Ben Franklin Luncheon Was a Most Enjoyable Affair for the Printers and Their Fortunate Guests

Charlotte Typographical Union No. 338, met last night in Typographical Hall over Fitzsimons & Co. to commemorate the birthday of Dr. Franklin, the greatest of their fraternity.

Mr. G. F. Cross, president of the Union, presided and called the meeting

Mr. J. P. Caldwell, of the Charlotte Observer, was the orator of the occa- and reported his daughter's disappearsion. He was introduced by Mr. Sylvanus Erwin in a few well-chosen

Mr. Caldwell was in great preparedness and good form and acquitted himself handsomely. He traced the career of Dr. Franklin as printer, journalist, diplomatist, statesman, philosopher, scientist and inventor. Mr. Caldwell's opinion was that Franklin was in many ways the greatest man his country had produced. His style was the perfection of simplicity, purity and terseness. Mr. Caldwell interspersed his paper with narratives of Franklin's life and quotations from Franklin's biographies and from his "Autobiography," which he considered one of the most charming of books. Mr. Caldwell's effort was one which caught the spirit of the occasion and met the expectations of his audience, At the conclusion of his address calls were made for Mr. W. C. Dowd, cf The News, who addressed the meeting. He urged the printers to remember Ben Franklin's maxim that "whatever is worth doing at all is worth doing well" and to make themselves worthy of their craft.

delighted those present with a characteristically quaint and quizzical speech. He referred to Messrs. Caldwell and Dowd as respectively lyceum and stump orators and said if they kept on he and no doubt they would both eventually prove to be better orators

Barringer, Escott, Newell, Pleasants and Gilliam made brief acknowledgements in response to repeated calls

For Torturing, Disfiguring Humours.

Cuticura Ointment is beyond question the most successful curative for torturing, disfiguring humours of the skin and scalp, including loss of hair, ever compounded, in proof of which a single anointing with it, preceded by a hot bath with Cuticura Soap, and followed in the severer cases by a dose of Cuticura Resolvent Pills, is often sufficient to afford immediate relief in the most distressing forms of itching, burning and scaly humours, permits rest and sleep, and points to a speedy cure when all other remedies fail. It is especially so in the treatment of infants and children, cleansing, soothing and healing the most distressing of infantile humours, and preserving, purifying and Cuticura Ointment possesses, at the same time, the charm of satisfying the simple wants of the toilet, in caring for the skin, scalp, hair and hands from infancy to age, far more effectually, agreeably and economically than the most expensive of toilet emollients. They thought she might have eloped with Wilcox, and at 1 o'clock Mr. Cropsey hurried across Elizabeth City to the home of the young man's parents to see if she was there. He asked to see James, and inquired of him where Ella was. Mrs. Wilcox went alone to her son's room, soon returned and reported that James said he did not know where the girl was; that he had returned to her an umbrella and a picture she had given him and left her leaning against one of the posts of the A Scripture reading from the eighth front porch of her home, crying. Mrs. M. E. Hughson, 347 East Ohio St., Chicago, Ill. Mrs. Pinkham Tells How Ordinary Tasks Produce Displacements.

Apparently trifling incidents in woman's daily life frequently produce displacements of the womb. A slip on the stairs, lifting during menstruation, standing at a counter, running a sewing machine, or attending to the most ordinary tasks may result in displacement, and a train of serious evils is started. The first indication of such trouble should be the signal for quick action. Don't let the condition become chronic through neglect or a mistaken idea that you can overcome it by exercise or leaving it alone. More than a million women have regained health by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If the slightest trouble appears which you do not understand

One thing is certain in regard to timely words from her will show you the right thing to do. This advice costs you nothing, but it may mean life or happiness or both. Mrs. Lelah Stowell, 177 Wellington
