THE STRIKE.

The Latest Statement from the Strikers.

Vice-President Dolphin, of the O. R. I., gives the following statement today in regard to the strike:

"The Southern Railway telegraphers' strike has assumed gigantic proportions within the past forty-eight hours. Since Wednesday morning 92 telegraphers have closed their offices and joined the movement without a solitary defection from our ranks. The British infantry yesterday. A special train was sent out of Greensboro yesterday on the Mount Airy division with a supply of clerks and porters, none of whom were telegraphers, to keep freight offices open, all agents and operators having struck Wednesday night. The local movement at Atlanta this morning practically concedes defeat of the company by the strikers. The company's contention that trains are running on schedule time is an admission of defeat, as schedule time trains do not run on telegraphic orders. But the schedule trains previous to the strike did not represent one-fourth of the traffic. The other three-fourths were operated by ng will be allowed to go through. WAGES OF TELEGRAPHERS. "I have been approached by a large number of people requesting information respecting rates of wages paid telegraphers by the Southern Railway, previous to this strike, and which constitutes the most important reason for and practically precipitated the present trouble. The minimum salary paid telegraphers on the Southern Railway is $15 per month, while on the Chesaeake & Ohio, Norfolk & Western, and others, the minimum salary paid for the same class of service is $40 to $45 per month. The Southern Railway reruired its telegraphers to work from large number of stations without paying for evertime, while on other lines twelve hours is the maximum for a day's work, and if telegraphers are required to work over time they are paid from 25 to 35 cents per hour.
