In the first inning Virginia crossed the home plate, while Carolina scored one each in the second and third, this being the only scores made.

THE TRUTH ABOUT KIDNEY TROUBLE (PHYSICAL WEAKNESS.)

When there is a pale, pasty complexion that persists in spite of diet and careful living, or where there is physical weakness that likewise resists the usual treatment, the kidneys are to be suspected.

Food often does people with kidney disease very little good.

Instead of storing in the system the albumen, starches and sugars that our food releases the inflamed kidneys deflect them, and tests disclose them in the eliminations unused.

The patient feels weak and weaker, and as the kidneys are not sensitive there is usually no pain, and there appears to be no cause for continued weakness.

In such cases a test for albumen may disclose a strong percentage of the strength of the food in the eliminations unused, but as albumen can be seen and is only detected through chemical tests, the patient, unless he is in the hands of a physician, often has no line on his difficulty, and thousands of such cases grow unwittingly into the supposed chronic, incurable stage.

In these cases Fulton's Renal Compound acts definitely, but quite slowly, for the inflammation is usually of considerable standing and permanence.

As in the other cases of inflammation of the kidneys Medical Works have nothing but diet and symptomatic treatment, both of which have proven futile in these chronic cases.

As Fulton's Renal Compound reduces the inflammation, the albumen of the urine is gradually decreasing and recovery slow but finite in about 87 per cent of all cases.

IN MEMORIAM. J. H. Garrison.

Whereas the Great Spirit of our Heavenly Father, the Ruler and Preserver of the universe, who doth all things well, did see fit, on March 31st, 1908, to send the Angel of Death, to the Hunting Grounds of Charlotte, there to hover around the wigwag of our deceased brother, J. H. Garrison, and summoned his soul from this toilsome, troublesome, and brief life to that happy hunting ground above, there to bask in the smiles of the Great Spirit throughout the endless ages of eternity, therefore, be it resolved,

1st. That under this afflictive dispensation of the Great Spirit we all feel that our beloved order has sustained a loss of an efficient chief, and that there has been a stump made vacant in our order that will never again be filled, for in all his walks of life he was as wise as a serpent and harmless as a dove, and in all his intercourse with his fellowmen he practiced the principle of our beloved order, freedom, friendship and charity.

2nd. That we the chiefs and members of Pochontas Tribe, No. 29, Improved Order of Red Men, doth hereby extend our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family and relatives of our deceased brother, and commend them to the care of the Great Sachem, who presides over all nations, kindreds and people, who's eyes never slumber nor sleep.

3rd. May each and every one so live that when they too shall be called upon to land their frail bark beyond life's sea, that they may be permitted to assemble with their loved ones around that great council fire above that burneth forever and ever in righteousness.

4th. That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of our tribe and a copy sent the speaking papers of the hunting ground, and also a copy to the family of our deceased brother.

C. M. BERRYHILL, For Committee.

To-day's Markets

New York, April 7.—Although Liverpool came no lower than due and reported sales of 8,000 bales, our market opened 3 to 4 points down on overnight selling orders due to yesterday's decline and has been reactionary all day.

Selling of a large block of May around noon caused a further depression of the old crop positions. October was not so weak and the whole list stood the liquidation pretty well considering the lack of outside speculation.

The weather map was favorable. Receipts at the gulf points more liberal and the news generally rather favored the bears. Reports from the dry goods districts were somewhat pessimistic.

The cotton yarn market has gone from bad to worse. The market seems to be pretty well sold out at the moment, and a rally of 15 points would seem to be in order.

J. S. BACHE & CO.

Heyward & Clark's Letter. J. S. Bache & Co.'s Letter.

New Orleans, La., April 7.—Liverpool fully comes up to yesterday's decline on our side; futures are 5 down, spot 7 lower. Sales 8,000.

Indifference and neglect are the principal reasons for the decline now that actual adverse cotton facts are probably discounted.

This utter lack of confidence and of speculative enterprise is particularly harmful now that with the approach of Easter time, chances for support by doings in actual cotton are greatly lessened.

It is thought that after Easter the demand for actual cotton will improve, but meanwhile the bears seem to have it all their own way.

The markets have to work through two dull weeks, during which bad weather alone appears to be a possible bullish agent. Were it not for the fact that the rings are short and that declines now can only come from fresh selling day by day the markets might give way more rapidly.

We opened slightly lower but other markets broke badly and invited selling here which brought prices about 9 points down. Weather conditions during the past 24 hours were generally favorable. Indications point to a change. Cooler weather and showers are probable for the central and western states tomorrow and in the eastern belt by Thursday. The spot market is reported as dull. Only a little scattered buying. Lower to sell some say by an eighth.

HAYWARD & CLARK. Carpenter, Baggott & Co.'s Letter.

New York, April 7.—Taking the foreign market as a criterion there was no reason for the extreme weakness locally which carried the old crop options into new low ground for the season in the early session.

However, the selling from New Orleans, Liverpool and the local crowd was too much for a market without any outside support or bull leadership and it gave way easily during the first hour. Buying to cover was about the only support noticeable. The south was said to be a heavy seller of the new crop, while ring pressure was directed principally against the old crop positions.

Notwithstanding the decline in the future market, interior holders of spots show no disposition whatever to get tight on the market, this increasing premiums for the balance of their product. We feel that the decline has proceeded further than conditions, present and prospective justify, and we believe when this fact becomes more generally accepted the market will gradually work higher.
