Pretty Home Wedding This Afternoon.

A quiet, but pretty home wedding this afternoon will be that of Miss Minnie Belle Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Miller, to Mr. Otis Kerr Asbury, of Richmond, Va., which will be celebrated at 5 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, on Elizabeth Heights. The invited guests include only immediate relatives and a few intimate friends, no invitations having been issued in the city. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. Dr. W. M. Kincaid, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Directly after their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Kerr will give the young couple an informal reception, after which they will leave for Washington and Baltimore on their bridal trip.

The wedding plans are simple though effective. The parlor, reception hall, dining room and sitting room, the rooms which will be open, will be in white and green, the color scheme being carried out in a parasol, ferns, smilax, sweet peas and carnations. The parlor, where the ceremony will be performed, will be lighted with candles, as will the other rooms.

The bride will wear a going-away gown of dark blue with hat of the same color and she will carry a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Her sister and maid of honor, Miss Hattie Miller, who will be her only attendant, will wear a hand-embroidered French batiste and will carry pink roses.

Little Miss Mary Sanders Howell, who will be ring bearer, will wear white batiste with pink ribbons. She will carry the ring on a silver tray embedded in a huge bunch of sweet peas. The groom's only attendant will be his brother and best man, Mr. Harry Asbury. The wedding march will be played by Miss Martha Howell.

Little Miss Howell will lead the procession, followed by the maid of honor, preceding the bride on the arm of her father, meeting the groom and his best man at the altar.

German Last Night.

The German at the Colonial Club last night, the last preceding the Lenten season, was a very pleasant event. The couples and stags in attendance made up a congenial crowd. The floor was in fine shape and the music by the Richardson orchestra was splendid. Those dancing were: Miss Lucy Robertson with Mr. Herbert Irwin; Miss Ethel Flagg with Mr. Fred Nash; Miss Alda Oliver with Mr. Tom Oliver; Miss Nona Van Landingham with Mr. Thomas Ross; Miss Helen Rhyne, of Mount Holly, with Mr. Eugene Reilly; Miss Alice Kinyoun, of Washington, with Mr. R. S. Johnston; Miss Leoline Ebergrade with Mr. C. A. Mees; Miss Bertha Leonard with Mr. J. S. Marshall; Miss Sarah Hargrave with Mr. E. J. Creighton; Miss Mary Brockebrough with Mr. J. A. Braswell; Miss Lois Conrad, of Danville, Va., with Mr. W. H. Meigs, Jr.; Stages—Messrs. Addison, Brenner, E. H. Grace, Allen, Milliron, Harvey Moore, Henry Eddy, Richard Reid, and Robin Brennan. The chaperones were: Mr. and Mrs. Osmond Barringer and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Lambeth.

Woman's Club Meeting.

The Woman's Club will meet with the literature department at the library tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. There was some confusion about this meeting. The year book of the club announced the meeting yesterday morning, but this was a mistake, as the general meetings on the seventh page of the year book announces the March meeting on the fifth.

To Miss Halley.

Mr. and Mrs. John Putnam Swan's heart party on Wednesday evening was a pretty compliment to Miss Laura Halley, of Charlotte, N. C., who has been their guest for the past three weeks.

This is one of the many delightful affairs which have been given in Miss Halley's honor during her stay in Atlanta.

Mrs. Swan's apartment in The Colonial was beautifully decorated for the occasion, the color scheme being red.

Miss Gypsy Morris led in the dancing which followed the game.

Mrs. Charles H. Sampson, who is a finished musician, played several delightful selections on the piano.

A dainty salad course was served. The first ladies' prize, a gold hat pin, with amethyst setting, was won by Miss Sampson; the second, a gold picture frame, by Mrs. Elliot; the first gentlemen's, a pocketknife, was won by Mr. Sampson, and Mr. Elliot won the booby.

Miss Halley was presented a beautiful hat pin by her hostess as honor guest.

The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Manning, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Farrell, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Sampson, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Gavan, and Mrs. W. L. Elliot, Mrs. George F. Rutzler, Mrs. S. L. Mays, Miss Gypsy Morris, Miss Laura Halley, Mr. Charles Payne, Mr. Oscar Littleton, Jr., Mr. W. H. Smead and Mr. William Cunningham.—Atlanta Journal.

Mr. E. J. Parrish and bride, nee Lowe, have returned to the city after their bridal trip in the north. They are at home with Mrs. L. V. Lowe, on West Seventh street, Mrs. Parrish's mother.

Mr. L. B. Johnson has gone to Atlanta, Montgomery and other cities in the interest of the interstate commerce commission. He will be absent ten days or longer.

Mr. J. R. Caudle returned this morning from Rockingham where he was called on account of the illness of his cousin, Mr. Jessie Williams. He left Mr. Williams greatly improved.

Investment Company Organized by Women

An investment company, all the incorporators of which are women, has been organized in Charlotte, the papers of incorporation being filed in the office of the clerk of the superior court today.

The title of the corporation is the Henricmore Investment Company, and the incorporators are Mesdames Celeste Dodd Craig, Lela Lind, Bird Henry and Minnie Whittemore.

The authorized capital is $25,000, with $5,000 paid in. The purpose of the corporation is to buy and sell lands and do other kinds of business generally done by a land and investment company.

The company will have offices in Charlotte, but just where has not yet been decided.

Dr. Wiley And J. B. Duke Pass Through to Great Falls

Dr. W. Gil Wiley, of New York, president of the Southern Power Company, and Mr. James B. Duke, who is largely interested as a stockholder in the company, passed through the city this morning on their way to Great Falls, S. S., where the company is developing 40,000 horse-power. They were joined here by Messrs. W. S. Lee, Jr., vice president and chief engineer of the company, and Messrs. E. A. Smith and A. J. Draper, of the Smith-Draper Manufacturing Company. The party occupied Mr. Duke's private car.

DEATH OF MR. GREEN.

Business Man Cut Down Suddenly With Heart Trouble.

Mr. Charles Green died quite suddenly last night in his apartments at the Central Hotel of acute heart trouble. Mr. Green has been suffering severely for several weeks as a result of a shock received while on a railroad journey, but it was a grievous surprise to his friends when the end came shortly after 11 o'clock.

Funeral services are being conducted at the undertaking establishment of J. M. Harry & Co., on North Tryon street, Rev. Harris Mallinkrodt officiating, this afternoon at 4 p. m. and the remains will be taken north over the Southern Railroad this evening for interment at Greenwick, Prince Edward county, Virginia.

Mr. Green was in his 62d year, and was a native of Savannah, Ga. For the past seven years he has represented the American Dye Wood Co. of New York, in this section, making Charlotte his headquarters. He is survived by a widow, who was Miss Helen Small, of Laurel, Del., and by two daughters by his first wife.

Mr. Green was a devout communicant of St. Peter's Episcopal church, and one who lived his religion in his daily walk and conversation. He will be sadly missed by the hosts of friends he has won during his residence in the city. His bereaved wife and daughters have the sympathy of the entire community.

ASH WEDNESDAY.

Mr. Mallinkrodt Begins Services at St. Peter's.

Ash Wednesday was marked at St. Peter's church this morning by morning prayer, litany, penitential office and sermon. Mr. Mallinkrodt chose the 16th verse of the 2nd chapter of the prophecy of Joel as his text and spoke chiefly of the duties incumbent upon those who keep Lent. This evening at 8 o'clock evening service will be read and a sermon delivered.

The services for the remainder of the week are as follows:

Thursday, 4 p. m., evening prayer and address.

Friday, 10 a. m., litany.

Friday, 4:30 p. m., evening prayer and address on "The Boy Joseph."

Saturday, 4:30 p. m., evening prayer and address.

WORKING FOR MR. MOORE.

Conference of His Friends Held to Map Out Campaign.

A meeting of a number of the friends of Mr. C. C. Moore was held last night to map out a campaign to urge his candidacy for the position of Commissioner of Agriculture.

Mr. Moore's friends feel very sure of victory, but there will be no let-up in their efforts until the nomination is declared.

COLLIDES WITH AUTO.

Boy on Bicycle Runs Into Machine Near the Square.

A collision between a bicycle and an automobile near the Square this afternoon created some excitement. The bicycle was ridden by a messenger boy, and he was speeding along looking at the workmen on the street force, and ran square into an automobile, which had stopped.

The boy was not hurt, but his wheel was badly battered up. The automobile was not damaged in the least.

MISS MELLON HURT.

Her Horse Throws Her Against a Telephone Pole.

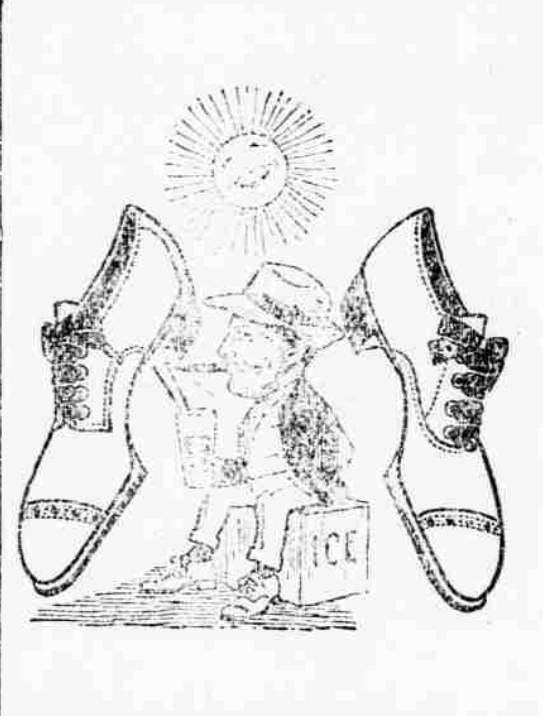

Yesterday afternoon while horseback riding on Poplar street Miss Mary Nell Mellon, the young daughter of Mrs. Ed. Mellon, was thrown from her mount against a telephone pole and was slightly hurt about the face.

Miss Mellon was carried to the office of Dr. Misenheimer, where she was quickly revived.

Union Presbyterian Prayermeeting.

There will be a union prayermeeting of all the Presbyterian churches of the city at the Second Presbyterian church this evening. Rev. Wm. Black will tell of the progress of synodical home missions. There will be no collection and all members of the denomination are asked to come out.

Mr. G. B. Thornton, special agent of the Southern Fire Insurance Company, of Lynchburg, Va., is in town.

MRS. JACKSON MEETS THE RONEY BOYS

Brilliant Little Songsters Delight Audiences at the Selwyn—Masterful Tone Work and Picturesque Costumes.

An interpretation of the beautiful words, "The little children * * * of such is the Kingdom of heaven," which fell from the lips of Him who spake as never man spake—an interpretation and an illustration of this divinely inspired sentence was the concert of the Roney Boys' Concert in the Selwyn banquet hall last night.

In their artless ways, in their purity of face, in their untainted glow of health, in their unaffected boyishness, in the sincerity of their smile, in the silvery bell-tone of their voices they seemed to throw a fresh meaning into the words of Him who was Himself once the Child of Nazareth, and whose clear, sweet voice often have rung out above the hum of Joseph's saw and plane, as he played in the shavings that littered the floor of that olden time carpenter shop. Indeed, these little thrush-throated warblers, in the clean, white of their sailor costumes, looked for all the world like five cherubs upspringing from a drift of summer cloud.

Charlotte for a decade almost is indebted to the genius of Mr. Henry B. Roney, of Chicago, for an annual visit from his boys. Though the boyish faces change from year to year, and the voices too—for this great is the Creator's versatility—the boys and girls are always equally welcome. And homie they were in their Highland Scottish plaidies, each costume historically correct, Masters Emmett Duval's representing the clan of McLaughlin; Earl Spesshardt's the Stuarts; Tommy Dyer's the victorian or dress plaid of the Stuarts, (and Queen Victoria's favorite); Fred Geisler's the McDougalds and Harry Pearson the Gordons. A lassie, coming through the rye, could not have greeted much less, if she had met one of these boys, ladies.

The adaptability to difficult classic or to airy and popular tune of these children's voices is remarkable. Their trainer is a master in this and he is an artist in his selection of costume, military, cotta and cassock, Mexican and the others. All the lads did bravely and Fred Geisler is a little master of the trombone.

After the matinee Mrs. Stonewall Jackson was one of those who came forward to compliment the boys and thank them for the enjoyment they had furnished her. They were deeply interested to meet the wife of the great general whose grave they recently visited at Lexington.

Mr. Roney has suffered the amputation of a limb since he was last here, having accidentally shot himself with a pistol at his summer home in the pines of Northern Michigan. He walks with a limp as a regrettable result of this accident.

The concerts here were for the benefit of the Alexander Rescue Home.

FUNERAL OF MR. C. DOWD

Services Were Held at St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

The funeral of Mr. Clement Dowd was held yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock from St. Peter's Episcopal church, and a large concourse of relatives and friends gathered to pay this last tribute to the dead.

The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Harris Mallinkrodt, the rector, assisted by Rev. E. A. Osborn. The pallbearers were the vestrymen of the church, Messrs. Heriot Clarkson, T. J. Davis, G. G. Scott, James Ker, Earnest Fields, J. H. Ham, W. A. Avant, T. W. Crews and W. P. Johnson.

The floral designs were beautiful, among them being a lovely pillow, sent by the vestrymen of the church; two crosses, one from the Sunday school teachers and the other from St. Agnes' Guild; an anchor of white flowers from the Charlotte News force; an anchor of pink sweet peas; a star of La France roses; a spray of American Beauty roses, etc.

Mr. C. C. Moore Will Speak To The Farmers Saturday

The regular monthly meeting of the cotton growers of Mecklenburg county will be held at the court house Saturday morning, and it promises to be a banner meeting.

There will be several features of it of especial interest to the farmers of the county in view of which a large attendance is expected.

Mr. C. C. Moore, ex-president of the North Carolina division of the Southern Cotton Association, will be present to tell about his trip to the Dallas convention.

Mr. Moore took a prominent part in the discussions at the convention. He is a member of the executive committee, which is composed of thirty-two of the best known farmers in the southern states, and consequently kept in close touch with the business of the convention.

This meeting will be the last before the farmers begin preparing the ground for cotton planting. It is probable that some action will be taken in regard to acreage, amount of fertilizer to be used and other things about the planting of the 1908 crop.

STOLEN MULES RECOVERED.

The Thief Trades One Off, and Leaves the Other in the Woods at Grover.

Just $20 was the amount made by the thief who stole two mules belonging to Mr. James Jordan, of Providence, on Saturday afternoon from a back lot on East Trade street.

The mules have been recovered, but as yet the thief remains securely at large.

Mr. Jordan returned last night from Grover, S. C., where he located both his mules. One mule was found in the possession of Mr. Dan Lockett, who traded a horse for the mule on Sunday afternoon, giving $20 to boot. The other mule and the horse, secured from Mr. Lockett, were found hitched in the woods near Grover.

Mr. Lockett got his horse back, but he is still out his $20, which possibly will keep him from trading again on Sunday. The trade netted the thief the only profit realized from the theft.

The man who stole the mules was whites, and gave the name of Wilson, but further than this nothing more is known of him.

Mr. Jordan's two mules will be sent from Grover today on the train. The mules were not damaged in any way, and Mr. Jordan is to be congratulated on his clever detective work in running down his property, even if he did not catch the thief.

TRAIN PORTER IN TROUBLE.

Sam Crowder, a Negro, is Charged Seducing a Small Girl.

Sam Crowder, a negro, who is a porter on the Seaboard road running from here to Monroe, was this morning tried before Squire Hilton on the charge of seducing Julia Williams, a small negro girl about 13 or 14 years of age.

Crowder was arrested last night by Constable J. H. Orr just as he was about to start out on his run, and the conductor and train crew, it is said, did everything in their power to keep the officer from getting his prisoner.

Crowder was tried on three charges. On the first and latter charges he was bound over under a $220 bond, and in the last proceeding in which the magistrate had final jurisdiction, he appealed and a fine $55 bond was required. The three bonds aggregate $280.

RIP VAN WINKLE.

Mr. Henry Blount Delights Audience With His Impersonation.

Mr. Henry Blount gave an impersonation of Rip Van Winkle in the lecture room of Tenth Avenue Presbyterian church last night to an audience well light as large as the one on the previous evening. Mr. Lawrence, of this city, who heard him, declared afterward that, barring the lack of scenery and stage setting, it was as good as Joseph Jefferson. The audience was delighted with it.

Mr. Blount returned to Wilson today, stopping on the way at Trinity College to lecture. It is to be hoped that Charlotte will hear him again some time in his masterpiece, "Beyond the Alps Lies Italy." Mr. Blount is always a drawing card and some of the many organizations of the city would do well to utilize him thus.

COMMISSIONERS ADJOURN.

Many Complaints as to Assessments Heard.

The county commissioners yesterday afternoon completed a two days' session and adjourned. The only business coming before the board was the complaints from parties that their property had been assessed too high. Many of these assessments were reduced, they having been found to be higher than they should, but a greater number were left as they were.
