Presbytery to Close this Evening. Delegates Returning Home After a Season of Spiritual Benefit. Program Followed Today and for To-night.

Only one Negro Attending Synod. Delegates Take Collection to Give Him Present at his Marriage. Many Interesting Subjects Discussed.

Special to The News. Statesville, N. C., Oct. 26.—The devotional exercises of the Synod this morning were conducted by Rev. Dr. Vardell. After the reading of the minutes communications from the ministers were read.

This was followed by a discussion on ministerial, religious education led by Dr. Sweep of Kentucky. His remarks were very interesting and attentively listened to.

The remainder of the morning session was largely taken up by a discussion of negro evangelization. This service was in the charge of Rev. J. G. Sneider, of Spillman Institute, Tuscaloosa, Ala. Talks were made by Drs. Campbell and Smith of Asheville, J. R. Rogers of Winston-Salem, W. F. Holmsworth of Morganton, D. R. Craig of Reidsville, Dr. J. R. Howerton of Charlotte and R. F. Miller of Mecklenburg. There are three negro members of the Synod, only one of whom, however, is present. This is Reverend J. S. Morrow of North Wilkesboro, Morrow making a talk this morning which was very interesting and appropriate. He is at present a widower, but before closing his speech stated that he was going to get married Christmas. When he concluded his speech the Synod paid him a compliment by taking up a collection to buy him a wedding present.

Dr. George H. Cornelison of Concord read the report on Sunday schools and Young Peoples' societies. It is expected that the business of the Synod will be completed this afternoon. Dr. Lilly of Winston will preach the farewell sermon tonight. Most of the members of the Synod have already left for their homes. Afternoon Session. The special order for three o'clock yesterday afternoon was the selection of the place for the next session of the Synod, and great interest was taken in the subject. Raleigh, Gastonia, Hendersonville, and Fayetteville were placed in nomination, and all were heartily seconded. Hendersonville was selected one special point in its favor being the fact that the synod has never met there.

The special order following this was the consideration of the report of the committee on Sabbath observance and family religion, which was read by the chairman, Rev. W. D. Morton. The last recommendation of this report provoked considerable laughter in the Synod, that recommendation being marriage relation among the members of the congregation as being far preferable to state matrimony.

After the adoption of the report, Rev. M. A. Mcmasters of Pennsylvania, a minister in the United Presbyterian church, addressed the Synod in the interest of the American League of Sabbath Observance, of which he is a member.

The synod took recess at 4:45, and at 5 o'clock the alumni of Union Theological Seminary met at Hotel Iredell, where they formed an association to be known as the Union Theological Seminary Alumni Association of the Synod of North Carolina. In connection with this organization the members of the association enjoyed a most delightful social evening. Dinner was served at Hotel Iredell, and was served in most attractive manner, and heartily enjoyed by 64 alumni. Mr. Geo. W. Watts, a newspaper reporter, the last two being especially invited guests. D., president of the Union Seminary, and also a North Carolina alumnus of that institution, added much to the pleasure of the occasion after dinner a delightful social hour was spent in the parlor in connection with the organization of the Alumni Association, during which time many reminiscences of college life were recalled.

The special order of the night was the consideration of Synod's home missions. Rev. Mr. Smith, chairman of the committee on home missions, presided, and addresses were made by Rev. R. F. Campbell, D. D., of Asheville, and Rev. W. D. Morton, D. D., of Rocky Mount. There is a large amount of home mission territory in the Presbyteries which these ministers represent, Asheville and Albemarle.

They made strong pleas for more money in order to carry on more effectively the work of the church in the places where churches and preachers are so much needed. The report read by Mr. Smith showed that during the past year Presbyterial and Synodical collections combined amounted to $26,483.
