OUR SHOES ARE ON TOP.

Common sense governs the making of the modern shoe and common sense should govern every level headed purchaser. Don't take your custom where you have to take precautions too. The dealer who sells fraudulent shoes should be made to wear them; the more fraudulent the shoe, the more severe and well deserved the punishment would be. There is no trash in our 3.00 shoe. It is an honest article clear through, it is a perfect phenomenon of cheapness and it simply can't be matched in footgear for the money.

John Wilson on Trial.

The case State vs. John Wilson, colored, who is charged with the murder of Sidney Burton, colored, is occupying the attention of the Criminal court today. The murder which Wilson is charged with, occurred in Charlotte last June. Wilson successfully avoided arrest up to about two months ago, when he was caught in Union county and brought to Charlotte and lodged in jail. Wilson being without means to employ counsel the court appointed Messrs. W. R. Dowd, J. A. Bell and Wm. M. Little to defend him. No actor Brown has no one associated with him in the prosecution. The selection of a jury occupied very little time and the testimony in the case has been going on rapidly up to 2 o'clock, when the court took a recess until three. It is thought that the case will not go to the jury before tomorrow morning.

The Alliance Store.

It is now said that the Alliance store in Charlotte has been placed upon a solid foundation. There was a thorough reorganization of the concern to-day, and THE NEWS is told that the stockholders in the store are worth, in the aggregate $125,000.

Judge Merrimon's Successor.

Governor Holt yesterday made an appointment to fill the vacancy in the judgeship in the twelfth district, caused by the resignation of James H. Merrimon. George A. Rhuford, Esq., of Asheville, wins the honor of the appointment. He was one of four candidates, the three others being H. B. Carter, Kope Elias and G. M. Ferguson.

Local Kipples.

—Mr. George K. Wilson has gone to New York on business.

—Dr. Girardeau, of Columbia, has been invited to conduct services at the First Presbyterian church next Sunday.

—Commissioner Robinson has ordered Mr. John T. Patrick to remove his "plunder" from the State agricultural building.

—A little child of Rev. Mr. Tyer, at Shelby, drank a solution of arsenic. The dose came very near proving fatal, and the child is not yet out of danger.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Carson and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Carson, will receive a number of friends Friday evening, from 5 to 8, at Mrs. James Carson's, on South Tryon street.

—The body of the late Governor A. M. Scales was interred at Greensboro this morning, at 11 o'clock. Dr. Henry Smith conducted the funeral services. Gov. Holt attended the funeral.

—Mr. W. T. Hulsey, who is connected with the Armour Packing Company of this city returned from Atlanta this morning where he had been to attend the marriage of his sister Miss Minnie Hulsey to Mr. Thomas R. Sawtell, of Atlanta.

—Mr. John R. Pharr is the pioneer of the season in the improvement of his lot at Dilworth. He is about to set out a lot of maple trees and otherwise beautify his ground, preparatory to the erection of a residence. It looks like his bachelorhood is nearing an end.

THE NATIONAL EXPRESS.

Another Assessment to be Levied Upon the Charlotte Stockholders.

Charlotte stockholders of the old National Express Company have already contributed about $20,000 in "blood money," to the agent of that concern, and now the unwelcome news comes that they are to be called upon for a still further assessment. This time it is a 50 per cent assessment. That means that the stockholders will have to shell out just as much again as they have already done.

The National Express Company was organized just after the close of the war. It was then considered a fine investment and a number of Charlotte people took stock in it. It broke shortly afterwards. The stockholders did not mind losing the money they paid for stock, and they thought the matter was ended there. They were not to get off so lightly, however. Three or four years ago, Mr. Glenn assigned, sent out notices to the stockholders, offering compromises. If they would not pay a certain percentage, they would have to pay whatever the courts decided should be their share in liquidating the debts of the defunct company. One or two compromises were made but the bulk of the stockholders had to pay up. The first assessment levied was for 30 per cent and the second for 20 per cent. The Charlotte stockholders paid on these two assessments fully $20,000, and they thought that was the end of it. The United States Supreme court, however, has just rendered a decision that the remaining 50 per cent must be paid, and those who did not compromise are in for double the payment they have already made. One stockholder who has already paid in $2,100, was interviewed by THE NEWS to-day. What he said about the prospect of doubling that amount would, if published, be damaging to his good moral character.

Some of the Trials of the Depot Policeman.

One of the needs at the Trade street station of the Richmond & Danville railroad, is a room wherein the depot policeman can temporarily detain offenders until the rush of business is over. The need of it was demonstrated last night, when the Air Line train came in. There were three helpless drunks on board the train and they had to be lifted out bodily. One of them was a peddler who was not only drunk, but who couldn't talk any sort of a language that any one could understand. He had a big pack, and the policeman set him down upon it, but by the time the policeman had his back turned to look after the other two, the peddler had moved off. Watching two trains and their loads of outgoing and incoming passengers and three drunks at large, all at the same time, was just a little bit too much to expect of the tall policeman at the depot. However, he succeeded in corralling two of the drunks and landing them in the city prison. But if he had a room at the depot to chuck 'em in until his rush of business during train time is over, he could get a long much better.

—The receipts of cotton by wagon to-day amounted to 130 bales. There was a slight improvement in the tone of the market. Some bales of best grades brought 7 1/2 cents.

The Wilmington Star.

The Wilmington Star claims to have reliable information that the honor of the encampment of the State Guard this summer will be divided between Asheville and Wrightsville, the First and Second regiments going into camp at the latter place and the Third and Fourth regiments at Asheville. By this arrangement there will be a considerable saving in the cost of transportation, it is said, and besides Asheville has agreed to pay all expenses. Without this arrangement it is doubtful, as the Star is informed, if an encampment could be held at all this year as it would be necessary to raise at least $1000 in addition to the amount now available, to have all the regiments together at Wrightsville. Officials appreciate what Wilmington has done for the Guard. As they say, she has been more than kind in every way and they cannot ask anything of her.

It is the opinion, also, and no doubt a very correct one, that regimental encampments—each regiment entirely under its own Colonel—are best for the troops so far as discipline and instruction are concerned.

The Tobacco Crop Will be a Big One.

The reports from the tobacco section of North Carolina seem to indicate that a large crop will be planted this year. Line cotton, tobacco, has been exceedingly low for the past few months, notwithstanding the fact that farmers do not seem to be in the least discouraged, nor will the low price of the weed reduce the acreage. The cultivators of tobacco throughout the section in which it is grown have made a splendid showing thus far, despite the unfavorable weather which has prevailed during December and January. The beds in which the plants are grown have been burned and seed sown and in some sections even at this early a period, the plants are up and doing well. With the promise of a big crop of this staple the farmers of the western and middle portion of North Carolina who for the past few years have been burdened with an overload of guano mortgages due to failure of crops, can now look the "future" square in the face and see in it something far more encouraging than has heretofore been hoped for.

An Observatory at Latta Park.

The general government with the view of extending the usefulness of the signal service bureau, and at the same time making observations more directly in the interest of agriculture, has instructed signal officer Gardner to report on the feasibility of establishing an observatory at the tower of the pavilion at Latta Park. That officer is now in consultation with President Latta on the subject, and it is believed that a favorable report will be made in regard to this location.

The Alliance Organ.

For some weeks past negotiations have been pending between the Mecklenburg Alliance and the Salisbury Watchman for the removal of the plant of that paper to Charlotte. The Mecklenburg Alliance secured a department in the Watchman, but that does not appear to fill the bill. The original idea of the alliance was to have the paper brought here. THE NEWS learns today that the removal of the Watchman to Charlotte in the near future may be considered a fact.

THE KITTLEMAN CASE.

A Motion for Judgment at the Buford House

In the Criminal court yesterday afternoon the case against the Buford House saloon for selling liquor to a minor, was called on the first Monday in last January when Mr. Kittelle applied for a renewal of his license, it was refused upon the ground that liquor had been sold at his bar on Sunday and had been sold to minors. No indictments were preferred against the Buford House saloon. The case tried yesterday was for selling to a minor. After having been out several hours, the jury returned a verdict of guilty against Mr. Kittelle. Mr. Kittelle's counsel at once entered an appeal to the supreme court, on exceptions to the judge's charge.

It is evidently a knotty case. At any rate it has peculiar features. Mr. Kittelle employed two bar clerks. He had given them strict and positive orders against selling liquor to minors or selling it on Sunday. The boy who got the liquor at this bar, said on the witness stand that he couldn't swear, which one of the two clerks sold it to him. He didn't know whether it was Hartley or Hoffman. In his charge to the jury Judge Meares instructed them to acquit the clerks, but if either one of them sold the whiskey to return a verdict of guilty as to Kittelle. It made no difference if Kittelle had forbidden them to sell to minors and knew nothing of any such sale having been made, or if such sale was against his wishes. The jury returned a verdict in accordance with this charge. Jones A. Tillett, Mr. Kittelle's attorneys will take the case to the Supreme court.

Historic Salem.

Next Sunday will mark the 124th anniversary of Salem's foundation. It will also be the anniversary of the death of Frederick William Marshall, a Moravian missionary, who founded the town. The occasion will be duly celebrated by a sermon from Bishop Goodthaler Sunday morning. His discourse will be on the anniversary of Salem and her founder.

Arranging for the Musical Festival.

At the meeting of those interested in the coming Musical Festival, held yesterday afternoon, a committee consisting of Col. H. C. Jones, Dr. Joseph Graham and Mr. E. D. Latta, was appointed to secure the guarantee. The sum wanted is about $2,000. The festival will be held about June 1. The Baltimore Symphony orchestra will be engaged, and it has been settled that Mrs. Lawson, soprano, and G. Bernick, bass, will be engaged. The selections for tenor and alto have not yet been made. It is the intention to make the June festival surpass anything of the kind yet known in Charlotte, and to do that, it must be a fine affair indeed.

Trade With the Home Merchants.

The Charlotte merchants in all lines of business are receiving particularly fine and stylish lines of spring goods. Any possible article of clothing wanted for man, woman, or child, can be furnished by them, as cheap, and in many instances cheaper than the same could be secured through the order system. With such fine, thoroughly equipped stores as Charlotte has, our people have no possible excuse for sending off for their goods. Do your trading at home. Keep our money circulating here at home. That is the safest and most satisfactory plan.

A GLITTERING TURNOUT,

We can give you a chance to display your judgment. It has never been our good fortune to offer for inspection such an enticing display of Knives and Forks as we are now showing. There is so wide a diversity of style, design, workmanship and finish that perhaps you will be a little puzzled to make a choice, but you certainly can make no selection with which you won't be pleased, if you take your pick either at random or with your eyes shut. It is not often that you have a chance to see anything handsomer than our line of Sterling Silver in every imaginable article for table use.
