HOME AND SCHOOL.

"The sections where safety has been most neglected are in the home and school. It is an appalling fact that not one business man out of every 200 has ever apply 1 the knowledge of safety he has the in his factory to Dr. Blosser's Cigarettes He has forgotten to call his family and servants to instruc them how to turn in an alarm, how to extinguish a fire in its incipiency avoid danger from articles used in the home and how to use the extinguisher he has installed. In other words, financial value in production has 1000 per cent more care els of human life in the home, and care, maintenance and construction of our schools. A very small percentage of the members of our present boards of education have assumed more than the financial burden of school and vities while they are equally responsible for the moral and physical safety of each child under their care. There is a great disregard of properly estab lished rules in the construction of new ouildings and the remodeling of old It has been found by experts, that over 90 per cent of the school buildings are more unsafe either the Collinwood school when it burned causing the death of 173 children and three teachers. Over five schools burn in the United States for each day of the year. Trifles due to carelessness or through thoughtlessness are the causes of the largest percent-age of fire casualties and conflagra-

UNPROTECTED OPENINGS.

"It has been said by an eminent authority that 70 per cent of our loss of life is due to unprotected vertical I firmly believe this is true. It is the vertical opening left unprotected that allows the fire to spread through the building or to the adjoining area. Lack of proper firewindows, shutters, water curtains, open stairways and elevator shafts, lack of fire doors between divisions of or main uildings. This is what traps the workman at his bench or the clerk making "The above coupled with improper fire exit facilities spells the death sentence of thousands. It is a travesty on the present high standards of mental development to note the useless sham involved in 90 per cent of our present exit facilities. Fire escapes constructed against the sides of bung ings and passing ordinary glass windows, eliminating their utility after the first puff of flame from the window below. Spiral slides erected inside of enclosure, frequently found locked with a padlock at the exit door only prepare a more horrible roasting, while deluding many with surroundings of apparent I personally found three of these traps locked with Yale padlocks, whose keys were lost-even while 28 rooms of the school, they were supposed to serve, were in session.

"It is the duty of every employer to help, every 'member of boards of education and every home owner to realize that he personally must assume the liability and provide 100 per cent safety for those for whom he is re-
