Then came the conflict. Each man tried to hold his picture higher than the other, and the friends | bally. of the men with the pictures would and then the police, more plentiful than at Minneappolis, would step in and stop the row. The crowd in the hotel was all Cleveland this afternoon. When some one smuggled a picture of Hill into the House and suspended it from the rotunda balcony it was greeted with hisses mingled with a faint attempt at cheers. The Palmer management at once met by individuals whose eloquence hand-to-hand encounter seemed imhis way to the balcony, and, amid wild cheers from those beneath, set tled the affair by pinning the photograph of Cleveland over that of Hill At the same time other men took down all Boies' pictures within reach and attached them to the lower end of Cleveland's picture.

The committee appointed to officially notify Harrison of his nomination performed their duties last Monday. In the course of the programme, Col. Elliot F. Shepard distinguished himself. He jumped on ticket and a catch-penny platform." to one of the beautifully upholstered chairs and proposed three cheers for the President of the United States, and they were given with a will, the colonel leading by enthusiastically waving a huge white silk handkerchief. "And now," said he, "three more for Benjamin Harrison, who will be re-elected President by a larger majority of votes than he received in 1888." Rayages of Cholera.

St. Petersurgo, June 20 - Fearful accounts have been received of the ravages of cholera in the province of Khorrassan, Persia. In the streets of Turbat-i-Shokh-Jami the dead lie unburied in the streets, and the air along the valley of the Jam River is polluted with the odor of corpses that have been thrown into ling, and to send copies of the same the stream. But for the multitudes of dogs which devour portions of the Press and Carolinian and Mercury some extent, the horrors of the pes-tilance would be far greater. The people make no serious effort to stop the plague except by prayer. They parade the streets in thousands, led by the Mollahs, and offer up earnest supplications. The disease as yet showns no signs of abating, as the gathering of people in such crowds has rather a tendency to spread it.
