A SUCCESSFUL TRIP

The Charlotte Delegation Makes a Successful Trip—The Next 20th of May will be a Great Occasion.

The Charlotte delegation returned from Washington City this afternoon, having been successful in their efforts to secure a speech here by Hon. David B. Hill, on May 20th. The committee met in the marble room and with them were Senators Vance and Henderson and Representatives Alexander and Henderson. On being notified that committee desired to see him, Senator Hill entered the room and was introduced to the party by Senator Vance. Mayor Howard then stated the object of the visit, and Senator Hill stated that he would be here and deliver an address as requested. The Senator conversed pleasantly for a few moments with different members of the party. At 10:15 that the delegation met Speaker Crisp, who stated that he would come if he found it possible to so arrange his business that he could get off, and Mr. McMillan made a similar promise. Senator Butler will come and so will quite a large party of congressmen.

The party were shown a great many very kind attentions by Messrs. Vance, Hanson, Henderson and Alexander, one of the pleasant features of their entertainment being a champagne lunch given by Senator Hanson in the Senate lunch room.

Among the curiosities which the delegation was privileged to personally inspect was Jerry Simpson. He looked a good deal like a thoroughly city man in his make-up.

Col. Falk was met by some of the delegates. The Colonel has thrown aside his mask and stood out as an enemy to the Democratic party. He expects to be the nominee of the third party for the vice presidency. Weaver to have the first place. He is very jubilant, but it is safe to say that he does not know the minds of the people of this State. There is talk that Colonel Falk is planning to capture the State convention and send the delegates to Omaha.

Prof. Neave's Music Pupils Entertained.

The fourth of this season came off Thursday night in Salisbury. In each of the six orchestral No. 10, the instrumentation consisted of two pianos, an organ, a belliphone, three violins, a cornet and flute. In the rendition of these orchestral pieces, the distinctive excellence of every instrument and player was clearly shown; while all the different parts blending together in such exact time and spiritual sympathy formed a set of beautiful symmetrical tone fabrics. The violinists, Masters, Coll, Taylor and F. Gaskill are, comparatively, far beyond their years in skillful, brilliant, explicit and well-phrased playing; and Master L. Gaskill plays the cornet with much verve in full and clear yet in a soft and mellow tone. The true and apt accompaniment is a rare asset, but was found for a solo and a duet respectively in the Misses L. Foust, R. Klutz, A. Atwell and L. M. Bruton.

Six piano solos, of respectively distinct styles of rich compositions, were delivered in the following order: by Misses R. Klutz, R. Manney, A. Atwell, A. Fries, J. Klutz and L. Foust. Each did charming work, but in six marked individualities.

Four sprightly and facile piano duets were presented in the following order: Misses E. and N. Vanderford, A. Crawford and M. Lander; A. E. and P. Barnhardt; M. Griffin and M. Overman. The work of each duet was creditable, congenial and restful. Several pupils were held in reserve for the next soiree.

The hearing of all the girls was womanly, and of the boys, manly; the logical outcome of true musical application, whose keynote is exclusive and serene attention to every detail of whatever is incumbent.

The Work Will be Pushed.

At a meeting of the vestry of St. Peter's Episcopal church held in the office of Jones & Tidell last night, it was decided that for the present the congregation would worship in the new portion of the church and that the old part would be torn down at once and the completion of the church to be pushed to an early end. It is now thought that this handsome edifice will be finished by the last of the summer or in the early fall.

EXCITEMENT IN RUTHERFORDTON

A Sudden Death and Suspicious Circumstances.

RUTHERFORDTON, March 12, 1892.—About two years ago a pretty South Carolina girl became infatuated with an employe in a tin shop in Rutherfordton. She visited frequently near the town and during her stay there arrangements for an elopement were made. The parties were married adversely to her family's wishes but to-night they gather in an august group about her corpse. Last night, at a little after twilight, she ate supper with her husband but apparently in good health, while the sprightly blue-eyed beauty of months rested quietly on her pillow. Immediately after the supper the husband Charles Deale went away locking the front door and taking the key with him. A few minutes before eleven o'clock screams from his house were heard by parties residing near. Exclamations "I am dying—Oh I'm dying" brought hurried footsteps to the spot. One while and one colored man being the first to arrive. They found her in paroxysms and hurried away, one to seek the absent husband and one to get the nearest assistance. When they returned, his hand with them ten minutes later they found her dead. On the floor where she lay was a considerable amount of froth and deposits in a vessel were decidedly of an abnormal character. There is no evidence of the cause of the death, but sufficient irregularities are apparent to cause the coroner to hold an inquest over the deceased and the jury which have adjourned until this evening. They recommended a full examination by the physicians. The examination will probably result in an autopsy and the stomach being sent away for analysis. There is no suspicion aroused by the fatal attack and sudden death induce the examination. Dr. Jas. M. Craton, Oliver Hicks and E. B. Harris were before the inquest. Dr. W. A. Thompson county physician assisted by Dr. Hicks and Dr. Craton will conduct the examination.

Mrs. Deale was one Miss Kittling, one of a numerous family of Spartanburg, S. C. Several of her relatives have already arrived. The character of Mr. Deale's associates and the unjustifiably late hours he kept last night, deprive him of sympathy that otherwise might have been felt for him.

The Ball Fever is Catching.

The baseball fever is taking hold about in spots in Charlotte. Since the organization of the league in Columbia on Thursday our boys have been hustling and it now looks as if Charlotte will have a first class ball team. A prominent gentleman in the city has received a communication from a gentleman in Baltimore stating if he could procure grounds at a reasonable price he would bring a top team to Charlotte. This letter has been answered and arrangements for inclosed grounds and grand stand will be provided for under very small restrictions. It now seems as if we shall see some good ball played in the Queen City this summer. Our merchants, and in fact all of our people should lend a helping hand in the new enterprise. It will be a big drawing card for Charlotte.

Will Celebrate on the 17th.

The green of the Shamrock will paint Charlotte red on the 17th. A news reporter dropped into the office of Col. D. G. Maxwell this morning and learned that the necessary preparations were being instituted and that Ireland's braves will be out in full force. The programme while not as yet fully completed, shows conclusively that the 17th will be red letter day in Charlotte. Mr. Robert Emmett McDonald has been chosen to deliver the address. The braves will give a parade and Mr. Wm. Broderick to carry Old Ire and his flag. The Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence is to be read by M. R. B. Bailey. THE NEWS hopes that the affair will be a complete success as we have every reason to believe it will.

The First Wreck on the Yadkin Road.

The first wreck on the Yadkin Railroad occurred yesterday morning, 8 miles from Salisbury. A James coupler broke and fell across the track, derailing three cars and the front trucks of the baggage car. There were about seventeen passengers aboard, but strange to say none were seriously injured. Among the passengers was master of trains J. H. Walsh and wife, of Greensboro, who escaped uninjured. A force of hands were immediately sent to the scene of the wreck, and the track now is cleared of all of the debris.

Attainway This Morning.

Mr. Sam Williamson, and his sister of Steel Creek township, were on their way to Charlotte this morning when they ran down the crossing of the C. C. & A. railroad near the Boulevard, their horse became frightened and turned suddenly around turning the buggy completely over, the occupants being entirely covered by the box of the buggy. Mr. Williamson escaped without a scratch but his sister was not so fortunate. She was painfully bruised about the face and body. The damage to the buggy and harness were very slight.

A HORRIBLE SCENE

The Report of Yesterday's Explosion Near Rutherfordton is Regarded as Many Fatal Deaths.

RUTHERFORDTON, March 12. There has been little if any abatement in the excitement and about Charlotte, that which place the appalling explosion occurred yesterday morning in Rutherfordton. All night long hundreds of men, women and children have kept their dreary watch at the pipe mouths, hoping for the best yet almost knowing their hope was without reason. Many pitiful scenes have been witnessed as wives and children have been gathered among the bodies, recovered the features of some dear one distorted and blackened by the heat of scorching flames that had enveloped them. It has been ascertained that 20 persons were working in the mine at the time of the explosion. Most of them were at work in the two galleries where the greatest damage was done. One of these galleries is 140 and the other 50 yards below the surface. Mining exploits who are acquainted with the Andalus working say that every person who was working in the lower gallery must be dead and few are expected to be rescued alive from the upper gallery which is filled with gas. Altogether 35 bodies have been recovered.

To Perform an Operation on Rookfeller.

Dr. John W. Weth, a prominent surgeon of New York City, passed through Charlotte on the noon train today. He is on his way to Augusta to perform a surgical operation on Robert Rookfeller of the Standard Oil Company. Mr. Rookfeller is reported to be in a critical condition.

The Express Office Closed.

The flow of the Southern Express Company was closed today, out of respect to the memory of Mr. W. A. Adams, manager Adams Express Company, Boston, Mass., whose funeral takes place today in Boston. Mr. Adams was a son of Mr. Alvin Adams, the originator of the express business and was held in high esteem by the express and business circles of the United States.

Wilmington's New Bank.

The new bank which is to be established in Wilmington is to be called the Atlantic National Bank. This is the name agreed upon and for which a charter has been received.

The new bank was duly organized at a meeting of the subscribers to the capital stock held at 8 o'clock last night at the Produce Exchange. The Board of Directors will be elected at this meeting and they in turn will elect a president and other officers.

The Steamer Raleigh.

The Navy Department has decided to complete the work of fitting out the Raleigh at the Norfolk navy yard. The Raleigh has been building at Norfolk while her boilers and machinery have been made in New York. There was some question as to whether the vessel should be taken to the machinery or the machinery to the vessel. The feeling has been quite strong, but the matter has been settled as stated. The Raleigh will be launched on the 31st of this month.

Our Shoes Cap the Climax

Have you seen our $3 shoe? Have you heard of it? Do you know anything about it? The less you know about some shoes, the more fortunate you are; the more you know about this shoe, the more favorably you'll be impressed with it. It has't an imperfection with it; it has't an It stands in the front rank of footwear for neatness, durability and cheapness; You can easily pay more money for a shoe that isn't worth half as much? not for any amount of money can you get a shoe that is worth more.
