AN OLD GRUDGE.

Existed Between Officer Torrence and Mr. J. A. Porter.

The Charlotte firemen who visited Salisbury Labor Day are very much wrought up over what they term the "inhuman treatment" of ex-Constable James A. Porter by police officer Torrence.

In speaking of the trouble today one of the firemen states that Officer Torrence struck Mr. Porter not on account of what he was doing Monday night at the station, but because of an old grudge.

Two years ago when the Charlotte firemen went to Salisbury Constable Porter (for he was then an officer) and Policeman Torrence had a difficulty and the Salisbury officer came out second best. This has always nettled Torrence and knowing that Porter was not the man he was two years ago, the Salisbury officer thought he would have it out with him.

At the investigation held yesterday in Salisbury before Mayor Boyden Officer Torrence was suspended from the force for 30 days.

In speaking of the hearing the Salisbury Sun says:

"Mr. J. A. Porter, a member of the Charlotte reel team, was billeted by Officer Torrence at the depot last night to the extent that he had to call upon a surgeon and have a scalp wound dressed. Dr. E. Rose Dorset took five stitches. Today at 2 o'clock Mayor Boyden held an investigation of the affair at which both Mr. Porter and Officer Torrence were present.

"Engineer A. H. Pool, a witness, was examined. At the conclusion of the hearing Mayor Boyden announced that he would suspend Mr. Torrence from the force for 30 days."

MEMBER OF PARLIAMENT.

Mr. Thomson Stops Over In Charlotte Returning To New York.

Mr. Whiteley Thomson, of Halifax, England, a member of the English Parliament and a prominent citizen of the Mother Country, was a visitor in Charlotte last night, stopping at the Buford.

Mr. Thomson stopped over in this city returning from a Southern trip. Most of his time while in the South was spent in Atlanta, where he has business associates.

During the big yacht races Mr. Thomson was a guest of Sir Thomas Lipton aboard the Erin. After the races were over Mr. Thomson came South to look after some business interests. He left on one of the early morning trains for the North.

Indians In a Collision.

Two wagons heavily loaded with Catawba Indians were passing up Tryon street this morning. Just as one of the wagons passed in front of The News office the horses became frightened at an electric car. They backed the wagon across the street and ran into Dr. John C. Montgomery's buggy, smashing one of the wheels and otherwise injuring it.

As soon as possible the Indians put out, leaving Dr. Montgomery with his smashed buggy. The driver of the wagon said he was unable to control his team and that was all he did say.

A Monster Turtle.

Sam Moseley, colored, is not considered much of a fisherman, but he landed a 60 pound turtle at the Park pond yesterday afternoon, all the same.

This monster turtle has been basking in the sunlight of Latta Park lake for several years. It has been feeding on the fish that a number of local fishermen would have enjoyed catching and, for this reason, Moseley's luck in catching the giant turtle, is the more pronounced.

The turtle was brought to the city and Moseley received quite a nice sum for his catch.

New Vocal Teacher.

Miss Teresa M. Humphrey, the new vocal teacher for the Presbyterian College for Women, arrived in the city last night. In conjunction with her duties there she will be soprano singer in the choir of the Second Presbyterian church. Miss Humphrey studied a year in the Chicago Musical College and afterwards spent three years at the Royal Academy of Music, London, where she graduated with the highest honors. Miss Humphrey's parents reside at Williamsburg, Iowa. She is their only child.

SHORT ITEMS.

Gathered Here and There Over the City Today.

—Little Martha, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Moore, who has been critically ill, is slightly better.

—Mr. W. L. Pierce, formerly with John M. Atkinson & Co., has accepted a position with John M. Scott & Co.

—Mr. James Porter, who was so seriously handled by Officer Torrence at Salisbury, has returned to the city.

—The News received another large shipment of premium dinner sets today. All the orders we have on hand will be filled at once.

—The United States Inspector yesterday inspected and approved the new plumbing and repairs at the Mint. The work was done by Messrs. Haley & King.

—A horse owned by Mr. Josiah Hunter, who lives on North McDowell street, was right badly hurt yesterday afternoon by getting entangled in a wheel.

—The Orphans Concert at the Presbyterian College tomorrow night promises to be well attended. The News hopes the children will draw a big crowd as they deserve to.

—The County Commissioners have not decided which firm of architects will secure the new County Home building. Both plans are good ones and the commissioners desire several days to think over the matter.

—The ladies of St. Mark's Episcopal church, Bristow, will hold an ice cream festival on the lawn on Friday night, the proceeds to be used in paying for an organ. They extend a cordial invitation to their friends in Charlotte to attend.

—The curtain at the Academy tonight will rise promptly at 8:30 o'clock. As the opening scene requires a darkened house, the management insists that unless the patrons are seated, they will have to remain standing until the opening scene is over.

Couldn't Fool Ed.

Bath County (Ky.) World: Edward Mitchell, aged twenty-two years, and Mamie Jones, aged twenty-one years, of Moore's Ferry, this county, were married at Maysville last week. When told the gas was escaping in his room Mitchell replied he guessed not, as he had blown it out. Luckily, the transom over the door was open, or the couple would have been asphyxiated.
