

THE CHARLOTTE NEWS.

VOLUME VII.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., THURSDAY EVENING, MAY 12, 1892

NUMBER 1148

May 12
1892.

WHITE TO US FOR WHAT YOU WANT

... a show is to land it—say the most Johnson things, things that are the real worth of what of the time. What of the play? What of the prime? Take me over a my no. Be jude and jury. No need of going haphazard. If your house goes down not do right by you, there are plenty that will. Some shore take extra care to be fair and prompt with their trials.
They try to think as well as to buy and send to home. It's money in pocket and peace of mind. You can deal with that sort of a man. That's the RIGHT WAY of doing it. The customer interest is our interest. We know that it shall profit you to do so. No matter how far from the shore you may be, you have to write to what you want, and that after a special note may be given to people to go all out for you.
There are personal and inviting advantages here and there; after due choice comes the walk down and getting up and packing and all that. When the pack package comes to you in California or Maine or Texas, or where not, all those the work doesn't take care out from road picked. Suppose you take two days that a fairer return stock is even complete and no better time of attraction to look at and them on sale, let alone present goods like a house, then you use the price. Never pay more than $100 for samples or tools.

F. L. Seigle & Co.

No. 11 W. Trade St. 18½ S. Tryon St.

CHARLOTTE, N. C.

Telephone 225-226

Tanglefoot and Spider
Web Sticky Fly Paper.
H. J. STILES & CO.

Insect Powder.

Dutchers Fly Paper.

Insect Guns.

They give protection against FLIES.

Burwell & Dunn,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

Druggists.

COCA-COLA

THE IDEAL BRAIN TONIC

Delightful Beverage,

SPECIFIC FOR HEADACHE

Relieves

MENTAL AND PHYSICAL

EXHAUSTION

5¢ a Glass.

A. B. REESE & CO'S.

Local Ripples

Capt. R. A. Torrance, tax collector, will shortly have his family domiciled in Charlotte.

Mr. A. B. Reese has returned from Staunton, Va. Mrs. Reese and child will remain there for a month longer.

Mr. Chas. Puckett and Miss Jane Groom will be married at the rear of the bride's residence, on Larkum street, to-night. Rev. Dr. Reed will perform the ceremony.

A game of ball played yesterday evening between the Marion school and Central school mines resulted in a victory for the latter. The score was 18 to 3.

Farmers who were in town today report that the cool weather of the past two days is retarding the growth of cotton. Some of them anticipate a frost in the morning.

T. J. Stevens was married this morning to Miss Mary Griffin. The ceremony was performed by Esquire D. G. Maxwell. Mr. Stevens was a widower of ten days.

Mr. W. A. Bryan, formerly proprietor of the Union House at Wilmington, but who now has a hotel in Connecticut, and one at Tarpon Springs, Florida, is at the Central today.

A party of Northerners who have been spending the winter at Southern Pines, arrived in Charlotte last night. They expect to spend the summer in Charlotte and have taken rooms at the Belmont.

The commencement of Bain Academy, in Clear Creek township, will be held on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. This is one of the largest public schools in Mecklenburg.

Capt. D. E. Allen, who returned to-day from a trip up the western division of the Carolina Central road, says that big crowds from all along that line, are preparing to come to Charlotte for May 20th.

The committee from the different military companies to direct provisions for the visiting companies on the 20th, will meet in the Hornet's Nest Rifleman's armory this evening at 6 o'clock. A full attendance is desired.

Charlotte's baseball team got beat as usual in Winston yesterday. THE NEWS learns that the team is to be reorganized and that it will be greatly strengthened when it meets the Charleston team here next Saturday.

You may set it down right now—Charlotte will have the biggest crowds on May 20th ever known here. In addition to the special trains, excursions are being made up on all the lines. Capt. W. H. Rainey will run an excursion from Marion to Charlotte.

Mr. W. J. Chambers, who up to recently has been in the brokerage business in this city, has accepted a position with the Potter Parlin Co., of New York, and will on June 1st enter upon his duties as a travelling salesman.

Mr. E. H. Fulenwider, representing the Asheville football team, was in the city last evening and signed the necessary papers for the game with Wake Forest. The game has heretofore been advertised to take place at 9 a. m., on the 1st. It is now changed to 4 p. m., on the same date. This will throw the baseball game to 10 a. m., instead of the usual afternoon assignment.

New Advertisements To-Day.
Moore's Milk—C. C. Moore.
Oxford Ties, Harrison & Co.
Coca-Cola—A. B. Reese & Co.
Strawberries—Bethune & White.
Written to us—T. L. Seigle & Co.
The hot wave—Brown, Weddington & Co.

To Advertisers:

The News, ordinarily an advertising medium of genuine merit, will be still more valuable and desirable next week, when it will issue special editions on the 16th, 17th, 18th, 19th, 20th. Our advertising space will have the benefit of large editions outside the regular edition, for each of those dates. Contracts for extra space can be received up to Saturday evening, but those who come in earlier will get both a better display and a better position. Call at The News office and get rates.

A Boat Capsized—Gallant Rescue.
Yesterday afternoon Capt. Gilmer Breitner and his brother, Mr. Chase Breitner, were boating on the lake at the park. There was not the necessary ballast in Chase's end of the boat, and the result was a capsized. Capt. Gilmer swam to the shore, while Chase held on to the overturned boat. The water there was 30 feet deep, and the boat was quite a distance from shore. About the time the accident occurred, Rev. Joseph H. Christie was entering a boat for a swim, as he pulled out for the shipwreck and rescued Chase, rowing him ashore in triumph.

The Crayon Photo.

The News a few days ago published an article about the capture of 1400 photographs in a crayon concern in Brooklyn. Several Charlotte people were interested. One of them, Mr. W. J. H. Wellington, who had tried unsuccessfully to get back the picture of himself and wife, clipped the article and sent it on to the post office with a request to get his picture. In response he got his long wanted photograph to-day. This is one of the firms that offers to do crayon drawings free, then charges from $1 to $1 for frames, and refuses to return photographs unless the price asked for frames is paid.

The Other Side of It.

A suggestion appeared in THE NEWS yesterday afternoon in relation to the additional charge for grand stand seats at the ball park officials of the road now inform THE NEWS that the privileges extended to the ball club, the erection of the building, grafting, etc., are of such a character that there seems no possible chance for the road to make anything of consequence out of the investment, considering the experience it has had in the games recently played here. The cost of putting this, the best ball grounds in the South, in their present excellent condition and the improvement thereon amount to a slight excess over $1,000. It must be said in justice to the enterprise of the electric line managers that they could not be expected to enter into the erection of a building and the grading of these grounds without a proper regard for the interests they represent from a business standpoint, and such investments are always supposed to carry with them a remuneration for the outlay.

Mr. Dixon said that St. Clair told him in the beginning that he was no stenographer and that he would rather form to write out what he had to say. Thus Mr. Dixon declined to do. Mr. Dixon told St. Clair that he could take the copy of the lecture on "The Negro and the South," that perhaps he could get some of his points, or at least it would refresh his memory when building his article.

Mr. Dixon said that St. Clair has not even returned the manuscript, although he has repeatedly sent word to see him.

In one sentence where an application comes in is one used by Mr. Dixon in this lecture. It is that "The position of the South was radically wrong." St. Clair's copy reads: "The South was radically wrong."

I charge Dr. Hawthorne with three acts which are breaches of honor:

1st. He gave out to the public a private telegram addressed with the assumption of his personal friendship and scribbled in haste. He gave this out to the public with accent and interpretation utterly false and left the impression that I demanded one of the best pulpits in Atlanta. As a fact, I only had asked the privilege of preaching in Atlanta, that I might meet my old friends. I am under contract with the American Press Association to preach one sermon every Sunday, and cannot stop in any place where I cannot preach a sermon.

2d.—That Dr. Hawthorne went out

For the Coming

CORONATION BALL

and other similar events we have a full stock SILK MULLS, all shades, DOTTED SWISS in all sized dots.

RHODA SPOTS, a beautiful inexpensive sheer white material in dots and stripes.

EMBROIDERIES and LACES shown in all that's new.

HBLF PRICE;

No advertising scheme but a

REAL SALE, ON A FINE STOCK

MATTINGS—Limited Amount.

First comes gets best choice. Remember the lot is not large. Remember the price is $1. Remember the goods are the best.

T. L. ALEXANDER, SON & CO.

ALL STIRRED UP.

RENT FOR DEAR LIFE DR. HAWTHORNE HAS BEEN FIRED.

A Talk With the Young Doctor on the Road. Dr. Hawthorne has been under treatment, False Interpretation and Wit. Hawthorne Lying.

Rev. Thomas Dixon lecture in Charlotte tonight "Fools." There will be a big crowd to hear him for the general impression prevails that he will give out his pretenses and that the prelude will have a ring to it around him. Mr. Dixon's trip south this time has been marked by a trail of dust. His last speech in Atlanta has charged Rev. Dr. Hawthorne with having treated him unfairly in regard to a pulpit, and the two have had several sharp spats. Dr. Hawthorne made some remarks about Mr. Dixie afterwards, in the Baptist convention, and then supplemented what he had said by some rather sharp talk to a reporter of that convention. In this reporter, Dr. Hawthorne said that Dixon is a rattle-brained egotistical sensational young fellow, and his recklessness and extravagance have attracted attention wherever he has been.

Mr. Dixon was seen by a newspaper reporter today for a general statement concerning his leaving out of the business, and he talked readily.

The interview is in the New York Press space writer. He said he was interviewing of an interview he had arranged with J. S. Wise, late candidate for governor of Virginia, now a prominent lawyer in New York. Only six of seven sentences in the entire article I recognized as mine, and they were only an approximation. I went to the Press office, and sent up my card to see St. Clair, but he was out. I saw the city editor of the Press, we being friends, the Press prints Dixon's Sunday sermons, but did not say one word either way about the article. I left word at the Press office for St. Clair to come immediately to my home, but have not seen him since the interview.

Mr. Dixon says that St. Clair told him in the beginning that he was no stenographer and that he would rather form to write out what he had to say. Thus Mr. Dixon declined to do. Mr. Dixon told St. Clair that he could take the copy of the lecture on "The Negro and the South," that perhaps he could get some of his points, or at least it would refresh his memory when building his article.

Mr. Dixon said that St. Clair has not even returned the manuscript, although he has repeatedly sent word to see him.

In one sentence where an application comes in is one used by Mr. Dixon in this lecture. It is that "The position of the South was radically wrong." St. Clair's copy reads: "The South was radically wrong."

I charge Dr. Hawthorne with three acts which are breaches of honor:

1st. He gave out to the public a private telegram addressed with the assumption of his personal friendship and scribbled in haste. He gave this out to the public with accent and interpretation utterly false and left the impression that I demanded one of the best pulpits in Atlanta. As a fact, I only had asked the privilege of preaching in Atlanta, that I might meet my old friends. I am under contract with the American Press Association to preach one sermon every Sunday, and cannot stop in any place where I cannot preach a sermon.

2d.—That Dr. Hawthorne went out

--THIS IS GREAT--

MATTINGS--

a limited quantity that

Opens All Eyes

When price is known; Something

Surely Unequalled.

QUALITY was above QUANTITY;

Extra fine Jap Matting, full 40 yards

to a bolt;

PERFECTION in EVERY STRAW,

Goes to close a small lot at

HBLF PRICE;

No advertising scheme but a

REAL SALE, ON A FINE STOCK

MATTINGS--Limited Amount.

First comes gets best choice. Remember the lot is not large. Remember the price is $1. Remember the goods are the best.

STRIPES, U. S. FLAGS,
SOLID COLORS

Oh! we've got it all,

Decorate your place from stood

Everybody Decorate,

of his way and used his influence to cancel my contract with the Young Men's Christian Association. Men die night and day, and did I not wish to bring him in? Two young men received and $100 was realized.

It. That regard this interference with my plans as an action disgraceable to any Christian minister and it shows narrowness and little sense in Dr. Hawthorne.

Dr. Hawthorne says: "The reason he Dixon was not wanted in Atlanta was because he had said that the constitution at the beginning of the war was a league with death and treason with hell."

Mr. Dixon says this sentence pertaining to have originated with him has never been used by him and that Dr. Hawthorne, when in interview with the Atlanta Constitution reporter said he did that he has recently had.

Marriage of Capt. Neal.

Capt. A. G. Neal, one of Mecklenburg's most prominent men, was married yesterday this afternoon to Mrs. F. J. Hutchinson of Tuscaloosa, Alabama. The ceremony was performed at 2 o'clock at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. Malinda Williamson, on Seventh street, by Rev. T. A. Wharton of Steel Creek. Immediately after the ceremony Capt. and Mrs. Neal left for their home in Steel Creek. Capt. Neal and Mrs. Hutchinson, at Davidson College last summer and they formed an attachment that grew into the strong bond of love. A marriage was arranged. Mrs. Hutchinson came on here a day or two ago by appointment and the bands were pronounced this afternoon.

The bride is a native born Mecklenburg lady—a daughter of the late Benjamin C. Morrow. She is a first cousin to Capt. J. M. Morrow, clerk of the Superior court, and a sister to Mr. J. W. Morrow of Pineville.

Cotton Receipts.

The receipts of cotton by wagon in Charlotte is something unusual for this season of the year. The farmers have been holding back their cotton, and always at a loss, but now they are rushing it in to prevent having to return it for taxes on June 1. There is yet a good deal of cotton in the country, but in view of the near approach of tax return day, it is expected that the receipts from now to June 1 will be pretty brisk.

Cot. Johnston at Memphis.

Col. William Johnston returned yesterday from Memphis, where he attended the ceremonies of the opening of the big bridge. Col. Johnston says that the celebration was a great event. The bridge is a magnificent structure costing $3,000,000. Col. Johnston owns property in Memphis and has been interested in the welfare of that city for 30 years past. He attended a meeting of the citizens on the night of the celebration, to petition Congress to re-establish the navy yard at Memphis. He was recognized in the audience and was called on for a speech. He responded briefly and spoke in favor of the petition.

Delegates to the Silver Convention.

Governor Holt has appointed the following delegates to the National Silver Convention at Washington May 28th and 29th: W. H. Oliver, C. D. Smith, Harry Skinner, S. B. Spruill, Frank Barnes, Elias Carr, R. M. Simmons, M. Makeley, W. F. Keen, A. H. Merritt, A. J. Boyd, J. S. Lockhart, H. B. Short,