I have sold piles of them because my styles and prices have been just the thing. They were daily re-ordered and I now have a good line. Some Concord Notes.
Mr. and Mrs. Sam Patterson are now living with Mrs. Dr. John Henderson, on West Depot street.
The Cannon's factory has shut down for a few days to permit of repairs and cleaning up machinery.
Large crowds from Concord will be over for the Sam Jones meetings.

Mrs. Parks Dead.
Mrs. Ann C. Parks, a venerable and a highly esteemed lady of Charlotte, died in this city, at 6 o'clock last Saturday afternoon, at the ripe old age of 90 years and 29 days. Mrs. Parks died at the residence of Mr. C. C. Moore, on Graham street, having been taken sick while on a visit to Mr. Moore. Of late years she had been living with her grandson, Mr. D. P. Hutchison. Mrs. Parks was born in Rowan county, this State, and was a daughter of Matthew Locke. She had been living in Charlotte since 1837, and for 53 years was a member of the First Presbyterian church here. Her life was spent in doing good deeds, and down to her final sickness, and all of our people mourn over her loss.

The funeral services were conducted from the First Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon, by Rev. Dr. A. W. Miller, and a very large congregation gathered to pay the last respects to the memory of one of the truest Christian women and one of the best ladies ever known in Charlotte.

Missionary Addresses.
The Rev. Mr. Page, an Episcopal missionary to Japan, who is on leave in this country for a short time, spent yesterday in this city and delivered two addresses—one in the morning at St. Peter's and one at St. Martin's Chapel in the evening. The reverend gentleman had large and attentive audiences at both places; and more highly delighted ones were never assembled in Charlotte. Mr. Page's style was simply captivating, and not one present but regretted the close of his address. The facts and figures in connection with his work in Japan, as given by the missionary, was so interspersed with bits of individual experience and incidents of Japanese character that they never had time to become irksome. His report of the work by the missionaries in Japan is highly satisfactory, and will doubtless stimulate the Church at home to still greater efforts to send the gospel into heathen lands.

Mr. Page goes next to Salisbury. Wherever he goes he will carry with him the best wishes of the many who met him here, and their earnest prayers for his success in his chosen field in his divine Master's vineyard.
