FRIDAY, MAY 2, 1890.

Representatives of nine of the American republics have signed the formal treaty of arbitration in Secretary Blaine's office at the Department of State, namely, the United States, Guatemala, Nicaragua, Salvador, Honduras, Bolivia, Ecuador, Hayti, and the United States of Brazil. It is expected that three more signatures and seals will be added soon, and it is hoped that the signatures of all the powers will be secured in the course of the summer and autumn. Several of the Ministers remained over at great inconvenience to complete their adhesion to the treaty. Great enthusiasm is felt at the State Department over the rapid progress of so important a measure. It is explained that the International Conference could only recommend, and that it was the regularly accredited Ministers Plenipotentiary who signed the treaty for reference to their respective Governments.

Comments on Sam Jones.

Gastonia Gazette: Great numbers of people go to Charlotte every day to hear Sam Jones. We find it impossible to form any definite opinion of the man from the reports brought back. Some are enthusiastic in his favor, while others are disgusted; some think he is doing a grand work for the church, and others believe the good he does is largely counterbalanced by the tendency to render people discontented with the simple gospel, some say it is the best circus they have ever seen, while others agree that Jones is an imitable clown, but think a clear line of distinction should be drawn between his discourses and preaching. We have been swayed from one side to the other by the conflicting opinions, and now we don't know which way to swing.

Statesville Landmark: That man of God, the Reverend Samuel P. Jones, is in Charlotte at this time, justifying the ways of God to men. Up to last evening he had calked the people of that devoted city hounds, lousy calves, dirty dogs, tools and contemptible puppies, and had said of the best people of the city (who are as good people as dwell on earth) that they would not be allowed to sweep out the kitchens of the bon-ton of Baltimore. If he talked that way on the street instead of in a "tabernacle" he would get both eyes blacked and then be sent to the rock pile.

Greensboro Patriot: When Sam Jones asserted on Sunday that the "Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence" was "a fraud and the freak of a few drunken vagabonds," the horns bizzed and no misake. Sam didn't know that the Mecklenburg people think almost as much of the Mecklenburg Declaration as they do of the Ten Commandments, and besides, he was badly off in his history, as he frankly acknowledged Sunday night.

Monroe Enquirer: Look at him any way we will he is a wonder. We never heard anyone who was to be compared with him the same day. No newspaper report can give any correct idea of the man. He must be seen and heard to be appreciated. And everybody who can hear him ought to do it. We would judge from reading the newspaper reports that he is a boor—an ignorant—but nothing is further from the fact. He is finely educated and at times uses the most elegant language.

Monroe Register: One may read his sermons, word for word, yet one cannot understand the marvellous power of the man without hearing the sermons from his own lips. As an evidence of this may have gone to hear him since he has been in Charlotte, believing him to be a fraud and a humbug, and have come away believing him to be not only the greatest preacher, but the greatest man on the American continent. While in Charlotte Tuesday we heard a gentleman from Wilmington say that he came to Charlotte to hear Jones as he would go to a theatre or a circus, and expressed the opinion while on the train that he was nothing but a ranter. After hearing him he was thoroughly convinced that he was the greatest and most wonderful preacher in America, and that he was filled with the Holy Spirit and endowed with power from on high.
