Special Term of Court Closes.—Docket Cleared Hurriedly.—Features of Court.

Special to The News. Asheville, March 1.—The special term of Federal Court which has for some time been in session here adjourned Tuesday afternoon, having concluded all business which came before it.

The court's time Monday and Saturday was principally consumed in the hearing of the case against Wiley Black, for alleged violation of the liquor laws. The case was one of considerable importance and interest, and was a hard fought legal battle. The defendant was represented by Col. V. S. Lusk, Thomas S. Rollins and W. P. Brown. The argument was concluded in the afternoon at three o'clock and the case given to the jury. Shortly before 7 o'clock a verdict of not guilty was returned. Mr. Black operated a large distillery in this city, which was closed and the liquors confiscated last fall because of alleged irregularities. The case against him having failed, and it is today stated that he intends bringing suit against the collector of Revenue H. S. Harkins and his bondsmen, the amount of damages to be asked not being divulged.

Many important indictments were previously returned against steam distillers operating in widely separated counties, Rowan, Yadkin, Wilkes, Transylvania, Clay, Jackson and far Cherokee.

Aside from the Blackburn affair there was very little of the sensational about the term of court just concluded. The mills of justice ran swiftly and smoothly—the court having the accumulated work of almost a year before it and law was dispensed by the wholesale.

There is never a term of Federal Court in this city which does not furnish something of amusement and interest to an observant spectator. The court room is almost always filled with a throng of witnesses, defendants and onlookers drawn from the western sections of the State—from Wilkes, Madison, Yancey, Jackson, Clay and Cherokee, Polk, Rutherford, Transylvania—men whom it is interesting to observe, and who never fail to furnish something out of the ordinary. Blockader and witness and revenue "swapping lies," borrowing chewing tobacco, all in the best of humor—with never a hint that one is the hare and the other the hound—the pursuer and the other the pursued. This is all side play though, and talk they never so friendly today, tomorrow they will again be at their game of hide and seek.

Among those gathered at the court were a number of Indians, and two copper colored members of the tribe of Cherokee, Alvin and Burt Sawyer, came to grief in a ludicrous manner Monday afternoon. They desired to return to their homes in Marion and made their way to the station with that intention. But unfortunately they had imbibed too much pale-face fire water, and they made the fatal mistake of boarding the Toxaway train. When they were well out of Asheville, they were informed of the error of their ways, but were told that they could get off at Biltmore. When they reached that station, Alvin was unloaded but Burt was nowhere to be found. Later however, he appeared on the scene considerably worse for wear, he having fallen off the train into a mudhole somewhere, he didn't know just where. The couple then began the walk back to the city, but shortly engaged in a free for all fight and were taken in charge by a policeman who carried them to the city lockup to cool off. Tuesday they were given a trial in police court. Five flasks of whiskey and a pistol had been taken from them, and one was fined $1 and costs for being drunk and disorderly, and the other $15 for carrying a concealed weapon.

ARLINGTON NEWS.

Farmers Getting Busy.—Holding Steadfastly to Their Cotton.—Personal Notice.

Special to The News. Arlington, March 1.—As these beautiful spring-like days appear our farmers begin to think of another cotton crop and some have begun already to haul out guano, but we hope they will not forget to cut the ten per cent.

We are holding on to our last year's cotton and expect to get our fifteen cents. I know one man that has not sold a bale of his last year's crop.

Our school is getting along fine, but closes too early. Miss Olive Crabtree entertained the young people of the neighborhood most enjoyably by a party in honor of "good old St. Valentine."

Miss Minnie Clark who has been spending some time with her mother, Mrs. D. C. Hinson, has returned to her home at Statesville.

The only kind of advice that is ever taken is the rich relations, and only when he is there to see you do it.

That's the personal question a woman asks herself when she reads of the cure of womanly diseases by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Why shouldn't it cure her? Is it a complicated case? Thousands of such cases have been cured by "Favorite Prescription." Is it a condition which local doctors have declared incurable? Among the hundreds of thousands of sick women cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription there are a great many who were pronounced incurable by local doctors. Wonders have been worked by "Favorite Prescription" in the cure of irregularity, weakening drains, inflammation, ulceration and female weakness. It always helps. It almost always cures.

"I commenced taking your medicine, 'Favorite Prescription,' nearly a year ago for chronic inflammation of womb, and can truly say it is the only thing that ever did me any good," writes Mrs. C. W. Wagner, of 125 Edwin Street, Toronto, Ontario, Canada. "I could not walk any distance before using it. After taking six bottles of your 'Favorite Prescription' I find I can walk without difficulty and am greatly benefited in general health. Would rise all suffering women to use Dr. Pierce's medicine."

Pierce's These are the Original Little Liver Pills, first put up over 40 years ago, by old Dr. R. V. Pierce. They've been much imitated but never equalled. Smallest, easiest to take and best. They're tiny, sugar-coated pills, a compound of refined and concentrated vegetable extracts. Without disturbance or trouble, constipation, indigestion, bilious attacks, sick and bilious headaches, and all derangements of liver, stomach, and bowels are prevented, relieved, and cured. Permanently cured. By their mild and natural action, these little Pills gently lead the system into natural ways again. Their influence lasts.

Mr. Franklin, the photographer, of Mt. Airy, is on the hill again taking a few group pictures, but is doing mainly individual work. He is doing the work for the Senior Class also, and will fix up their class picture in a novel way. Each member of the class will get the pictures of the whole class on one large piece of card-board mounting, instead of exchanging single pictures with one another, as has been the custom heretofore. Dr. J. B. Shearer has returned from a short visit to his niece, Mrs. C. W. Ervin, in Columbia, S. C. Misses Maude Vinson and Jean Dupuy, of Converse, and Irving Harding, of the Presbyterian College, spent a few days at their homes here last week during the Junior Oratorical Exercises. LAW WORKS HARM.

Citizen Writes Concerning Shooting of Dogs in Streets.

To the Editor of The News. This morning on North Tryon street a policeman killed a dog that had become a great nuisance to the neighbors. While shooting the dog some stray shot took effect in a little pug dog, a pet of the children of Mr. James A. Fore.

The veterinary surgeon was called in to little "Brownie." The little dog has two holes in his side and it is feared he cannot live.

The family are grieved about their pet and feel that the law that permits the shooting of dogs in the street works great harm in endangering the lives of other valuable dogs and sometimes of persons who may be passing. CITIZEN.

UNION DYNAMITERS WORK.

Association Official Says Union Iron Workers Have Organized Gang to Destroy Non-Union Work and That No Adequate Protection Has Been Given.

New York, Feb. 28.—A secret service body, employed by the Building Trades Employers' Association to sleuth around the operations of the gang of alleged dynamiters, working against the Post & McCord jobs, sprung the startling clues to the police that he knew on Saturday morning that an attempt was to be made on Saturday night to blow up the uncompleted building at No. 304 East 23rd street. The police received information to that effect later in the day.

There was a conference between the headquarters men and some representatives of the Building Trades Employers' Association. It was decided then that the shadows from headquarters following the conspirators, who agreed to meet at 23rd street and Third Avenue, should let the dynamiters go as far as safety permitted, but should take no chances with letting that blast go off in a thickly populated district like East 23rd street.

This caused the arrest by some considered premature, of Thomas Weir, Charles Moran and John Guthrie. They had been seen to bury a satchel containing dynamite in a sand pile near the river; Moran had been reconnoitering the premises from a building in Second Avenue, and Guthrie had 10 pounds of dynamite and a fuse on his person. The detectives were afraid to let them go further. If the derrick on this job had been blown up it might have popped straight up in the air and come down on the building house next door, which it would have gone through like a hot wire through butter.
