A LARGE COMPANY.

To Work One of the Tin Mines Near King's Mountain.

It is learned here that a company with half a million dollars capital will exploit a tin mine near King's Mountain.

The new concern is being launched by Virginia capitalists and promises to become an important actor in the mining interests of the state.

Capt. J. W. Foster, president of the Virginia Scapstone Company at Schuyler, Nelson county, Virginia, and monied men of Lynchburg and Leesburg, Virginia, are the promoters of the scheme.

The company will be known as the Blue Ridge Tin Company of King's Mountain, N. C., capital $500,000.

A careful survey of the King's Mountain property has been made and analysis shows that the ore produces a larger percentage of tin than any mine in Australia or Wales, and is at the same time the only tin mine in America, as far as is known.

Already this mine is said to be yielding a handsome daily output and is paying handsomely.

It is believed that this development will be received with evident satisfaction by those interested in the industrial growth of the state, and further developments will be watched with interest.

BEFORE THE RECORDER. NEGRO GAVE OFFICERS CHASE.

An Interesting Case Heard at Today's Session of the Court.

The principal case before the Recorder this morning was that of Messrs J. K. Wolfe and J. M. Cross, the latter having previously submitted before magistrate Cobb, however, and been fined $3.

Mr. Wolfe first took the stand and told the story of the encounter as follows:

"I was walking down South Tryon when Mr. Cross joined me and questioned me about some fertilizer that I had sold him. Finally Mr. Cross said to me 'Don't you know I could indict you?'"

"I replied, well go ahead and indict me."

Mr. Cross seemed to get angry and he turned about and struck me several times."

Mr. Cross took the stand and said that he and Mr. Wolfe were talking about the fertilizer, and that they were trying to arrive at an understanding about it, when Mr. Wolfe said 'Oh, pshaw, Don't you know I can get more for the staff. Then he called me a dirty cur or a dirty pimp, I don't remember which and I struck at him."

Mr. Wolfe denied that he had called Mr. Cross anything, and the latter spoke out in court and said "Well it's just a matter of difference of opinion." The Recorder replied to Mr. Cross saying "It is not a question of difference of opinion, it is a question of facts."

Mr. Wolfe denied under oath that he had called Mr. Cross by any epithet and the court announced that both were guilty of an affray, but the judgment would be suspended in the case of Mr. Wolfe, while Mr. Cross was dismissed having had a previous trial before a magistrate.

The trial drew a considerable number of the two men's friends out to hear the evidence.

The case of Lee Davidson was again called, he being charged with using a pistol in making an attempted deadly assault. On account of the defendant's being too sick to come to court, the case was postponed until Friday.

Several other cases were called but the defendants failed to appear.

A SPLENDID STRUCTURE.

New Iron Bridge Over Creek at Foot of East Fourth Street.

The new concrete and iron bridge over the creek on East Fourth street, which has just been completed, is one of the most improved and substantial in the country. The bridge is a little different in construction from the other ones and it promises to be satisfactory in every particular.

Instead of constructing the bridge of solid concrete arches as the that over the creek on Elizabeth Avenue and Seventh street, it has concrete abutments with a solid iron drive way. The three abutments for the bridge proper are built several feet below the bed of the creek, giving a solid foundation.

The structure is 40 feet wide, giving enough space for the passage of five or six vehicles, and nearly 10 feet long. Not a piece of wood was used in its construction. The floor is laid with rock, giving the appearance of an unbroken macadamized road.

The straightening of Providence road approaching the bridge from Mr. McD. Watkins residence has been delayed several weeks but will be resumed shortly. Upon completion this highway will be one of the finest approaches to the city. It is, perhaps, used more than any other leading to Charlotte. It extends a distance of about 12 miles and is used by citizens of both Union and Anson counties in bringing their products to the Charlotte market.

Board of Governors Tonight.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of governors of the Southern board of governors of the Southern council room of the club tonight. The names of 12 new applications for membership will be presented to the board.

Tennis Game at Winston.

Messrs. J. M. Oldham and Manlius Orr will go to Winston the latter part of the week to play tennis with the McNair Brothers. The game promises to be very interesting. The McNair brothers have won quite a reputation as tennis players while Messrs. Oldham and Orr are the crack players of Charlotte.

Sam Bell Jumped From the Patrol Wagon Because he was Scared.

Patrolmen Johnston and House had a lively chase this morning after a negro by the name of Sam Bell who hails from above Salisbury. Bell came to town this morning and went to a house on Middle street where he lives when he comes to Charlotte and soon after entering the house found that a woman living in the same house had sold his clothes. This angered Bell and he used some vile language. The woman in the case telephoned to police headquarters that Bell was drunk and cursing everybody in that section of the town.

Officers Johnston and House hurried to the scene in the patrol wagon and located Bell near the power house. They met him coming around a corner and landed him in the wagon but before they started for the police station the negro jumped over the railing Officer House gave chase on foot while Officer Johnston kept up with them in the patrol wagon. The chase continued several blocks before Bell was again placed in the wagon. He afterwards explained that he jumped because he was scared.
