Mr. Boyer Begins Tryon St. Revival

The morning service at Tryon Street Methodist church yesterday morning was the first of the series of meetings to be conducted there for some days to ge in which all the Methodists of Charlotte will unite, as well as other denominations who feel so inclined The service yesterday was conducted by the pastor, Rev. H. K. Boyer, but the meeting will be largely under the direction of Rev. Frank Siler, presiding elder, who will do the most of the preaching.

In the preliminary service the name. of seven new members were read out joining by certificate, nearly all o whom came from other states. The paster read the parable of the sower from Lnke and announced as his subject, "Do you care for souls? "Hundreds," said the speaker, "will say. 'Of course we care for souls, The onestion is an unreasonable one. Yes sends on our hearts, equal to the burden of other things weighing us down every day? The language of the Psalmist David would be appropriate here, when he said, 'No man careth for my soul, but we do not feel that exaression in this age as did the writer of eld, shut in the cave, Important-as for my soul, or he would come to us e talk about soals; he would invite us o church.' With the feeling that no one cares, they drift away, away away. Not all but half, perhaps two thirds, are not disposed to come uness asked to come, unless some one professing to know God goes to then personally, I would there were an REGISTRARS AND easier way to reach men, but I know of not way save personal work and

We practice ere conducted from sanity, and I would that we may have a deep and quiet awakening here in

Mr. Boyer spoke encouragement to those who were timid about personal work. He said christians should be dents of the Baptist right with God. They must be willing -worn, win and encourage souls.

"Some will ask, 'Am I responsible for A. B.? Yes, many are lost becaus the right man did not approach them of Mr. J. M. Adams as to their souls. God wake us to this
