The Power of Personal Work

Rev. Dr. George W. McDaniel Draws an Important Lesson From The Story of Christ and Woman at The Well.

Dr. George W. McDaniel was greeted by a large audience at the First Baptist Church last night. The opening exercises were again led by Dr. E. E. Bonar in the absence of Dr. Hulsten, who is still indisposed and could not attend the meeting.

He spoke of the great physical endurance of Christ and that in this he excelled all, and that it was not the burden he carried upon his shoulders that wearied him but his great burden he carried upon his heart, the sins of the world, and that he was always anxious and ready to relieve the needs of the soul.

The theme of the sermon was personal work and in emphasizing some of the qualifications necessary for doing it, he mentioned first, Conviction of Sin, which he said was like a clinched fist dealing blows in the face of God; that it was necessary that we come back to our belief in its reality and its ruinous consequences.

The second qualification was conviction about the truth. He emphasized faith in the Word of God as an indispensable qualification for personal work; that the spiritual power of the individual could be measured by his belief in the Word of God.

The third qualification he mentioned was conviction as to Christ's ability to save. Salvation, he said, was not a process. The way to the cross should be a path often trodden by Christians. Souls are saved by vital connection with Christ and his power as exerted in connection with personal effort.

Here he drew a most striking comparison and illustration of a most distinguished lady singer who came to Richmond. She possessed many charms and rare qualifications in the control of her voice, but some one said there was one thing lacking which was soul power.

The last qualification mentioned as necessary for personal work was consecration. He said no one could object to being approached by another who came to them in sympathy.

Dr. McDaniel appealed to all who would engage in personal work to rise and quite a large number responded. It is evident that the meeting is to be run upon a high standard of evangelistic effort, entirely free from sensationalism and wholly upon the scriptural method of spiritual force and power.

The meetings are preceded by a prayer meeting at 7:30 p. m. Preaching service at 8 p. m.

Salisbury, N. C., March 4.—Much interest throughout North Carolina centers on the meeting called for in this city tomorrow by Representative Morton, of Wilmington, to take steps and outline a campaign to "put the state democracy in the hands of leaders who will be conservative," etc.

It has been published that Hon. Cyrus B. Watson will address the meeting. Retired Business Man Is In Favor of New Theory

One of the most interesting statements made recently concerning the much discussed Cooper theory, that has spread over the country during the past year, is made by E. H. Lambert, a retired business man, whose home is at 115 Francis Street, Everett, Mass.

Mr. Lambert has this to say in connection with Cooper and his medicine: "Some time ago I read an article about this man Cooper, in which he claimed that stomach trouble was directly responsible for most ill health. He went on to say that, although his medicine did nothing but get the stomach in sound condition, it would, in many cases, remove kidney and liver trouble and various other ailments. He argued from this that the stomach was the main cause of sickness, and stated that the success he has had with his medicines was due entirely to this fact."

"I am now fully convinced that this theory is correct, and believe Cooper has a really remarkable medicine, judging from my own experience."

Many Physicians insist that there is a peculiar type of Dyspepsia which may well be called "Coffee Drinker's Dyspepsia" because the caffeine in coffee tends to congest the stomach and liver and prevent the release of the natural fluids used to digest food. "I have been a coffee user for years, and about two years ago, got into a very serious condition of dyspepsia and indigestion. It seemed to me I would fly to pieces. I was so nervous that at the least noise I was distressed, and many times could not straighten myself up because of the pain. "My physician told me I must not eat any heavy or strong food and ordered a diet, giving me some medicine. I followed directions carefully, but kept on using coffee and did not get any better. Last winter my husband, who was away on business, had Postum Cereal served to him in the family where he boarded. "He liked it so well that when he came home he brought some with him. We began using it and I found it most excellent. While I drank it my stomach never bothered me in the least, and I got over my nervous troubles. When the Postum was all gone we returned to coffee, then my stomach began to hurt me as before and the nervous conditions came on again. "That showed me exactly what was the cause of the whole trouble, so I quit drinking coffee altogether and kept on using Postum. "The old troubles left again and I have never had any trouble since."
