The Graham-Clark Wedding.
"Forest Home," the country place of Maj. and Mrs. William A. Graham, in Lincoln county, was the scene yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock of a beautiful marriage ceremony when Miss Alice Caldwell Graham became the bride of Mr. Montague Graham Clark.

A wealth of the fairest, purest flowers of the springtide had transformed into a bow of loveliness—most suggestive of the name of "Forest Home"—this charming place so widely known for hospitality and good cheer. The west parlor, where the wedding ceremony took place, was exquisitely beautiful with its masses of white flowers and delicate traceries of green. Under an arch of green, from which was suspended white wedding bells, the young couple stood to take the vows which made them man and wife.

As Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Miss Julia Alexander, the bridal party entered as follows: Groomsman, Messrs. William A. Graham, Jr., and Thomas Sadler; bridesmaids, Misses Carrie and Ellen Graham; dame of honor, Mrs. Percival Hall; the groom with his best man, the bride with her father, Maj. Wm. A. Graham.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. W. Bennett, of Lincolnton; and only near relatives and intimate friends were invited to be present. The bride was exceedingly handsome in white chiffon taffeta, real lace and diamonds; her veil was caught with a sprig of orange blossoms, and her flowers were bride's roses. The dame of honor wore pink mousseline and carried white carnations. The bridesmaids were gowned in white silk, and their flowers were pink carnations. After the ceremony congratulations were tendered the happy couple, and an elaborate luncheon was then served in the dining room, which was most beautiful in its decorations of pink and white. Many and costly gifts attested the affection and esteem of a large circle of relatives and friends. The bride, who is one of the most beautiful of North Carolina's daughters, is admired by all for her many charming traits of heart and mind. The groom is a young man of sterling worth and well worthy of the bride he has won.

Those who attended the wedding from Charlotte were: Misses Violet and Julia Alexander, Lucy Robertson, Anna Morrison and Minnie Moore, Mrs. Eugene Graham, Mrs. George Graham and Dr. J. P. Matheson.
