CHARLOTTE WOMAN INVENTS UMBRELLA. Many Charlotte people were interested in reading The News Monday afternoon to note a syndicated picture and statement on the third page, the picture depicting a lady holding an umbrella cover in one hand and the frame in the other. The printed matter underneath the picture said "Miss Beulah Louise Henry, who is hailed in the umbrella world as 'the Lady Edison' because she has evolved something new in umbrellas." The article did not say, however, that Miss Henry was a native of Charlotte and was living here when she invented and patented the umbrella.

Miss Henry and family moved to Memphis, Tenn., some years ago and are still living there. Her father, Colonel W. R. Henry, was for years a well-known lawyer in Charlotte and widely known, not only in North Carolina but also here as a prominent Republican politician. He was mentioned as U. S. Minister to Costa Rica under the Taft Administration.

Miss Henry, besides being an inventor, is one of the authors of notes and, while in Charlotte, published a volume of prose and verse under the pen name of Sereca Treloar that attracted favorable attention.

The umbrella invented by Miss Henry ought by all means to be on exhibition at the Made-in-Carolina Exposition," said a Charlotte man today. "Because it is distinctly a made-in-Carolina product. The umbrella is patented and will, no doubt, make a big hit when it is put on the market. It has a place in the handle for vanity case, purse and other accessories and can also be transformed into a sweet-looking stick."

GRAIN GROWERS OF KANSAS ORGANIZED. Wichita, Kan., Sept. 20.—Seven million bushels of wheat have been put under plow in Kansas by the National Wheat Growers Association, which stands on the basic principle that it shall market 100 per cent of growers' wheat.

This is the organization which insisted on at least a degree of compulsory pooling and so refused to join the movement fostered by the American Farm Bureau Federation which resulted in formation of the U. S. Grain Growers' Inc., with provision for optional pooling.

Kansas is where the national wheat growers' headquarters are located, and I gave 2,000,000 more bushels more than the 5,000,000 Sept. 1 goal the association set.

Incorporation has been effected in this State, following similar steps in Oklahoma, W. H. McGreevy of this city, national secretary-treasurer, says incorporation will follow also in Texas, Colorado, Nebraska and North Dakota.

The U. S. Grain Growers, Inc., also has taken out a State charter and is making headway.

SOCIAL CLIMBERS RUNNING INTO DEBT. Buenos Aires, Sept. 20.—The justices of peace of the Argentine capital have appealed to Congress to enact laws protecting servants from employers who neglect to pay them or who borrow from their cooks to pay for the elaborate dinners they give in order to maintain their social positions.

The justices allege that many who live surrounded by servants innumerable and who give great dinners and whose names are prominent in the social register are compelled to resort to these methods in order to keep up their appearance as social leaders.

The justices attribute this habit of the social climber of running in debt to "a depressing show of folly and pretense, an overpowering desire to dress well and to prodigality and too much indulgence in intoxicating drinks."
