THE PRESIDENT IN NEW YORK. CRANK ARRESTED

Detectives and Policemen Guard His Steps--One Man Ordered Away and Another Arrested Who Wanted to Sell a Cure.

The Man Also Wanted the President to send His Panacea to Emperor William--Details of the Presidential Journey.

(By Associated Press.)
New York, Nov. 27.—Roosevelt came to the city to attend the funeral of his uncle, Jas. K. Grier. The President was accompanied by Mrs. Roosevelt, Dr. J. B. Stokes, his personal physician, and Capt. Cowles, of the navy. Commissioner Greene and a force of police met the President and a mounted detail escorted his carriage from 23rd Street Ferry to his sister's home on Madison Avenue.

Cranks Try To See Him.

After breakfasting at the Robinson home the President left the house and went to the late residence of Mr. Grier on East Fifty-eighth street, remaining there until time to go to the church of the Holy Communion for funeral services. Police arrangements for the protection of the President and to restrain the large crowd included more than 300 patrolmen, being around the block in which the church is located. The people in a short time were kept close to the sidewalk, no one being allowed in the middle of the streets. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt alighted from their carriages and went quickly into church. Just prior to the arrival of the cortege the police-inspector noticed a man standing on a structure leading over the east railing directly opposite the entrance to the church. The man was ordered away after he had returned an insolent answer to the inspector's question and departed. Just as services were concluded the man who attempted to force his way to the President and hand him a letter, was arrested. He gave his name as Arthur P. Dunning, 35 years old, of Jersey City. He said he was born in the United States and was a manufacturer of medicine to cure every disease. Dunning, when taken to police headquarters, told a rambling story. He said he had tried before to interview the President to request him to accept some of his panacea to send to Emperor William of Germany for his throat trouble. He failed in his efforts however he said, to see the President. Officials at Detective Bureau said the man appeared to be perfectly harmless and rational on every subject except that of his remedy. Nothing was found on him to injure any one.

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, Nov. 27.—Spain has taken first steps toward breach of relations with Venezuela. The State Department notified the former government that it has withdrawn the executors of all Venezuelan consuls in Spain. It is surmised that this action is taken because of ill treatment accorded the Spanish Minister as the result of the Mexican-Venezuelan arbitration and of disrespect shown the Spanish Consul at Laguayra.

A telephone message to The News this morning from Lowell, stated that Mrs. Mary Craig, relict of the late Samuel Craig, was found dead in bed at her home near Craig's Ferry, in Gaston county this morning.

Mrs. Craig retired last night at her usual time and apparently, was in the best of health. Some member of the family went to the room this morning to call her for breakfast and found her dead body.

Death must have come early in the night as the body was cold and the limbs stiff.

A telephone message was sent to Mr. L. A. Dodsworth this morning asking him to inform Mrs. Craig's son, Mr. W. J. Martin, of New York, of his mother's death. Mr. Dodsworth wired Mr. Martin who is a member of the firm of J. H. Parker & Co., the cotton brokers of New York.

Her second husband was the late Samuel Craig who during his life time was one of the most influential merchants of Gaston. There were four children born to this union, all of whom survive the deceased.

Mrs. Craig was about 75 years old and was one of the best of women. For many years she has resided at her home near Craig's Ferry, five miles from Belmont. The Craig homestead was known as one of the most hospitable of the many such in Gaston.

For years the deceased had been a member of New Hope church and tomorrow her body will be laid to rest in the county churchyard, beside loved-ones who are buried there.

HE CHOSE DEATH RATHER THAN LIFE

A Shocking Tragedy Near Fort Lawn, S. C. Wednesday Night--Mr. Charles Abernathy Kills Himself on his Way Home.

The particulars of shocking tragedy were learned of by a News man this morning from an individual who had been near the place of the suicide.

Charles Abernathy and Miss Irene Thomason were returning to their home at Fort Lawn from a party given at the house of Mr. J. M. Hough at Landford Wednesday night at about half past 12 o'clock. When they were about a mile from Fort Lawn the young man pulled a pistol out of his pocket and said:

"Irene, I'm going to kill myself."

The pistol was discharged, the ball entering his head just in front of his right ear. He fell with a buggy and the terrified girl screamed for help. There were several other vehicles near them at the time, but before any one of the young men could get to him he was dead.

The young man was one of the most popular in the neighborhood and no one can explain the cause of his suicide. He had been in very good spirits and had seemed perfectly at himself all day. It is believed by some he did it in fun and that the pistol went off accidentally but the consensus of opinion is that it was suicide.

NEWS ADVERTISING WINS OUT.

Messrs. J. B. Ivey & Co., who do their regular advertising exclusively in The News, have time and again put this paper to a severe test as to its publicity--creating and trapezoidal powers. Yesterday they advertised a special sale to begin this morning at 9 o'clock and by 8:30 their establishment was crowded with shoppers brought there through the agency of the advertisement in The News and that alone.

The columns of The News have been proven repeatedly capable of filling any establishment in the city with customers whenever it has anything of special advantage to advertise to the public.

A BIG THANKSGIVING.

The Generosity Of Belk Bros. Thoroughly Appreciated.

Col. W. M. Smith and all the members of the large Belk Bros. family in this city are enthusiastic over the Thanksgiving reception tendered them at the home of Dr. J. M. Belk in Monroe yesterday. The special train bearing Mr. W. H. Belk and his 75 guests left the Seaboard Air Line station yesterday morning at 9 o'clock and arrived in Monroe at 10 o'clock. From the Monroe station the party went at once to the home of Dr. J. M. Belk where the larger part of the day was indeed spent most pleasantly. The idea of the huge entertainment was conceived some time ago by Dr. Belk, who has recently erected a handsome modern home, one of the best in the State. The employees of the firm have consequently been looking forward to it with pleasant anticipation for some time. That every thing anticipated was more than realized every one who knows Dr. and Mrs. M. Belk will testify.

The following assisted in looking after the pleasure of the guests: Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Fletcher, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Ashcraft. About 150 people were present. Dinner was served from 2 to 4 o'clock and lunch from 6 to 8.

To accommodate the tremendous crowd present, the breakfast room, dining room and parlor were all thrown into one. The breakfast room was beautiful with its decorations of red. A large pumpkin filled with fruits of all kinds, the center piece, and Mexican drawn work covered the highly polished table.

The dining room was lovely in yellow and blue, yellow ribbon extending from the chandeliers to the center of the table, trimmed with smilax and caught with marchen roses, center piece of resanauce lace; large cut glass bowl filled with malaga grapes and oranges.

The parlor, which was used, was all in white and violet flowers used were violets, white chrysanthemums and ferns, large cut glass vase of chrysanthemums and Irish pine lace made a lovely center piece, and violets scattered carefully over the table.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Fletcher proved to be experts in serving the guests. They take great interest on occasions of this kind. Their management could not be improved upon. Mrs. Ashcraft also deserves especial mention for her untiring efforts in assisting in the decorations, etc.

COL. LUSK SWEARS OFF.

Will Never Go Hunting Again--Does Not Like Being Taken For a Rabbit.

(Special to The News.)

Asheville, Nov. 26.—Col. Lusk was on the streets today dealing out liberally his abundant stock of aphorisms, political and otherwise, but during a conversation with a group of friends the subject of "Thanksgiving naturally came up. "No, I shan't not go hunting," said the Colonel. "At one time I thought myself immune to danger. I reckon I have been shot at a thousand times, and was never hit in my life, until the incident of a few weeks ago, which has decided me forever and eternally not to go hunting again. It happened this way. I had gone out on horse back and some fool hunter shot me and my horse. He filled my horse full of shot, riddled my hat and wounded me in the hand. The shot are there yet. When I got home I poured a pint of shot out of my boots. Luckily my gun was loaded with bird shot, or I would have been a goner, and my horse, too. The fellow was rabbit hunting and I suppose he took me for a rabbit. I would not mind being considered a little fox, but to be taken for a common broom-sedge rabbit is pathetic. No sir. No more hunting for me. The Republicans' party has need for all its votes, and I'll take no more chances at being killed for a rabbit."

TWO SMALL FIRES.

Both Said To Be Caused By Defective Flues.

The fire department had two calls last night and this morning but as usual they were only blazes resulting from defective flues. It will take some time for people to get their heating apparatus in running order.

The fire last night was in the building on South Church street, occupied by Mr. J. H. Hatch. The alarm was turned in and the hook-and-ladder and hose wagon from the department on Fifth street and the reel from the colored station on East Trade arrived promptly, but the soot in the chimney had all burnt out and nothing was to be done.

The fire this morning was of very little importance. The alarm was turned in from box No. 16 at about seven o'clock. The hook-and-ladder and hose wagon answered promptly but as it was a small fire in the roof nothing was used except the hand chemical engine. The fire was on the 7th street between C and D streets in the house occupied by Mr. C. M. Setzer. The blaze appeared in the roof near where the flue from a heater came out and it is supposed that the flue got very hot and caused the blaze.

FOURTEEN BELOW FREEZING.

Thermometer This Morning Breaks Season's Record.

Last night was the coldest in Charlotte and this section during the present season.

At 8 o'clock this morning the mercury stood exactly at 18 degrees Fahrenheit which is just fourteen degrees below the freezing point.

The cold wave of the preceding week had scarce spent itself when the mercury again started downward and last night pedestrians who braved the cold knew that there was something doing. The wind blew straight from the North during the afternoon and the thermometer which stood at 38 degrees early in the afternoon began to tumble downward reaching the freezing point about dark and continuing in its downward movement all during the night until it reached 18 degrees this morning.

The cold wave today held in its icy grasp the entire Eastern half of the country.

The weather will continue clear and cold for another day at least when rising temperatures are predicted due to a warmer area which today is noted in the far West.

Weddington and Luke Seawell of this city. The new company has had articles of incorporation drafted and the charter was granted today.

The Standard Hardware Company will be ready for business about January 1, 1904. All of the stockholders are well known Westchester and Charlotte capitalists of Gastonia and Charlotte, and they will doubtless meet with great success in this new enterprise.

Hot Legal Battle Today.

Before Squibs Severs this morning a hot legal battle was waged over a warrant of attachment demanded by J. C. and J. T. Sanders, against a negro tenant, West Harris.

The amount of money involved was $28.83, which the plaintiffs alleged to be due them by the defendant on contract. Both sides were ably represented by legal counsel and the case was warmly contested.

A jury was demanded and empaneled. After being out a short while the jury decided that the case was a mistrial.

Generous Donation.

At a meeting of the Charlotte Day Nursery Association this morning, the secretary was requested to thank the superintendent, teachers and pupils of both the white graded schools of this city for their very generous donation to the Day Nursery. This donation will be a great help to the Day Nursery for many weeks to come.

There will be a Mother's Meeting of the Nursery, corner 14th and Caldwell streets tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. The leaders will be Mrs. C. W. Tillett and Mrs. A. C. Barron.

The News is asked to call attention of all superintendents to this resolution and request that the collection be taken next Sunday without fail.

Henderson in More Trouble.

The negro Ben Henderson, who was sent to jail Tuesday by the Recorder for severely cutting a negro woman with a knife and afterwards escaping, is thought by the police to be perhaps the party wanted for cutting a white man recently in a street fight here. Ex-Constable Porter went to the jail to identify Henderson but was unable however to fully identify the negro.

ROBBERS RESIST DETECTIVES AND ARE BARRICADED

Two Men Wanted for Sensational Robberies and Murders Committed During the Recent Strike in Chicago Defend Themselves.

Detectives Guard Their Barricade all Night and the Robbers in Trying to Escape This Morning Wounded Two of Them.

(By Associated Press.)
Chicago, Nov. 27.—Barricaded in a dug-out near Miller's Station, South of Chicago, two men, Harvey Van-Dine and Peter Niedeumier accused of sensational robberies and murder in Chicago during the recent strike held at bay since last night the local detectives and a heavy reinforcement of police sent this morning. After a mad break by the men for liberty which resulted in shooting and perhaps fatally wounding of two officers, reports from a rudo dugout almost on Lake Michigan shore bordering on swamp shores state a furious battle was fought there this morning between bandits and officers which resulted in bandits wounding two detectives, urgent request was sent to this city for re-enforcement and detail of men were dispatched by special train to the scene of battle. It was learned by detectives last night that men who were wanted in Chicago for several various crimes had been discovered in Indiana along the lake shore. Officers at once began tracking, men who took refuge in dugout or hunter's hut near Miller Station which is in the wildest portion of the lake front, bordering on the swampy land. Detectives surrounded dugout and watched men all night. Early this morning bandits made bold escape wounding two of the detectives who were guarding the place. A special train was run out of Chicago and every effort made to rush officers to dugout where handful of detectives were guarding place. Two injured policemen have been brought to this city.

After shooting their way through the ring of police formed around them, the bandits after a desperate rush across the country for five miles, reached the Pennsylvania railroad at East Tolleston, Ind., where at the music of car-bells and revolvers they forced their way by freight train to Liverpool, Ind., after shooting down in cold blood a brakeman who battled for the control of his train.

The bandits had long range guns and the red-headed bandit when not running adopted a method of firing down on the tracks and shooting at the policemen to keep pursuers at bay. As soon as possible after the bandits escaped from the cave Captain Briggs in charge of the Pennsylvania system police department, started with a special train for Liverpool for the purpose of apprehending, if possible, the fugitives. The complete train telegrams all along the line, calling for volunteers to assist in the round-up of the fugitives.
