six stores here in Charlotte and eventually to set up other stores of the kind in this section of the South, the system is to be operated somewhat after the manner of the Pender system of stores in Norfolk.

The promoters will open one main service store in the heart of the business district of Charlotte and five others in different parts of the city, the five to be cash-and-carry stores. The present purpose is to open the stores in the immediate future.

J. A. Vogler, who is to be president and general manager of the system, has been for twelve years one of the successful grocers of Charlotte now being the head of Vogler's at East Trade and North Brevard streets. He has had extensive experience and responsibility in the mercantile game. J. A. Armstrong, who has for a number of years held a responsible position with the Southern Bell Telephone company, will be secretary and treasurer of the new concern.

Places for opening the first few stores of the system here in the city have been partially obtained and others will be secured within a few days, according to Mr. Vogler. Other stores in other cities and towns will be added from time to time.

Placed for opening the first few stores of the system here in the city have been partially obtained and others will be secured within a few days, according to Mr. Vogler. Other stores in other cities and towns will be added from time to time.

GOVERNOR DECLINES TO PARDON RATCLIFF

Raleigh, Sept. 17.—Governor Morris today declined to pardon Thomas A. Ratcliff, of Mecklenburg county, who is serving a nine-months' sentence for retailing and Thomas, of Lincoln county, who is also serving a sentence for retailing.

The Story That Will Never Die

"LAVENDER AND OLD LACE"
BROADWAY
Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday

An Extra Special Brogue Oxford

This number is one of the favorites for early fall, and is a particularly charming model. Is made of brown calf, with saddle-strap brogue effect. Rubber heels attached.

$6.50

DeLange Shoe Company

36 East Trade St.

Shoe repairing promptly done by experts.

WARNING

Winter will soon be here. Let us put your heating plants and plumbing system in order.

INDEPENDENCE

Plumbing Shop
PHONE 2645
235 1/2 West Trade

Sterling Silver

Our showing includes various tea and table ware sets and many elegant odd pieces. We will be pleased to have you see them.

B. F. Roark

Diamond Merchant,
Jeweler, Silversmith
10 N. Tryon Street.

Someone You Know Has Owned A Victrola Ten Years Or More

Ask them about the pleasure and entertainment and education it has given them.

Have you seen the new model in beautiful mahogany at $100.00?

It's a genuine Victrola, too. Other models from $25 to $415, on our floor for your selection.

Come in and see our new Music Department, the finest in the Carolinas, main floor.

Parker-Gardner Co.

Charlotte's Real Victrola Store.

TO OUR FRIENDS:

We take this means of advising you that Mr. C. R. Moore has disposed of his interest in our firm and the undersigned now represent the entire ownership and management of this company. The present firm name will be retained and the same liberal policy will exist as heretofore.

Because of the readjustment and reorganization made necessary by this change, we would respectfully request that all past due accounts be closed up at once.

T. T. GILMER
J. M. RENFROW
D. H. JOHNSTON
J. M. GRIGGS
B. G. FURR

GILMER-MOORE CO.

"Since 1868 the Home of Good Shoes"

—And Then They Should Be Stretched

Your curtains soaked, boiled, "blued," lightly starched, comes the most important part of all—the stretching. For so only it is you finish them absolutely even of edge—uniform—perfect for hanging. And so it is we're glad to announce a new shipment of

CURTAIN STRETCHERS

Fine, strong ones, with and without an easel back. Better order yours, first thing tomorrow, and be ready after the Fall cleaning to "stretch your own."

SMITH-WADSWORTH Hardware Company

"The Quality Hardware Store"
29 E. Trade St. Phones 64-65

We're sure of an encore when we sell

Stout Suits

Real values in clothes for the stout man that fit well and stand up.

H. C. Long Co.
33 East Trade

