A GOOD DEAL OF SHOONING is going on just now, and we happen to be in it. Our $2 shoes keep all its old friends. For every penny expended in its purchase, a trifle more than a penny's worth of wear is certain to be obtained. Nothing that was ever bought, sold or exchanged, ever did a handsomer thing by the purchaser than this shoe does. Never was a larger value given for a smaller price. It is a perfect phenomenon of durability. It's just the thing for those who believe in having comfortable feet, and it is exactly what economical buyers are looking for.

A large stock Hats and Umbrellas, Trunks, Valises and Handbags always on hand.

Local Receipts.
—Mr. J. S. Spencer left yesterday for the Henrietta Mills.
—Mr. S. Wittkowski returned from New York this morning.
—Doctor Wilder has been distributing hats among the boys to-day.
—Mrs. Joe Baruch returned this morning, from a visit to relatives in New York city.
—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dowd have gone to housekeeping on North Church street.
—Mrs. Jennie Glenn, of Raleigh, is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. S. Montrose, in this city.

—Mr. George W. Kittelle, proprietor of the Buford Hotel, has returned from a visit north.
—Miss Lila Jones who has been attending school in Washington City returned home on the vestibule this morning.

—Dr. and Mrs. Brady will return here from New York with Mr. and Mrs. A. Brady, and all will go to Blowing Rock to spend the summer.

—Those of our people who have had a curiosity to know what a dish of crow tastes like now have an opportunity to have that curiosity satisfied. All they've got to do is ask Collins.

—A meeting to perfect the organization of the Prohibition party for Mecklenburg county, will be held at the court house, at 8 o'clock to-night. An address will be delivered by Rev. Dr. W. S. Creasy.

—Pegleg Williams got here with his colored excursion from Atlanta last night. There was not so large a crowd on board as had been expected, and Peg is out of pocket on the experiment. Most of his passengers got on at stations close to Charlotte.

—The Wilmington Sea Coast road, running from Wilmington to the shore, has arranged its schedule so as to make close connection with the incoming and outgoing trains on the Carolina Central road. Charlotte visitors to the coast will be glad to hear this.

—The Monroe Enquirer says that Mr. F. H. Wolfe, clerk of Union county Superior court, who was so badly injured by a fall while attempting to board the Carolina Central train in Charlotte, a few nights ago, is improving, but is yet unable to walk.

—Esquire J. H. Barnett, of Pineville, was in town to-day. He says that if every township votes for Cleveland like Pineville will, Cleveland will carry the State by 50,000 majority. Mr. Barnett says that Pineville will vote solid for Cleveland. Not a man in the township will flicker.

—Governor Holt has received notice from the Secretary of War that Capt. Thaddeus W. Jones, Tenth Cavalry and Lieutenant Richard P. Davis, Second Artillery, have been detailed for duty as instructors of the State Guard at camp at Wrightsville, July 21st to August 12th, and that a detail of enlisted men from Fort Monroe would instruct in the use of large guns at the coast battery.

White Fishing from a Log, William Bellars Is Drowned.

White Fishing from a Log, William Bellars Is Drowned.
A Charlotte drummer who recently returned from a trip through Stokes county, brings news of the prevalence through that section of a very bad attack of green goods fever. Two months ago, a well-to-do man of Stokes named Eaton, went to New York, and on his return, let it be known to his neighbors that he had made $1,000 by the green goods racket. He had not only made that, but showed papers to the effect that he had been taken into confidence by the green goods men, and had been appointed their agent for North Carolina. The long and short of it was that after doing about for some days, Eaton succeeded in getting $500 from a club of his neighbors, with which he went to go to New York and buy them blocks of green goods. Eaton put out with the money and has never since been heard of. It is surmised that on his first trip to New York he got skinned, and planned this scheme to get even. The Stokes county people are very anxious to hear from him. Two brothers, living in the western section of Stokes, went to New York three weeks ago after green goods, and were met at the depot by the man they were looking for. They were conducted through miles of streets to an obscure building, and were taken into a room one at a time and relieved of $500 each, at the point of a pistol.

What Mr. McAllister Says.
Esquire L. M. McAllister, secretary of the Mecklenburg county alliance, was in the city today. He says that in North Carolina there are 50,000 all-musclemen pledged not to vote for Cleveland, and that if Cleveland carries this State, there will be 50,000 liars in North Carolina. We very much fear that brother McAllister's 50,000 liars will have to be counted.

At the Bulletin Board.
That was a jolly crowd that watched the bulletin board of the Western Union Telegraph office last night, reading the returns from Chicago. The Hill men were pressed to the wall but were game to the last. A good deal of chaffing was done but it was of a good natured sort of a way. The crowd hung on well until midnight, when it began scattering for home, but some remained there for an hour or two later.

Out $36.
The excursion of the Queen City Guards to Shelby today, was not a go. The big rains yesterday and the cloudy skies of the early forenoon had their effect, and when the hour for the departure of the train came on hand, and so were a few ticket purchasers. After consulting over the matter, the managers of the excursion decided to abandon the enterprise. The ticket money was refunded to those who had purchased tickets, and $36 salted the railroad company. That was hard luck, but excursions are mighty risky things. The only sort of excursion that can be reasonably depended upon to pay expenses is a Sunday School excursion.

A Young Physician Who Healed Himself.
An eight year old Charlotte boy who lives next to a drugstore and who has always improved his opportunities to see the pill rollers at work, fell sick the other day. He did not call in a doctor but prescribed for himself. He got a quantity of vinegar, yeast powder and salt, made it into a pill and swallowed it. Then he told his mother about it. She was considerably flabbergasted for a time, but as no bad symptoms developed as the hours went by and the invalid seemed to be holding his own, her uneasiness soon wore away. The young man will soon be ready to hire out as a drug clerk.

Rev. Edward Mack and bride arrived home from Goldsboro, this morning.

Rev. Edward Mack and bride arrived home from Goldsboro, this morning, and a reception will be tendered the popular young couple at the mansion of the First Presbyterian church to-night. The reception rooms were to-day beautifully decorated by the ladies. The front parlor, where the bride and groom will receive, is banked with white flowers and grasses. The second parlor, in which Rev. Dr. J. B. Mack and Mrs. Mack will receive, is decorated in red and white flowers. The decorations of the dining room are ferns and smilax. This room will be in charge of Misses Mary Moore Young, Mary Steele, Mary Harty and Mary Grier. Major and Mrs. Ernest Young and Mrs. Chas. Car on will receive the guests in the front hall. The presents to the bride and groom are numerous and handsome, including a number from the members of the congregation. The bride's presents from her parents are of solid silver.

Tom Dixon Held for the Grand Jury.
In New York yesterday, Justice Grady rendered his decision in the case of Rev. Thos. Dixon, jr., who was arrested on the complaint of Excise Commissioner Joseph Kerch, who charged him with criminal libel. The Rev. Mr. Dixon is held for the grand jury. He was, however, paroled in the custody of his lawyer, Col. Almer. Justice Grady said he failed to find during the examination that Kerch was individually responsible for the delay of the excise board. In giving its decision upon petitions that were upon an election day.

Enterprise of the Old Days Recalled.
Charlotte's morning daily, the Observer, is more like the morning paper Charlotte should have than anything the town has known since the days of the old Observer. Col. Chas. R. Jones and his office force frequently stayed up until daylight in order to get the latest important news to press, and that is what the Observer did this morning. The Observer did well in giving the town the latest from the convention, and it is fulfilling the News' prophecy that it will be just the sort of a morning daily that Charlotte has been needing.

The Host on the Other Leg Now.
Among those of our citizens who had to pay judgments in favor of the old National Express Company, was Mr. H. H. Orr. When the old express company was doing business in Charlotte, it occupied a store in "Granite Row," the place now occupied by the Haberdasher. That is Mr. Orr's property, and in looking over some old papers, he found a bill for rent against the National Express Company, for $650. That bill has never yet been paid, but as the trustee of the company has been so diligently employed in collecting assessments from the stockholders and heirs of stockholders, it is to be presumed that he will be equally ready to refund part of the money collected from at least one stockholder. Of course if it was proper for Mr. Orr to pony up to the company's bill, it is proper for the company to pony up to his bill.

Mr. William Bellars, Jr., was drowned this morning at 11 o'clock in a small pond of water below the old dam near Philo's pond.

Mr. William Bellars, Jr., was drowned this morning at 11 o'clock in a small pond of water below the old dam near Philo's pond. The body was found yesterday morning. About an hour before the accident was discovered Mr. Bellars was seen walking on the bridge which his body was found. He sat down near the middle of the bridge and threw out a line for fish. Considering the depth of the water, which was only about eighteen inches, and the position of the body when found, it is generally believed that the young man was suddenly seized with something similar to an epileptic fit and fell across the log. Young Bellars was subject to fits, and this theory is the most plausible one yet advanced. Mr. Bellars was a son of Mr. William Bellars, who lives on North A street. The father and son were both employed at Liddell's laundry as menders. He was about 18 years old and very heavy for one of his age. The body was carried to the young man's home and will be buried to-morrow evening.

On the Occasion of the President's Re-nomination of Cleveland was not made until daylight this morning. The ballot by States is given in another part of today's News. The convention adjourned to 2 o'clock this afternoon to complete the ticket by the nomination of a vice president.

On the re-assembling of the convention this afternoon, the Gray club entered with a band and banners, and there was considerable cheering. Another club followed with banners for Cleveland and Gray.

On the first ballot Stevenson leads Gray indications are that Stevenson will be elected on second ballot. 6:10 p.m. Stevenson was nominated on first ballot.

On the changes resulting from the Richmond & Danville going into the hands of a receiver, will be the removal of the offices of assistant general passenger agent Turk from Charlotte to Washington. The removal of the offices will take place on July 1st. During his stay here Maj. Turk has made many warm personal friends in Charlotte, and the same can be said of the young men in his employ. Major Turk is a pleasant affable gentleman and his young men are model boys. Charlotte will certainly regret to lose them.

Maj. Turk takes the place of Capt. Jas. L. Taylor, the general passenger agent of the Richmond & Danville road, who has resigned to accept a position with the Pennsylvania road. The Atlanta Constitution makes this reference to Maj. Turk: Maj. W. A. Turk, who succeeded Capt. Taylor, has been in the service of the Richmond & Danville for several years. For four years he was located in this city representing the Atlanta and Charlotte Air Line. He is now assistant general passenger agent of the Richmond and Danville with headquarters at Charlotte. He is well known and has a fine record as passenger man. There seems to be a temporary hitch, pending the general overturning of Danville affairs, in making a permanent appointment of a general passenger agent. Mr. Turk is supposed to be the man who will wear the title when the appointment is made. Temporarily, he assumes the duties without change of title.
