RIGHT BEFORE YOUR EYES.

It ought not to be a feat to get good footwear. There isn't any scarcity of it. It is a pity to be obliged to confess that while there are plenty of good shoes, there is also no scarcity of bad ones. There is one point about the purchase of shoes that cannot be sufficiently emphasized, and it doesn't make any difference how sympathetic you are about it. It pays to buy a good article. We are assuming that you are looking for the best shoe that you can possibly get for the least possible money. If you will call on us, therefore, we will guarantee that you get the worth of your money.

A large stock Hats and Umbrellas, Trunks, Valises and Handbags always on hand.

Two Smart Boys of Concord.

Jimmie and Martin, two little boys, sons of Mr. J. W. Cannon of Concord, who have been spending a few days with their grandparents at Boat's Mills, concluded after breakfast on yesterday to return home. Imagine the astonishment when they suddenly appeared, about ten o'clock, in the family circle and announced that they had "runned away." They are respectively 10 and 7 years old and were so little wearied by their tramp of eight miles, that, when told of the anxiety they had left behind, were willing to retrace their steps, and apologize for their unceremonious leave-taking.

We're in a Tight Spot.

All the boys in Charlotte are more or less bright, but a banker of this city has a five-year-old future statesman who is a particularly bright little fellow. He was guilty of a piece of badness yesterday, and when his mother made preparations to punish him, he took refuge under the house and remained there. His father came home for dinner about this time, and the circumstances were related to him by the boy's mother. "I'll get him," said the father, as he struck his coat and prepared to crawl under the house, which is set rather high from the ground. The little fellow, who was crouched by a pillar in a remote corner, saw the old man crawling up. Instantly he flashed upon his mind that he was going to have congenial company, and he greeted his parent's ears with this graceful salutation: "Hello! Is she after you, too?"

Dr. Wharton.

We clip the following extract from the Portsmouth letter to the Raleigh Baptist of last week, referring to the meetings recently held in that city by Dr. Wharton. Dr. H. M. Wharton, closed a great meeting with South Street Church, last Thursday night. Incalculable blessings to the church have resulted. The brethren of the ministry declare that Dr. Wharton has never done such pointed and powerful preaching before. Other churches also have felt the effects of the meeting and received additions therefrom. On last Friday night Dr. Wharton lectured on "My Hearers." In this lecture he excels himself. What a blessing such gifted men are to the churches.

The Magistrate Monday.

Considerable interest is being manifested in the annual meeting of the magistrates of Mecklenburg to be held in Charlotte next Monday. There is much speculation as to the probable result of the balloting for a board of county commissioners, but if a change is to be made in the personnel of the present board, the News has so far been unable to learn anything definite about it.

A Great Oration.

The people of Charlotte still remember the eloquent address delivered here on Memorial Day, 1883 by Col. A. M. Waddell, and to them it will be no surprise to learn that his address on the life of Col. Wm. L. Saunders, at Chapel Hill, last Tuesday, is spoken of as one of the most eloquent that has ever been heard in the State. Col. Waddell is not only a good orator, but he is a beautiful writer and when he essays a task of that kind he throws his whole soul into the work. It would be but proper that Col. Waddell's address should be incorporated with the published volumes of Col. Saunders historical works.

The University Commencement.

Gen. Rufus Barringer arrived home last night from Chapel Hill, where he attended the University commencement. General Barringer says it was the most interesting and successful event of the kind since the palmy days of the University. He was delighted with the entire proceedings, and especially with Mr. McIver's address which he considers one of the finest and most practical he ever heard. Gen. Barringer also joins in the universal praise accorded Col. A. M. Waddell's address and pronounces it a surpassingly fine effort.

Mr. Wolf is a Tight Spot.

A negro named Will Springs is laid up in the guard house today with a bullet hole bored clear through one of his heels. Late yesterday afternoon, Springs was seen to be amusing himself dipping of "ducking" as the term goes, a small negro boy in the creek on the east side of town. Information was sent to policeman Fred Muesler, and he found that both the negro and the boy were drunk. The latter was in such a state from whiskey and the duck legs he had received, that he was unable to stand. The officer arrested Springs and started up town with him. On the way Springs made a dash for liberty and was pursued by the heavy weight of the police force. Springs led the officer over one fence, and as he was about to clear a second fence the officer fired at him. The ball passed entirely through one of Springs' heels, but he kept on running and was only caught after a long chase. His trial was postponed until Saturday morning, on account of the absence of witnesses. It is reported that Springs had poured white ketchup down the boy's throat. He would have drowned the boy had he not been detected in his sport.

Local Weather Report.

The following is a synopsis of the weather prevailing at 8 A. M. today: The high pressure which was over this section yesterday morning remains nearly stationary around the Carolina coast being central this morning at Hatteras. Showers and quite heavy rains have occurred over the greater portion of the country, particularly to the east of the Mississippi river. The heaviest portion of this precipitation has occurred to the south of the lower lakes. A low pressure is in the extreme northwest and is dominating the weather over that part of the country. Temperatures have remained nearly stationary over this immediate section, but cooler weather is to the immediate west, which will be probably felt over this section during the night.

The causes of death were: Grip 2, congestion of the brain 2, cholera infantum 2, indigestion 1, congestion of the stomach 1, still born 3.

Light, Alexander Makes an Effective Protest.

A dispatch from Washington yesterday says: President Polk, of the Alliance, has decided that if his paper, "The Progressive Farmer," of North Carolina, cannot serve both the Alliance and the Third party, it will serve the Third party. This paper is the official organ of the North Carolina Alliance. For some time it has contained too much Third party doctrine to suit the non-partisan Alliance. Representative Alexander, chairman of the State Alliance executive committee, officially protested against the paper's course, whereupon President Polk resigned for "The Progressive Farmer" the editorial management of the Alliance.

This makes Polk's paper a straight advocate of the Third party and is a nice bid for the Third party president, that nomination. The chances are that he will get the nomination, and that Weaver or some other westerner will get second place.

May Weather.

The report of signal officer, weather bureau shows that the month of May just passed, was altogether quite a pleasant month, the average temperature being 64 degrees. The highest temperature was 80 degrees on 10th and 11th, and the lowest was 48 degrees on the 1st. The mean temperature of May for 13 years past is 68. The rainfall last month was 2.28 inches. The average rainfall for May for 13 years past is 4.6 inches.

Out for Chicago.

Postmaster A. Brady, Sheriff Smith, of Rockingham, Dr. Dick Norman, of Lumberton, John Lewis, colored, of Lumberton, and postmaster Brady's brother, of Davidson College, left this morning for Minneapolis, to attend the Republican convention. J. W. Gordon and Bob Harris, both of color, leave this evening. Harris goes in place of Mr. Ed McDonald, who is detained at home by sickness in his family. Gordon says the State delegation is badly split up, some being for Harrison, others for Blaine and a few for Alger.

Marriage Last Night.

A very pleasant social event occurred last night at the residence of Mr. J. L. Davis, on North Tryon street, in the marriage of Mr. W. A. Blankenship and Miss Essie Davis. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a number of friends by Rev. Dr. R. C. Reid, of the Second Presbyterian church. Mr. John Zimmerman acted as best man to the groom, and Miss Mollie Davis, sister to the bride, was bridesmaid. The newly wedded left for Petersburg, Va., the former home of Mr. Blankenship, where they will remain for a few days.

Executive Committee Meeting.

The executive committee of the trustees of Davidson College met at the Central Hotel, in this city and began the transaction of the ordinary preparatory business for the annual meeting of the trustees. The reports presented show that there has been a larger enrollment of students this year than ever before, amounting to 140 students. There has been good order during the year and diligent study. The full corps of faculty have been at their posts without interruption. The financial interests of the college are in a sound and encouraging condition, and the college is making good progress in many directions. The commencement exercises will be held next week, and it is hoped that there will be convenient schedules on the railroads for all who desire to attend. The trustees will meet at Davidson College on next Tuesday at 11 o'clock.
