

Great Crowd Will Witness Game Between Davidson and Univ. of North Carolina

Tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 the referee will blow his whistle and there will be started one of the best football games Charlotte delects of the sport will have a chance to witness on the local grounds this season. At that time Davidson and the University of North Carolina will line up for their annual game and with a promise of fair weather, the indications at present are that an enormous crowd will turn out.

Both the team managers are in the city making arrangements for the game and both give the assurance that the student body of both schools will send large representations to cheer the men on to victory. The whole student body at Davidson is preparing to come down.

The grounds have been laid off at the baseball park and the goal posts erected and everything is in readiness.

Up to the present time there has been practically no betting on the results, as the difference in weight is so great, and the public at large is not familiar enough with the new rules to be able to make a safe forecast as to the outcome.

Tickets were placed on sale yesterday afternoon at Jordan's and Woodall & Sheppard's drug stores, and there has been a good demand for them ever since they went on sale. The general admission price will be 50 cents.

When the teams line up there will be something like forty-five pounds difference in the weight with the odds in favor of the university. Davidson is playing a team that will weigh in the neighborhood of 190 pounds with one that will hardly average 145. Last year under the near-revised rules, the result would have been a foregone conclusion, as the weight of the University would have completely swamped the lighter men. This year it is different, though even now there seems a very little chance for the lighter team to win.

To a certain extent this will be caused by the fact that the University line is exceptionally heavy, aggressive and mostly composed of seasoned men, while the Davidson line is light and there is a good sprinkling of raw meat in it. In the game that the Carolina boys have played this season, almost in every case the line has held their opponents long enough for the backfield to get away with the play and this has not been the case with the Presbyterians.

The general opinion is that if the Davidson line can keep Carolina's fast men from striking into the play before it gets started, there is some chance of the lighter team coming out of the struggle with their colors flying. Whether or not that can be done of course remains to be seen.

As this is the first game to be played here under the new rules there will without a doubt, be a large crowd out to witness the sport, and those who think the game has been so changed that even a perfect lady could play it with impunity are scheduled to receive the shock of their young lives, for as long as there is a game played in which twenty live, red-blooded, energetic American citizens are allowed to go against each other in a test of skill and muscle, there will always be the accompanying thrills of daring and strenuous effort. The fast, long run, the sensational forward pass and the short diving body tackle, (with one foot on the ground) and the occasional mass plays will all serve to furnish that element of excitement that was cut out when the 5 yards in three downs, the tandem play, and the flying tackle were eliminated.

In the years past Charlotte has been the hoodoo of the Davidson team, it seeming as if it were an impossibility for the Presbyterians to win any of the games, whether football or baseball, played on the local grounds. This year there will be a different record for each game that they will play will be their best one. With the coaching of "Coach" F. M. Simmons, there has been instilled into the teams representing the little college, a spirit of do or die for the school, and there will not be a minute, aye, a second in the two halves—no four quarters—of play that will not be hard fought right up to the last minute. The Carolina aggregation is one of the strongest in the state, with the possible exception of A. & M. and the "Carolina Spirit" is a thing that is boasted of by the residents of the state when the subjects of the state who nthe subject was never a time when they quit fighting. In the game with Kentucky they put up one of the hardest fights that the Kentuckians ever had. From the first minute of the first quarter to the final in the last, all the men were on their toes and in action.

There are quite a crowd of men in Charlotte who claim the University as their alma mater, and they are out whooping things up for the game. The number of students to come down from Davidson will about even stand in reference in the number of alumnae in the city, however, and the rooting will be about equally divided.

It is understood that the college girls are going to be there in bunches and root for their respective teams. Naturally the Presbyterian school will give Davidson the largest percentage of the noise from their division of the grandstand, but in both schools there are staunch supporters of the University, and the feminine element to the rooting at a football game has always made a difference in the final score.

was in 1905, when the score was 6 to 0 in favor of the university.

The Carolina team is remarkable this season chiefly for its weight. The line formation appears to be as solid as Gibraltar, and it will be found a hard matter to break through such a superb defense as the Carolina team has developed. Coach Brides has expressed himself as being satisfied with the defensive work of the team, and will devote himself henceforth to the building up of a strong offense. He has declared that he has never seen such fighting upon the local field between scrum and varsity as has been witnessed the past few days.

The season is too young yet to pass final judgment upon the white and blue football aggregation, but there is apparently no reason why the university should not develop this year the best team she has had in years.

The thirteen veterans who intended to get Virginia's scalp last Thanksgiving, but who unfortunately did not get the chance, are back and eager to put on their war paint. These are: Captain Thompson, all South Atlantic guard; ex-captain "Ichabod" Garrett, all South Atlantic tackle two years ago; Harry Hedgepath, right tackle; "Mike" Spindler, who is Garrett's understudy; Big McLain, right guard; Ames Brown, center; Fleet Williams, Bob Winston and Manning Venable, ends; the only and original Porter, Ruffin and Belk, backfield. Hedgepath and Williams will be tried in the backfield.

The new material is all to the mustard and then some. Spencer, one of the best men on A. and M.'s great team of 1909, is on the lineup, and is making good with a rush. Ross, who also played on the 1908 team of A. and M. was here for a while, but left last week. It is thought that he will register up at the University of Virginia. In him, Carolina has lost a good man. "Babe" Parker, a brother of the 1907 center; Abernathy of Oak Ridge; Stevens, of Florida; Schaffner, of Webb's school and Vanderrill; Chambers, of Woodberry Forest, and Young, of V. M. I. are all likely looking fellows, who are making some of the old men get down and hustle for their jobs.

Then a number of last year's scrubs are out again. Among these are: Wood and Blalock, end; E. C. McLain, half-back; Rich, half back two years ago; Crutchfield and Beckwell, centers; Wakely and Elder, who were varsity subs.

Practically all of last year's men have returned, and are working for their old places. Bob Winston is going through the line for long end. Winston made more touchdowns last season than any other man on the Davidson team, and was considered by Coach Brides to be the finest of the season. Captain Thompson is holding down the position of guard in a manner leaving nothing to be desired, his two hundred and twenty pounds being a serious obstacle to any aspirant for honors in going through Carolina's line. By his side, the captain of last year's team, Garrett, is playing tackle with the vigor that made him famous in earlier years. Abernathy, a new man, who hails from Mecklenburg, and weighs about 190, is doing good work at right tackle, and is also being tried out in the backfield, his bull dog like stubbornness coming in very handy when a gain is seriously needed through the line. Calmes, another new man, should be mentioned as of the new material that has decidedly made good.

Coach Brides is highly pleased with the outlook. Some of the new men look particularly good to him. He is confident of turning out a winner. The new rules, he thinks, will make the game more open, but otherwise the changes will not be as radical as expected. He is not at all dismayed by the defeat of his team last Saturday in Lexington, Ky., by the heavier team of the University of Kentucky. The writers in all of the papers reporting the game say that Carolina received the rawest deal from the umpire that has ever been handed out to any Southern college. Carolina was penalized, in all, over 150 yards, by the referee, while Kentucky was penalized a little over 30 yards.

The probable line-up in the game Saturday in Charlotte against Davidson will be:

Winston and Venable, or Spindler, Garret and Abernathy, or Young, ends.

Thompson and Parker, or McLain, guards.

Brown, center.

Belk, quarterback.

Porter and Calmes, or Ruffin, half-backs.

Spencer, fullback.

Chapel Hill's Argument.
Special to The News.
Chapel Hill, Oct. 14.—Who will win in Charlotte's struggle, Davidson or Carolina? This is the question that the Chapel Hill boys hope to see answered in their favor, as is attested by the hard work done on the local gridiron. Coach Brides is putting the men through a gruelling system of training every afternoon, and with the present material, he should turn out a team that will not only defeat Davidson next Saturday, but also revenge itself on Virginia's eleven on Thanksgiving Day in Richmond.

Although the University team is much the heavier, the Davidson bunch is reputed to be fast, and these encounters in past years have not been lacking in excitement. The last two games between these two institutions resulted in a nothing to nothing score. In fact, the last time either college scored on the other

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Need Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Brookfield, Mo.—"Two years ago I was unable to do any kind of work and only weighed 118 pounds. My trouble dated back to the time that women may expect nature to bring on them the Change of Life. I got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it made me feel much better, and I have continued its use. I am very grateful to you for the good health I am now enjoying."—Mrs. SARAH BROOKFIELD, 414 S. Livingston Street, Brookfield, Mo.

The Change of Life is the most critical period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease and pain.

Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs.

For 30 years it has been curing women from the worst forms of female ills—inflammation of the womb, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, and nervous prostration.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

Max Miller Wins From John Drake

In a rather sensational wrestling match at the Auditorium, Max Miller succeeded, by his superior strength, in putting John Drake's shoulders to the floor two out of three falls and was declared the winner.

Both men are nearer in the heavy-weight class than in the middle, Miller being a perfect giant and Drake something of a tower of strength himself.

The first fall went to Miller on a half-Nelson and body scissors in 21 minutes and 25 seconds.

Drake won the second fall in the short time of 9 minutes and 40 1/2 seconds on hammerlock and leg scissors. The third fall went to the victor in 28 minutes after one of the most sensational bunches of plays and holds ever seen on the local mat.

There was nothing exceptionally brilliant about either of the men's work, as the match quickly developed into a test of strength, rather than one of skill. Both men relied wholly on their muscle to win for them in this reason Drake lost the match. The scarcity of legitimate wrestling holds was one of the most notable features of the match. The body scissors, half and full Nelson and the toe hold being about all the holds that could be legally called. There were a half dozen times that Miller could have put his opponent's shoulders to the floor had he known more about the game, but on that side of the argument Drake was far the superior. He squirmed out of all kinds of seemingly impossible places and on every occasion proved the effectiveness of his toe hold. The match was highly entertaining and furnished all the thrills that the audience demanded. There was a large and enthusiastic crowd in the hall and never once was it quiet enough to let the referee's voice be heard. The only near-feature of the excitement was when Miller inadvertently secured the strange hold when he was trying for a chin bar and the crowd became rather wild for a few minutes. When the hold was secured, Drake simply relaxed to let the referee and his opponent know that the hold was secured as he could not do much talking with a hand over his mouth and nose. The crowd seemed to think the hold was malicious and that Drake had been injured and was rather sudden in its condemnation of the iron-man. As soon as he realized that he had the strange, Miller immediately released his man and the match went on, neither of the men the worse for the experience.

Second Game of Big Series
By Associated Press.
New York, Oct. 14.—With the shock of the first clash over, the Highlanders and Giants got into their uniforms today for the second game in the series for the city championship, both determined to win.

Indications were that American League Park, the scene of the second battle, would find its capacity taxed as perhaps never before.

The chances of each team were still discussed by the fans.

"Ford can come back and show them yet," was the confident talk of some Highlander partisans who, however, deplored yesterday's disabling of Sweetser, the team's star catcher, by foul tip from Chief Myers bat. "Matty" will repeat, at least once, perhaps twice, and it's all over but the shouting," was the rejoinder of the Giants' rooters.

On all sides it seemed to be agreed that yesterday's game, if not the greatest exhibition ever of scientific baseball, was a thriller and one that reflected credit on both winners and losers.

Annual Meeting Charlotte Club

Greater Charlotte Club Will Meet To-night at Selwyn to Elect President—Address by Mr. W. D. Moody of Chicago.

The annual meeting of the Greater Charlotte Club takes place tonight at 8:30 o'clock in the Selwyn assembly hall. The occasion will be made unusually interesting through the addition of Mr. Walter D. Moody, general manager of the Chicago Association of Commerce, who has responded to an invitation from the club and who will discuss the problems of industrial development, a subject which is very interesting to the citizens of enterprising Charlotte.

The Greater Charlotte Club has selected Mr. Moody as the right man to serve the present purpose because of his wide experience in successfully conducting enterprises in connection with the growth and development of a city. His theories have been well tested by practical demonstration.

Mr. Moody is at the head of the largest commercial organization in America, numbering in all over 4,000 members. His administration of the affairs of the Chicago association of commerce has been very successful and to him is accredited in a great measure the present membership of the organization. He has obtained for himself a well-deserved reputation for doing things and doing them right.

Mr. Moody possesses the rare faculty of holding the attention of his audience. His style is very unusually attractive and he presents some facts which are well worth listening to and those who listen to him are convinced that he knows what he is talking about. In his particular line Mr. Moody has no superior and those who know him best recognize his accomplishments as of no ordinary character. He will give an insight into some of the methods whereby the men of the great city of Chicago have contributed to the progress of the industries and commerce of that city.

One very important feature which the Greater Charlotte Club expects will result from the coming of Mr. Moody is that through him and the position he occupies closer trade relations may be secured between Charlotte and vicinity and the northwest.

The election of a new president for the club is sure to add some additional interest to the meeting tonight. Mr. W. S. Lee has positively declined to permit his name to be used in connection with a re-election and so a change is unavoidable.

Several men have been named as good ones for the place and just who will receive the honor is still in doubt.

The Greater Charlotte Club has grown to such proportions and has become a factor of such importance in the affairs of the city that the man who fills the place of president must be a man of ability and one who is ready to devote some time, thought and energy to the work, if the present standard is to be upheld. Whoever is elected may consider that he has been paid a high compliment in being the choice of this body of progressive business men.

The meeting tonight promises to be largely attended, more so than any previous one the club has ever held. A number are coming from other places to hear Mr. Moody.

His Resolution

If you're waking, call me early, call me early, wife dear,
For the holidays are coming and I would not tarry here;
I know too well the nervous strain that I shall have to bear,
If I linger till the Christmas bells are jingling in the air.

If you're waking, call me early, for I faint would get me hence
To some far off heathen country that is modest of expense;
I would hie me to some island in un-navigable seas
Where no breath of Christmas customs ever stirs the wandering breeze.

I am loth to leave you, wife, but I haven't got the price
So you'll wake and call me early, I must skip out in a trice;
I have no insane intention to remain with you until
I am swamped, undone, snowed under, by a Christmas present bill.

YOUR RESOLUTION
should be, that when I need any insurance, I will get it at the place that is headquarters for it. It is kept on tap there all the time.

MAKING GOOD

There is no way of making lasting friends like "Making Good"; and Dr. Pierce's medicines well exemplify this, and their friends, after more than two decades of popularity are numbered by the hundreds of thousands. They have "made good" and they have not made drunkards. A good, honest square-deal medicine of known composition is

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It still enjoys an immense sale, while most of the preparations that have come into prominence in the earlier period of its popularity have "gone by the board" and are never more heard of. There must be some reason for this long-time popularity and that is to be found in its superior merits. When once given a fair trial for weak stomach, or for liver and blood affections, its superior curative qualities are soon manifest; hence it has survived and grown in popular favor, while scores of less meritorious articles have suddenly flashed into favor for a brief period and then been as soon forgotten.

For a torpid liver with its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, perhaps dizziness, foul breath, nasty coated tongue, with bitter taste, loss of appetite, with distress after eating, nervousness and debility, nothing is as good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Expecting it to prove a "cure-all." It is only advised for woman's special ailments.

It makes weak women strong, sick women will. Less advertised than some preparations sold for like purposes, its sterling curative virtues still maintain its position in the front ranks, where it stood over two decades ago.

As an invigorating tonic and strengthening nerve it is unequalled. It won't satisfy those who want "booze," for there is not a drop of alcohol in it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the original Little Liver Pills, although the first pill of their kind in the market, still lead, and when once tried are ever afterwards in favor. Easy to take as candy.
