

Military to Enforce the Order of Chief Justice---Aycock

The Counsel for the State Refuse to Argue the Question of the Validity of the order of Chief Justice Fuller. Judge Purnell Has His Doubts.

(Special The News.) Raleigh, June 2.—After hearing the argument this morning by counsel for Receivers McBee and Meares of the Atlantic and North Carolina railroad, against such action, Judge Purnell accepted the bond tendered by the officers of the road in accordance with the supersedeas order issued by Chief Justice Fuller for retention of the officers in possession of the property. Counsel for the State declined to argue as to whether the order of Chief Justice Fuller was effective, being signed out of district or whether the order could act as restitution the receivers being in charge when it was served, contending that the only question before the judge was the acceptance of the bond under the order of the Chief Justice.

Judge Purnell had requested that the counsel discuss the two points. After hearing the arguments and citations of W. W. Clark and W. H. Day, against the acceptance of the bond and the effectiveness of the order, Judge Purnell stated that there was a grave doubt in his mind as to the validity of the order, it being signed out of the district, but out of deference to the Chief Justice he would accept the bond and let the receivers test the other questions on appeal.

As soon as the bond was accepted Governor Aycock wired Superintendent Dill at Newbern to take charge of the road. Counsel for receivers telegraphed the receivers instructions to hold the road at all hazard; that the order was not effective until it was formally sent by an officer of the court.

To Governor Aycock's telegram Superintendent Dill replied: "I have notified McBee and Meares

LYNCHING IN OHIO THREATENED AGAIN

This time it was a Negro That Killed Another Negro After Whom the Mob was Going--The Criminal was Spirited Away.

(By Associated Press.) Springfield, Ohio, June 2.—Another lynching was attempted here last night. A crowd of negroes surrounded the jail at midnight to lynch Walter Fisher, a negro, for killing Edward Boone, colored. The sheriff had just returned from Dayton, where he took Fisher for safe-keeping and so advised the crowd, which yelled that it would get Fisher when brought back for trial.

of the approval of the bond and my orders to take charge. They decline to recognize my authority. I have notified them that I am in possession and they will act at their peril. Must I put the receivers out of the office?" To this the Governor replied: "Put the Receivers out. See Gulon. If necessary call out the sheriff. If the military is needed notify me. The order of the Chief Justice must be obeyed." To O. H. Gulon, counsel for the State in Newbern, the Governor telegraphed the following instructions: "Please see that the road is turned over to the directors. Take the sheriff with you. If necessary the military will be called out. The order of Chief Justice Fuller must be enforced with the whole power of the State." At this hour nothing is known here of further developments in Newbern.

JAPS HAVE AN IMMENSE ARMY

General Gourouko Arrives at Mukden With Tidings From the Front -- Says There are 125,000 Men in Southern Manchuria.

(By Associated Press.) St. Petersburg, June 1, Wednesday.—Delayed.—Col. Gourouko has arrived at Mukden from Port Arthur, safely crossing Japanese lines. Col. Gourouko is the bearer of important information regarding the fighting at Kinchoo and the situation at Port Arthur. A long dispatch is now being deciphered at the War Office, which probably contains intelligence brought by Colonel Gourouko and it is believed a portion of it will be given out tonight. According to information in possession of the general staff, the enemy has four divisions and five reserve corps, eight thousand men, on Liao Tung Peninsula and at least a hundred and twenty-five thousand men in southern Manchuria. Although the impression prevails among the general staff that General Kuroki's purpose will be to make feints to prevent General Kuropatkin from moving, but not to attack him until the result of the campaign against Port Arthur is decided, it is now apparently more an inclination to think he will try to demonstrate a force which will result in a direct engagement. The Japanese commander is constantly shifting his shifting his forces back and forth to conceal the real purpose, the latest report being that he has again abandoned Saimasza. All reports arriving at General Kuropatkin's headquarters from Kwangtung Peninsula increasing the extent of the Japanese losses at Kinchoo, on today making the number twenty thousand men. Accurate reports of Russian losses as well as of Russian forces engaged, were brought by Colonel Gourouko from Port Arthur.

Japanese Advancing. Dashihaio, June 2.—Japanese outposts are now three miles from Vafangow. No news from Port Arthur. Japanese are stopping Chinese runners and searching junks. Cable Interrupted. New York, June 2.—The Commercial Cable Company has issued the following notice: "We are advised that the Northern Companies' cable between Amoy and Shanghai is interrupted."

Russian Losses. St. Petersburg, June 2.—A semi-official telegram from Mukden of today's date says that Russian losses in the battle of Kinchoo, May 26 were thirty officers and eight hundred men killed or wounded. Guns were abandoned by the Russians and rendered useless. Russia Hopes for an Alliance. St. Petersburg, June 2.—Comment here on the settlement of the Russo-Canadian Fishery dispute is significant. The agreement was welcomed by the Russian press as evidence of increasing probability of an Anglo-Russian alliance, the papers pointing out that public opinion in Great Britain, France and Russia is becoming more favorable to the war instead of serving as an argument in its favor. Cossacks and Japanese. Mukden, June 2.—A hospital train arrived Tuesday night, with wounded from the fight at Vafangow, bringing three officers and 23 men. General Kuropatkin visited them, complimented them on their bravery and awarded eight Crosses of St. George. Four of those wounded at Vafangow were left at Liao Yang in too serious a condition to be moved. Some of these have from four to six bullet wounds. One of the wounded said: "These Japanese fight very well. Shooting is their strong point, but the Cossack's lance charge completely surprised them. Many of the Japanese were ridden down. Others ceased firing and fled." Wiju Railway. Seoul, June 2.—The grading of the Wiju railroad has been completed 25 miles from Seoul. It is expected that Ping Yang will be reached the first of December. The majority of railway battalions have been heretofore stationed in temporary barracks near Seoul and will soon be moved further North.

THE ILLINOIS CONVENTION. Delegates Will be Released From Instructions as a Way to Break Dead-lock.

(By Associated Press.) Springfield, Ills., June 2.—Before the Republican State Convention gathered today an agreement was reached by late followers of Governor Yates and Deneen not to oppose a pending resolution releasing delegates from instructions. It is generally assumed the result will be the adoption of the resolution by the convention.

Sixty-Eighth Ballot. The sixty-eighth ballot resulted: Yates, 464; Lowden, 400; Deneen, 370; Hamlin, 107; Warner, 42; Sherman, 30; Pierce, 38. The convention after this ballot, took recess till 3 o'clock.

Delegates Released. On the motion of the Yates delegate, the committee on resolutions unanimously ordered a favorable report of resolution releasing delegates from instruction. The Yates then held a meeting before releasing delegates from instruction. The Yates men held a meeting before the convention at which Governor Yates released all the delegates from their support of him. The delegates refused to be released. Governor Yates addressed the convention on releasing delegates. Lowden followed releasing his supporters. Four other candidates, Dineen, Hamlin, Sherman and Warner followed, addressing the convention. The other candidates then released his delegates. Chairman Cannon of the convention then asked five minutes which was accorded him with cheers, Congressman Rodenberg taking the chair.

NEWS FROM TANGIER.

The Italian Cruiser Joins the Others and the Pouplice is Alarmed. (By Associated Press.)

Tangier, June 2.—The Italian third class cruiser Dogali arrived today. A delegation of chiefs of Angiaria tribe has left to make a personal appeal to the bandit Raisuli to release Perdicaris and Varley in order to prevent the debarkment and permanent occupation of Morocco by foreigners opposing the Moslem Faith and the consequent expulsion of native Mohammedans. This mission is considered important as the Mohammedan chiefs unite in an appeal to Raisuli not to endanger religious supremacy in Morocco. The French Government relies much on the appeal to Mohammedan sentiment. The natives are greatly excited by the arrival of so many foreign warships. They call all foreigners "Roumis" meaning infidels and fear the Roumis are about to make a united effort to drive out those of Mohammedan faith.

HISTORY OF COTTON MANUFACTURING IN NORTH CAROLINA

North Carolina was the Third State in the Union to Engage in Cotton Manufacturing and Now Ranks Second in the South.

The Political Situation in Wisconsin is Very Disturbing to the Republican Politicians--New Rural Routes for North Carolina.

(A. W. Hughes.) Washington, D. C., June 1.—Secretary Wilson of the Agricultural Department, discussing the progress of agriculture in the United States, asserts that the South, which had been backward in its corn production for many years preceding 1890, finds itself since that time with its fraction of the national production of corn increasing faster than that of any other section; the same is true with regard to wheat, sweet potatoes, and cane and sorghum straw; and to these may be added tobacco and farm made butter, and horses, mule and swine. The South occupies a second place in the rate of increase of production in comparison with other sections, in buckwheat, hay, apple and peach trees, cattle other than milk cows, and farm-made cheese.

In an article on the consumption of cotton in the cotton States, J. I. Watkins, cotton expert of the Bureau of Statistics, says that North Carolina, which now ranks second among the cotton-consuming States of the South, was the third one to engage in the manufacture of cotton, its first mill having been erected at the Falls of Tar (or Pamlico) River, in Edgecombe county, in 1818. It began operating with 288 spindles, employed about 20 hands, and consumed 18,000 pounds of cotton, or, according to the weights of those days about 64 bales. Two years after this mill began operations another was built, (1822) on the Catawba River, near Lenoir, in 1830, or about that date, a mill, run by steam power, was erected at Greensboro. It operated 3,000 spindles and 75 looms, and made sheetings, shirtings, osanaburgs, and yarns.

Little is known as to the consumption of cotton in North Carolina prior to 1840. According to the census returns for that year there were only 288 spindles in operation, which consumed 18,000 pounds of cotton. The next census (1850) made no reports upon this industry. In 1840 there were about 25 mills in the State operating 47,934 spindles, which consumed, approximately, 20,450 bales.

If the Wisconsin "political" situation does not improve soon Postmaster General Payne will have a case of nervous prostration or gout or something of the sort. The President has given Mr. Payne warning that he expects him to see to it that the troubles of the two factions do not interfere with the national ticket in that State, but just how Mr. Payne will accomplish it does not appear, although while the La Follette people were here he made an earnest plea for support of the national ticket no matter what the outcome of the factional fight may be. It is certainly a fact that prominent Republicans here have admitted that the Democrats have a good fighting chance to carry Wisconsin this fall. They say that good politics for the people means concentration of campaign efforts in New York, Illinois, Wisconsin and Indiana. These States, with the Southern States would be all that would be needed to elect a Democratic President.

There are also two Congressional districts in Wisconsin mixed up in the La Follette and Spooner-Quarles fight and in these two the Democrats stand a show to win. Secretary Hay and Secretary Moody conferred with the President today and it is supposed that they went over the Perdicaris case, but neither officer would discuss the conference.

Admiral Evans, "Fighting Bob," was another visitor to see and talk with the President, but with equally uncommunicative. These conferences gave rise to a belief that some strong naval demonstration was contemplated at Tangier. Important plans in this direction would not be given out.

THE ARBITRATION COUNCIL.

John Bassett Moore, of Columbia University Makes a Speech Today. (By Associated Press.)

Mohawk Lake, N. Y., June 2.—The second day of the arbitration conference opened with an address by District Commissioner MacFarland, of Washington, on the subject of an arbitration treaty with Great Britain and other nations. Prof. John Bassett Moore, of Columbia University, referring to the decision of the Hague Court, in the Venezuelan case, said he was unable to see how other decision could have been rendered. The court was compelled to recognize the fact that in present state of international relations the use of force, and threat of war, are regular and legitimate, as in the Venezuelan case. There was great need, he said for the creation of a system whereby force might be applied in such cases without resort to war. One might be provided by international agreement that certain penalties be incurred by the nation perpetrating wrong and insisting on another. A better method would be the organization of a body akin to the International Police, acting under direction of a permanent International Council.
