Statesville

Statesville, Sept. 17.—The Woman's Auxiliary of the Hurst Turner Post of the American Legion met Monday night, with Mrs. E. M. Yount, commander, presiding. Amongst the important matters which were discussed was the membership drive which is now on in all the state units. Each member of the local unit is asked to secure a new member by Monday night, September 19, when a special meeting of the Auxiliary will be held. A most interesting and instructive report of the State meeting of the Legion and Auxiliary, which was held in Hendersonville, Aug. 26-27, was given by Mrs. H. P. Grier, who attended the meeting as member of the district committee.

Wednesday afternoon at her home on Race street, Mrs. DeWitt Ramsey was hostess to the G. C. C. Club and several addition guests. Progressive refreshments were served at five tables. The lower floor of the home was thrown en suite and attractively arranged with lovely bowls and baskets of early fall flowers, color note of yellow predominating. Following the game the hostess served a delightful salad course with apricot and mints. Mesdames Herbert Hoffmann, of Danville, Va., and L. Jenkins, of Lynchburg, Va., former members of club, were out of town guests. A short business session of the club, Mrs. Roy Platt was elected president of the club for the remainder of the year.

J. Maurice Morgan and Miss Margaret Mae Hill were quietly married Saturday afternoon at a clock at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. J. S. Dobson, near Statesville. The home was simply but tastefully decorated in ferns and bright summer flowers, a color scheme of green and white being carried out in the parlor where the wedding was solemnized. Rev. S. L. Cathey, the bride's pastor, officiated, the ring ceremony being used. The bride, a bright and attractive young woman, is second daughter of Mrs. Eva S. Hill and a grand daughter of the late Prof. J. H. Hill, well known educator of the state. The groom, the only son of Mrs. M. G. Morgan, of New York City, is connected with a New York publishing service bureau, having an office in Richmond, Va., where they will make their home for a while.

Mrs. W. E. Nattress entertained delightfully Tuesday afternoon in honor of her niece, Miss Frances McNeill, of Washington City, who has been spending the summer here at the home of her grandfather, Mr. George H. Brown. Following an afternoon most pleasantly spent in playing games on the lawn, the little folks were invited into the dining room, which was attractively decorated with bright colored phlox and ferns. Delicious ice cream cake and candy were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Elizabeth Nattress and Mrs. R. H. McNeill.

In celebration of their recent victory in the State races at Gasparita, about 20 volunteer firemen enjoyed a banquet at Gray's Cafe Tuesday night. Two tables with attractive center pieces, formed of baskets of asters and ferns, were arranged for the guests and a tempting menu in three courses was served. Impromptu talks were made by Mayor L. B. Bistot, John Lewis, secretary, C. W. Pulp, chief of the fire department, Mayor Bristol and Mr. Ross Gilbert were special guests.

Tuesday afternoon at her home on Water street, Miss Sarah McIlwain was hostess to a number of her little friends at a delightful party. Progressive refreshments were served at four tables, which were arranged in the broad veranda. After the game, delicious refreshments consisting of sandwiches and tea, followed by sherbet, cake and candy, were served by the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. W. H. McIlwain.

Brown, on Stockton street, when Miss Leahy Mae Brown became the wife of Rev. Elliott R. Stewart, of Newton. Rev. G. V. Tilley, pastor of the First Baptist church, performed the ceremony in the presence of only a few relatives and intimate friends. The impressive ring service was used. Master Ralph Brown, little brother of the bride, was ring bearer. Just before the ceremony, Mr. Roy Brown sang "At Dawning", accompanied by Miss Kate Copley, who also played the wedding march. During the ceremony Traumerie was softly played.

Miss Naomi Brown, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Miss Sloan Stewart, acting as best man. Out of town guests were Misses Annie Grabow, of Salisbury, Katie Pridden, of Norwood, Mabel Lippard, of Concord, and Tate Copley, of Monroe.

Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom left for their home in Louisville, Ky.

Tuesday night was Ladies' night for the Statesville Rotary Club. Mitchell College dining room was the scene of their activities, and something to eat and a little fun for everybody was the purpose of the occasion. The ladies of Civic League furnished the refreshments which were served in a most pleasing and satisfactory manner. The tables were beautifully decorated with all sorts of little dainties that a man should try to describe; appropriate favors, place cards, rattlers, etc., and a corking good feed of all the delicate knickknacks that the women do on. The entertainment committee composed of Louis MacKeon, A. E. Johnston and B. L. Spruce provided fun for everybody. One of the principal stunts was a solo by Charlie Hope who had for his accompaniment a piano and "baby rattlers."

Another Victory For Stieff PIANO

Limestone College After Using Stieff Pianos for 19 Years, Gives the Stieff Firm An Order for Seven More Pianos--One Being a Concert Grand.

Stieff Petit Grand

This constitutes just one more argument to convince you, Mr. Piano Buyer, that you should take no chances, but settle the piano question forever by selecting a Stieff.

The famous old Stieff has an unbroken record of more than three quarters of a century, in the production of pianos of the highest possible artistic quality. Thousands of people in North Carolina and adjoining states will testify to the beautiful tonal quality and wonderful durability of their Stieff pianos.

Limestone College is not alone in its preference for the Stieff product. Hundreds of other colleges, conservatories and schools throughout the United States have been using Stieff Pianos for many years
