Resolutions to This Effect Offered by Alderman Franklin-The Report of the Finance Committee-The Janitor at the City Hall.

The board of aldermen met last night in regular session. All were present except Alderman O'Donoghue.

After the reading of the minutes of the last meeting Mr. Keesler appeared before the board in reference to a stream running-through the center of his property on Caldwell street between Eighth and Ninth streets.

Mr. Keesler requested that a committee be sent to the property to Flower committee-Mrs. A. B. Reese, look into the situation. Mr. Keesler's plea was based upon the fact that much of the drainage of the city was To Sell Cut Flowers-Mrs. Hirshin- turned into this stream.

A delegation representing the merchandise brokers then appeared before the board with Mr. Robert Stokes as spokesman. The committee of brokers requested that the license tax on them be annulled. The brokers complain that outside drummers come in and compete with them while the drummers pay no tax to the city. -Alderman Franklin, who had conferred with the city attorneys, stated that it would be possible to tax woodsellers, for instance, who live outside of town if the law were made without reference to the place of residence. but should only be determined by whether or not the party sold within the city limts.

Alderman Garibaldi moved that the matter be referred to the finance committee with power to act. The motion was seconded and carried.

Mr. C. McNelis then appeared before the board and asked permission to build a stable on his lot on the corner of Alexander and Vance. The law states that no stable can be built nearer than thirty feet to any street
