LADIES VISIT THE SALOONS. SHAKING THEM UP.

An Incident Vesterday Afternoon that Caused a Ripple-Efforts to Get the Bars and Stores to Close for the Fife Meet-Ings.

An unusual sight was seen in Charlotte late yesterday afternoon. It was nothing more nor less than a I should certainly carry with me to the group of ladies going into the barrooms. The object of the crusade was to persuade the saloons keepers to close up their places of business Viola Cream during the hours of the Fife services. As soon as it became noised about that the ladies were raiding the saloons, interested crowds stood about on the streets watching the progress of events. Every saloon in town was visited, and the ladies were courteously received. One saloon keeper met them at the front door and agreed to close if they would pay his expenses. "The Lord will pay ceived less encouragement in Char-you," one of the party lotte than any place that he had vis-replied. The saloon keeper told ited that he had at one time thought them he would not take that guarantee. Mr. Carl Roediger was curring a sandwich when he was startled to see a party of ladtes walk up to his bar. He dropped his knife, up to his bar. He dropped his knife, up to his vest and met the lotte, and also said that prominent lotte, and also said that prominent tee. Mr. Carl Roediger was cutting REESE & CO. Local Ripples. liteness. The work of the ladies was rather difficult one. They not only visited the saloons, but every store of every Associate Reformed church to-mor- description in the city. Nearly every person visited was willing to close up provided the others did the same and in consequence of this no stores were closed to-day. It is very prob-able, though, that the stores will be closed during the hours of service from Monday on. --

Was the Promotion Precipitated?

A few days ago, Sergeant B H. Bronson, who is in charge of the United States signal office here, received an intimation from headquarters that he had become too much of a good Democrat lately. Somebody had been sending taleto headquarters about the sergeant. Yesteriay afternoon Sergeant Bronson got notice from Washington that he was transferred from Charlotte to Duluth, Minnesota. Mr. J. N. Ryker of Lynchburg, is to succeed Sergeaut Brouson at Charlotte. This change is a promotion for Sergeant Bronson, but if what THE NEWS has picked up about the case is correct, the promotion was hastened by the reports lodged at head
