Local Notes.
Two cases of drunk were arraigned before the mayor this morning. Capt. B. C. Henry, a farmer of Monticello, died at his home near Davidson College yesterday, of pneumonia.

The cruiser Raleigh will be christened and launched on the 31st. A large party of Charlotte people will participate.

"Leaving the Leper" is the subject of the dramatic study at the Y. M. C. A. tonight at 8 o'clock. Men are always welcome to this study.

Mr. John Albert who for some time past has been in the cotton business in Raleigh, N. C., arrived on the noon train today.

Mr. P. M. Murray of Cabarrus county is in the city today. He has only recently recovered from an attack of sickness that was very near fatal.

Mr. J. H. Pittsford, who was in the insurance business here with Mr. J. M. Pittsford, died in Richmond on the first of this month.

Mr. W. S. Maxwell of Hoke's Mountain county, has returned to the city, and is looking at 116 East 10th street.

Mr. J. N. Traxler and Miss A. Hall were married in this city last night by Rev. D. M. Austin. The ceremony was performed at Mr. A. A. in a residence.

Rev. Dr. Bowman was peacefully injured yesterday by a fall from a step ladder. He hopes to be able to fill his pulpit on Monday, and will preach a special sermon to young men at night.

The meeting at 10 o'clock this evening is in the interest of the Y. M. C. A. celebration. A large number of ladies have been invited to an attraction, which will be an all night affair. Mr. H. H. in presence here will draw a crowd equal to that of the great celebration of 1875.

Vendor of food from Center.
A vendor of food, named Benjamin Greer, died suddenly this morning at the house of Sam Parks on West 10th street. Greer had been with Sam Parks at 10 o'clock this morning. Sam was awakened by the sound of a woman one falling to the floor. He lighted a lamp and turned on the gas. A woman was found lying on the floor. It was still at that time that she had been sitting in a chair, from which she had fallen. She had been ill for some time past. No inquest was deemed necessary.

Capt. Brenner on Banking.
The Editor of the News.
The Y. M. C. A. did well to have a "practical talk" on banking. Capt. Brenner gave the Association a very sensible and interesting talk on this subject, and the News has done just right to open its columns to an illumination on the most important of all the moral and political problems of the day.

Some papers, and some popular men, are so widely and so rapidly as a depreciated currency. There is an honest difference as to the tendency of free silver and the banks in this direction. Our various moral and religious associations should seek to discourage all such questions not in a partisan sense but in a philosophical spirit. This Captain Brenner has done. I know that others besides the Y. M. C. A. have suggested the institution of his well written essays. All of our people need to be educated in the complicated system now known as "National Banking." I only regret that our Charlotte people do not better appreciate such "practical talk." We have had several quite opposed to this, but somehow the people of the press seem to attend. On the other hand, the opera house "just across the way" is most always full and some times to witness beautiful entertainments. I suggest that the Y. M. C. A. give in a "Spring course" on kindred topics, such as the "Proper use of wealth," the "advantage of Savings Bank on the Masses," the "measure of commercial integrity," compared with Religious Profession," and the like.

A Hitch in the Plans and Another Postponement.

New York, March 3. The Herald says the Richmond Terminal reorganization plan which was to have been issued this week will not. It is now announced to be ready for another week. The opinion was yesterday expressed that there had been a hitch in the deliberation of the committee, but what its nature was could not be ascertained. The plan has been ready in proof for some time and only needed the committee's endorsement to become public property. Chairman Elliott refused to discuss the matter yesterday, further than to say that the talk about the trouble over the plan was all nonsense.

On the Stock exchange, however, the price of stock fell off several points and the feeling was that it was destined to go off still more.

Last Night's Recital.

A very gratifying recital of the students, both vocal and instrumental of the Charlotte school of Music was given last evening at the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. The graceful and finished performance of the young ladies gave the best evidence possible of their careful training. Mr. Marleau's pupils on the piano have several times been heard in public. Always they do credit to their excellent teacher who is heartily appreciated in our community which acknowledges itself his debtor for unnumbered musical pleasures and for constant progress in their understanding and enjoyment of music.

But it was the first time that Miss Jenkins, vocal pupils have ever sung for an audience, and we gladly congratulate her on their success, which showed careful, conscientious and arduous training. Herself an artist of extraordinary culture, an accomplished pianist, gifted with a voice seldom equalled in purity, power and beauty of expression, Miss Jenkins' pupils enjoy a rare privilege when they entrust their youthful voices to her judicious management.

Mr. Marleau also must be congratulated on having secured Miss Jenkins for the opening year of his school of Music, which we sincerely hope will win for him and his teachers all the success their ambition may desire.

Bought by Baltimore and New York Capitalists.

The Southern Lubricating Oil Company of this city, has been bought by Baltimore and New York capitalists, and Mr. M. H. Hays will hereafter be the manager. The company was formed here some months ago. Its place of business is in the corner of College and Fourth streets.

To-Night at the Court House.

The Jewish congregation held service here Friday evening in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, the meeting called by Mr. Latta and Dr. Graubart's formal invitation to the Hebrews of Charlotte on May 20th, will be held to-night at the court house. All interested should be there.

Wreck at Belmont.

An engine ran into the rear end of a freight train at Belmont station last night, which caused the south-bound passenger train to be delayed about three hours. Two box cars were smashed and the fragments scattered over the main line. The engine has been cleared away and trains were running on regular schedule time last morning. No one was hurt. The cause was an open switch.

How About This?

The News some time ago gave details of the death of young Fred Buchanan, in Brazil. The Shelby Review, received this afternoon, contains this strange piece of news: Fred Buchanan, the bar-keeper of Shelby, who was killed a policeman at that place some time ago, is said to have been captured and jailed at Charlottesville, Va. on Monday. The arrest was made through the instrumentality of a prominent young business man of this place. The rumor that Buchanan had died in Brazil a year ago, was evidently circulated to help him escape.

Mr. Alexander Thinks He Will Leave and Continue Making the Clothing and Wall Paper Business Here.

Mr. Alexander, who has been in the clothing and wall paper business here for many years, has decided to leave the city and continue making the clothing and wall paper business here. He has been in the city for many years and has made a name for himself. He has a large stock of goods and is well known in the city. He has decided to leave the city and continue making the clothing and wall paper business here.

Death of a Young Soldier.

Capt. W. W. Smith, of the 10th North Carolina Infantry, died at the military hospital at Fort Mifflin, Pa. He was killed in action at the battle of Gettysburg. He was a brave and gallant soldier and his death is a great loss to the regiment. He was a native of this city and was well known in the community.

Death of an Old Soldier.

Mr. Durant, an old soldier, who lived near Oxford in this county, died last night. He was a brave and gallant soldier and his death is a great loss to the community. He was a native of this city and was well known in the community.

Death of a Doctor of Medicine.

Mr. Durant, M. D., who lived near Oxford in this county, died last night. He was a brave and gallant doctor and his death is a great loss to the community. He was a native of this city and was well known in the community.

Local Weather Report.

Following is a very slight weather prevailing at 8 o'clock today. A high pressure remains stationary over this section but is being gradually displaced by a low which is centered over Kansas City. This low is spreading west and is bringing with it much warmer weather. This section will partly experience the effects of this warm weather during the day, but more decidedly by tomorrow. This low will develop over this section, increasing cloudiness, and probably light rain late in the evening or on the following morning. Under the influence of this low pressure, that temperature will advance to about 60 degrees. A low pressure still remains off the north-east coast, and another high is in the extreme north-west.

Harrisburg Notes.

Mrs. Betty Nicholson, of Rocky River, moves with her four daughters to Concord next week. Lewis Parks, the young man who spent last summer traveling in a leather ventilator enterprise, left home again a few days ago to look up something of the kind again. Miss Ida Bartholomew's public school at Rocky River will close next week. She has proved an excellent teacher, and will doubtless teach a summer session here. Rev. J. G. Anderson's next week had another urgent appeal to enter the evangelistic work, but he will doubtless do this, as the same difficulties that have always accompanied him remain.
