THE NEW YORK CONVENTION.

The great New York convention is being held today in Albany of course it is altogether a Hill affair for it has been demonstrated beyond a doubt that Hill is the choice of New York, and that Mr. Cullom would have had no show at a convention, even should it have been held at month of months.

A meeting of the Washington ex-Confederate Veterans' Association was held one night last week, when a bright and witty address was made by Congressman Allen. Here is one paragraph that meets the New York thorough approval.

The "Reform Republicans" of South Carolina represent the disaffected element of the colored people of that State. They say, in the preamble to their platform adopted at Columbia the other day: "Being judged by the depraved character of those who have presumed to represent us in the State and national Republican conventions, our race has come to be regarded as political merchandise, and ways offering to be sold to the highest bidder."

Hon. John Bigelow, of New York, ex-minister to France, has this good word to say of Mr. Hill: "The fact is that whatever may be the shortcomings and limitations of Mr. Hill, they do not appear to have shaken the confidence of the people of his State in him. He has not been rated or abused as much as Cleveland, Blaine, Tilden, or Van Buren were when their names began to be associated with the Presidency."

Gov. Buchanan, of Tennessee, yesterday declared that he would rather see Horace Bois, of Iowa, nominated than any one else in the whole country. When he declared for Hill, a few days ago, it was upon the contingency that the candidate must come from New York.

The permanent headquarters of the Republican State committee of New York will be at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, New York city.
