

IN TAR HEEL SOCIAL CIRCLES

Raleigh

Special to Sunday News.
 Raleigh, Nov. 26.—One of the most delightful social events given hereabouts in a great while was a birthday party Tuesday evening in honor of the birthday of Mr. Joseph Seawell, assistant clerk to the North Carolina supreme court. Mr. Seawell lives eight miles in the country on a splendid plantation "all his very own" and invite a company of his town friends went out there that night to help him celebrate. A merry company of ladies and gentlemen they were. There was a sumptuous birthday supper with its huge turkey and all the other things that go to round up a complete dinner. Afterward in the great dining hall there was music and the most delightful merriment until far into the night. Miss Ebbie Roberts at the piano, Mr. Kimpro Jones with his violin and Mrs. Horace Dowell and other vocalists in splendid voice discoursed music that was all that could be desired.

Wednesday evening at Central Methodist church there was a surprise marriage of much interest when Miss Eva Prigden became the bride of Mr. W. T. Wrenn, the ceremony being by Rev. A. D. Wilcox, the pastor. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Henry Prigden, of this city and the bridegroom is the father of The Wake County Savings bank.

Thursday afternoon of last week there was a brilliant reception that attracted probably 250 callers was that by Mrs. W. A. Hoke, wife of Associate Justice Hoke of the supreme court, complimentary to Mrs. Platt D. Walker. The apartments were decorated with yellow chrysanthemums, bamboo and ferns. There was special music by Mr. Owen and Miss Wilson of St. Mary's School besides a full orchestra. Receiving with Mrs. Hoke and the guest of honor were Mrs. W. W. Kitchen, Mrs. Sallie Clark, Mrs. James S. Manning, Mrs. R. F. Hoke, Mrs. Alex Webb, Mrs. Benahan Cameron.

Misses Susan and Mary Johnson are at home again after more than a year spent in foreign travel. They visited many European countries and spent quite a while in Egypt. They are being most heartily welcomed back to Raleigh.

Mrs. J. Y. Joyner was the hostess for the Tuesday afternoon club which had quite an interesting literary program including a paper by Mrs. Franklin McNeill on "Penguins; Its Relation to Thackeray's Own Life"; a sketch, "Carteblanche" by Mrs. J. S. Wynne; "Major Pendennis and Col. Newcomb" by Mrs. W. B. Crawford and a reading, "The Death of Col. Newcomb" by Mrs. J. S. Wynne.

Dr. Joel Whitaker, prominent physician of this city, and Miss Melissa Myers were married at Logansport, Ind., Tuesday. The bride is a daughter of Judge Q. A. Myers, of the Indiana supreme court. Miss Myers has visited in Raleigh a number of times and is quite popular here. Dr. and Mrs. Whitaker are at home in this city after December 10.

The Johnsonian Book Club had for its hostess this week Mrs. William J. Andrews. The subject was "Mexico" and there entered into the features of the program the inspection of quite an interesting collection of Mexican curios and relics collected by Mr. Andrews while he was secretary to Minister Ramsom.

In honor of Miss Flora Wilson and Miss Sophie Casey, of Washington, D. C., who were the guests of Mrs. William J. Andrews the past week, there were a number of smart social events. Mrs. R. W. Winston entertained at luncheon in their honor; Colonel and Mrs. Benahan Cameron gave a dinner in their honor for which besides the guests of honor there were Kitchin, Mr. and Mrs. J. Andrews, present Governor and Mrs. W. W. Judge and Mrs. Platt D. Walker; Mr. Will Vass, Mr. T. H. Hay, Rev. Geo. W. Lay and Miss Maxwell, of Florida. Col. and Mrs. J. E. Pogue gave an automobile ride over the city that was shared by quite a party of invited guests. It preceded the luncheon by Mrs. R. W. Winston.

Mrs. J. W. Hunter was hostess Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. Dalton on Park avenue for a seven-course luncheon that was most enjoyable.

The guests were: Mrs. W. R. Engel, Mrs. S. A. Ashe, Jr., Mrs. Richard Bushong, Mrs. Geo. W. Folk, Mrs. Frank M. Stronacher, Mrs. James O. Litchford, Mrs. A. B. Andrews, Mrs. Mrs. Chas. Gambell, Jr., Mrs. W. F. West, Mrs. A. H. Arrington, Miss Lillie Skinner, Mrs. Murray Allen, Mrs. Allen Rogers, Mrs. J. B. Hill, Mrs. W. N. H. Smith.

Salisbury

Special to Sunday News.
 Salisbury, N. C., Nov. 26.—Mrs. John Whitehead gave a most charming card party on Tuesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Claude Ramsey. The decorations were elaborate and white chrysanthemums and Christmas berries. The guests of honor, Mesdames Ramsay and Doe, were presented with lovely flowers. Mrs. Edwin Gregory made the highest score at bridge. A sumptuous repast was served at six o'clock to the following friends of the hostess: Mesdames Robbins, Fletcher, Mitchell, Overman, Gregory, Murdock, Snider, Quinn, Mauney, Clement, Strachan, James H. Ramsay.

Mrs. Robert Lee Mauney on Thursday invited a large number of her friends to meet her charming house guest, Miss Sloan of Reasville. Staples Mauney, the young son of the hostess opened the front door and invited the guests in. They were graciously welcomed by Mrs. Mauney, becomingly dressed in a black lace gown, and Miss Sloan in a beautiful dress of wisteria chiffon with baby Irish lace, the decorations in the room were lovely Richmond roses, in the hall were tall palms and ferns and in the library pink and white carnations. Six tables for bridge had been arranged and as soon as the drawing for partners was over the players at once began the game. After two hours of progressive bridge the prizes were awarded. The first prize, a pair of silk hose went to Mrs. W. J. Neave and the "love all" a dainty gold pin to Mrs. Dixon. Miss Sloan, as guest of honor, received a beautiful automobile and a doll wedding was most attractive. A doll wedding was a unique feature of the bazaar. There was the bride, in her lovely white satin gown with vest and orange blossoms, carrying a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. The groom with his best man in full dress, the minister in gown with ritual, with white ribbon markers, and a bride with a number of blue chiffon with bunches of pink roses, four groomsmen in regulation dress, stiff collars, cuffs, buttons, neckties, with stick pins, etc., two lovely flower girls dressed in pink with bunches of daisies, in fact everything as far as a real wedding. The dolls were brought from Paris, and were dressed in the latest fashions. The dolls were cut for the first prize, a book, Jack winning in the cutting. The consolation prize, presented to Miss Rosamond Clark, was a game of domino. At the conclusion of the game a dainty course of refreshments, consisting of ice cream, cake and candies were served. The guests departed declaring the hospitality of the Brown home unexcelled and wishing Miss Katherine many returns of the happy occasion.

Miss Daisy Echever, field secretary of the World-Wide Philatelic Union, will be the guest of the Philatelic Union of Western Avenue Baptist church, Statesville, next Tuesday and will address the ladies of the town Tuesday night at the church. Miss Echever is an entertaining speaker, is working in the interest of a great movement, and will doubtless have a good audience here. Mr. Luther M. Tesh, field secretary of the Baraca Union, is expected to speak in Statesville soon.

The ladies of the Billingsley Hospital Association are planning to give a big bazaar, beginning December 8th, for the benefit of the hospital, which is a charitable institution. Many articles, fancy and otherwise, suitable for Christmas gifts, are being collected for the bazaar. Refreshments will be served.

Mr. J. L. Connell left this week for Limestone, Tenn., to attend the marriage of a sister. Mrs. C. E. Raynal will attend the marriage of her brother, Mr. Grier Morrison, to Miss Pearl Gardner at Shelby next week.

Mrs. C. W. Deaver, formerly of Statesville, is here from Breward to be the guest of Mesdames M. R. Adams and S. B. Miller for ten days. She will go to her home in Florida, to join Mr. Deaver, who is traveling in that state.

Mrs. Lawrence McLoud, of Asheville, spent the Thanksgiving holidays here with her daughters at Statesville Female college.

Mrs. W. A. Lutz and Mrs. W. H. Dinglefoef were called to Winston the first of the week on account of the illness of a relative.

Mrs. S. N. Peters and children, of Greensboro, are guests of Mrs. Peters' parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Webb, Mr. Peters spent Thursday here.

Mrs. Fred Long and child, of Catawba and Mrs. B. C. Griffin, and child, of Marshville, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Cochran and sons, of Charlotte, have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Sloan since Thursday.

Statesville

Special to The News.
 Statesville, Nov. 26.—Mr. Frank W. Kurfees, of Statesville, and Miss Mana Short, a prominent young lady of Fremont, Wayne county, were married at Fremont Wednesday night. The couple arrived in Statesville Thursday afternoon and were guests of the groom's relatives until today, when they left for Greensboro, where they will make their home. Mr. Kurfees is principal of the Bessemer graded school at Greensboro. A six o'clock dinner was given Thursday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Kurfees at the home of the groom's father, Mr. J. L. Kurfees.

The members of the MacDowell music club were entertained last afternoon by Mrs. Wm. Wallace, president of the club, at her attractive home on Walnut street.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Anderson were at home to their friends Thursday evening. Decidedly the most enjoyable annual reception ever given at Statesville Female college was that of Friday night, when a large number of young people were received and delightfully entertained by the young ladies of the institution. More elaborate preparations for the event had been made this year and the affair was a success in every particular. The guests, especially the young men, were highly pleased with the manner in which they were entertained. There were a number of out-of-town guests present, including several Davidson college students. All during the evening the guests were served with delicious punch, and toward the close of the evening a salad course, with mints, sandwiches and hot coffee, was served.

Miss Annie Colvert was hostess to 25 of her friends Thursday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Colvert. Progressive Travel was the game of the occasion and the prize, a beautiful copy of the North Carolina Toast, was awarded Mrs. Josse Brown, while the consolation fell to Mrs. L. K. Lazenby. Seasonable refreshments were served by the hostess and assisted by Miss Katherine and in the early twilight the guests departed for their homes with another happy afternoon stored among memory's treasures.

Little Miss Katherine Brown entertained about 50 of her friends Saturday afternoon at the attractive suburban home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Brown, the event being in celebration of her birthday. Progressive domino was played and Frank and Jack Bowles cut for the first prize, a book, Jack winning in the cutting. The consolation prize, presented to Miss Rosamond Clark, was a game of domino. At the conclusion of the game a dainty course of refreshments, consisting of ice cream, cake and candies were served. The guests departed declaring the hospitality of the Brown home unexcelled and wishing Miss Katherine many returns of the happy occasion.

The out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Ashby, of Albemarle; Mrs. C. A. Little, of Robinson; Mrs. Miss Mabel Little, of Hickory, N. C.; Miss Carrie Lentz, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Lentz, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Henson, and Dr. Hoffman, of Mt. Holly, N. C.; Miss Lucile Butler, of Lexington, S. C.; Mr. John Love, of Gastonia, N. C.; Mrs. W. J. Eoger and Miss Mary Rhyme of Mt. Holly, N. C.; Miss Bessie Lentz, of Concord, N. C.; Mr. F. A. Henderson and Prof. W. H. Little, of Hickory, N. C.

Stole March on Parents.
 (From Baltimore Sun.)
 The parents and sisters of Miss Annie Moore, of Cheraw, S. C., who have been staying at the New Howard Hotel, were greatly surprised when the young lady announced to them that she had just been married, and as evidence produced a marriage license and S. C. Whitaker, a medical student at the University of Maryland, the husband. His home is Enfield, N. C.

It all came about this way. Mrs. C. F. Moore, with Misses Annie, Ethel and Mamie Moore, her daughters, arrived at the hotel late Saturday morning. Miss Annie had known Mr. Whitaker and when he found that she was in the city they met several times. Sunday morning Mr. Moore was expected to arrive at Union station and Misses Ethel and Mamie arranged with the mother to go to meet their father. It was agreed to, but Miss Annie said she preferred to remain at the hotel. She had gotten out of sight, a taxicab was called and Mr. Whitaker and Miss Moore hurriedly went to the parsonage of Alsquith Street Presbyterian church, 1621 North Carolina street, where Rev. David T. Neely, the pastor, performed the ceremony.

They returned to the hotel and after several minutes father (a general southerner with a happy smile, and mother and sisters arrived all locked arm in arm.

The marriage was announced. There was some surprise, but the parental blessing was bestowed. Mr. Moore, his wife and the other two daughters left later for New York. Mr. and Mrs. Whitaker will remain in the city until June, when they will return to Enfield. Mr. Whitaker graduates this year.

Elwood-McFadyen.
 Waynesville, Nov. 26.—On Tuesday, Nov. 22, at the home of the bride, Rinaldi, Waynesville, N. C., Mary, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. McFadyen, was married to James Lawrence Elwood, of Anderson, Indiana, son of Mr. and Mrs. James N. Elwood, of Rochester, N. Y.

violation of the game law of Rowan county.

Rev. Byron Clark went to Wilmington to address the Y. M. C. A. on Sunday. The pulpit of the First Presbyterian church was most ably supplied by Dr. W. J. Martin, of Davidson college.

Lincolnton

Special to The Sunday News.
 Lincolnton, N. C., Nov. 26.—The marriage of Miss Florence Ermitrude Rhyne and Mr. Marcus Leopold Little was solemnized in the Evangelical Lutheran church Thursday afternoon at 5:30, and was one of the most beautiful ceremonies that has ever taken place in Lincolnton. The church had been beautifully decorated for the occasion and long before the appointed hour the church was crowded with eager spectators. The altar before which the bridal party assembled was a mass of beautiful and exquisitely arranged foliage with white and blue candles, the bridal colors. Just before the ceremony Schubert's Serenade and Flower song was beautifully rendered by Miss Butler on the violin, being accompanied by Miss Blanche Roberts. Following which a hymn solo, "Always," was sung by Mr. M. H. Coon.

The first notes of the Mendelssohn Wedding March caused all eyes to be set upon the attendants. As the stately strains of the wedding march began from the church vestibule up the central aisle and crossed in front of the altar and took positions on opposite sides. The groomsmen were Mr. P. C. Rhyme (brother of the bride) with Mr. V. M. Ransauer and Mr. R. L. Roseman, Jr., with Mr. F. A. Henderson. Then came the bridesmaid, Miss Carrie Lentz, a cousin of the bride, wearing white net over messaline with white picture hat and carried white carnations, and monsignor's gown. Then the maid of honor, Miss Kate Burgin, wearing light blue crepe de chine with pearl and dsatin trimming with black picture hat, and carrying white chrysanthemums.

The little flower children were next to enter. Miss Catherine Stowe, and Master Rhyme Little, niece and nephew of the bride and each carried a basket of blue and white violets. Following them came the bride and groom, together up the center aisle. The bride was beautifully costumed in a blue tailored traveling suit with hat, gloves and veil to match, carrying a shower bouquet of bride's roses and blue and white double violets.

At the altar the bridal party were met by the bride and groom's pastor, the Rev. R. A. Yoder, D. D., who most impressively pronounced a solemn but beautiful words of the ceremony which their hearts and lives were united.

During the ceremony Miss Butler rendered softly on the violin without accompaniment "Melody of Love."

The bride party left the church as the wedding march—Lohengrin—was being played. Drove to the station and was showered with rice and confetti as they rolled in.

The bride is one of the most accomplished ladies of the state, while the groom is a sterling young business man of Lincolnton.

The presents received were numerous and elaborate, showing popularity of both young people.

The out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Ashby, of Albemarle; Mrs. C. A. Little, of Robinson; Mrs. Miss Mabel Little, of Hickory, N. C.; Miss Carrie Lentz, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Lentz, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Henson, and Dr. Hoffman, of Mt. Holly, N. C.; Miss Lucile Butler, of Lexington, S. C.; Mr. John Love, of Gastonia, N. C.; Mrs. W. J. Eoger and Miss Mary Rhyme of Mt. Holly, N. C.; Miss Bessie Lentz, of Concord, N. C.; Mr. F. A. Henderson and Prof. W. H. Little, of Hickory, N. C.

Durham

Special to The News.
 Durham, N. C., Nov. 26.—The organization of a new club, to be known as the "Entre Nous club, devoted to bridge and chafing dish, is the last social announcement of the week.

The Trinity College social life has been quite enhanced by the present week, the sophomores setting a precedent in the entertainment of their class.

Junior receptions are considered the feature of the purely class functions of the college. But the sophomores this year were led to take this action because they have such an unusual class. President Ratcliffe presided over the seventy-three boys and four girls of the class and the toasts were exceedingly witty.

It was a great meeting and will find a lasting place in the college's social calendar it is said.

This is the off-week with the clubs, but the next will find the social life revived. All clubs have their regular meetings then.

Mrs. George A. Carr, who has been society editor of the Durham Daily Sun has resigned her work.

The paper will do its society works through its various staff men and women.

Announcements were received this morning from Bay City, Texas, telling of the surprise marriage of Miss Katrina Sears, of this city and Mr. William Garnett Perrow, of Seattle.

The wedding was solemnized Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. W. W. Whitted, in Bay City.

Mrs. Perrow is an attractive, unfailingly good girl of Durham and her marriage has large interest for everybody here.

Interest in the marriage of Mr. Henry Alexander Wise Happer, of this city, and Miss Lillian Ann Devert, of Harrisburg, Pa., was pronouncedly large when the accounts of it reached the local papers.

Mr. Happer is now living in Richmond. His mother and a brother still live in Durham, having spent the larger portion of their lives here.

High Point

Special to Sunday News.
 High Point, Nov. 26.—Thursday afternoon Mrs. Mac Cook was the pleasing hostess to the Entre Nous club at the residence of her sister, Mrs. Wm. Foster on Hamilton street. An added touch of brightness was given this charming home by an artistic use of autumn foliage and flowers. The tables for the game of 42 bore attractive markers and the score cards were pretty. The club prize was a silver powder box and was won alike by Mrs. John Tate and Mrs. Bayard Cummings. The visitors' prize was a gift copy of a late issue of the North Carolina Times and was won alike by Mrs. Arthur Lyon and Mrs. Halstead Tomlinson. In cutting Mesdames Tate and Tomlinson won. In serving the light luncheon the hostess was assisted by Mrs. Alvin Parker.

The same afternoon under the chairmanship of Miss Mary Alexander, the parliamentary law class of the Woman's club held their regular meeting at the visitors' rooms of the Commercial bank.

The Philomathean club met Friday afternoon with Mrs. J. Elwood Cox at her residence corner Green and Hamilton streets. Mrs. James B. Richardson was leader and made the program from American literature—studying for the year—most interesting and profitable, while the practical quotations given at roll call were of the richest nature.

Saturday afternoon Mrs. J. Carl Hill was hostess at a large 42 party given in honor of Mrs. W. Chas. Ido. The first half hour was spent in receiving and entertaining and in this the hostess was assisted by Mrs. Bayard Cummings who greeted guests at the door. Miss Hill who presented guests and made most happy by charming hospitality. The game was interesting and the scores high. Mrs. J. J. Faries won the prize, a brass candlestick. The hostess was presented with a pen and ink Japanese scene. A salad course was served to the thirty invited guests.

Mrs. Frank Edward Creelman and daughter, Mrs. Jonathan J. Jackson have issued a card of invitation to home to be given next Tuesday afternoon from 3:30 to 6:30 in compliment of Mrs. Edward R. Briggs. It will in every way be the biggest reception given in town in many a day and serves as a two-fold—the first formal opening of the elegant Creelman home, and the last formal party given this charming home guest before her departure for her old home in the north. It is hard to recall the name of any one who in social life and club life, and all broadening lines of betterment—say nothing of the sweet close ties of friendship's circle—who will be missed as much as Mrs. Briggs.

Monday afternoon the literature department of the Woman's club met with the chairman, Mrs. Charles L. Long and made out a most interesting program for the year on North Carolina literature. This is the baby department of the club but gives promise of much growth.

Tuesday afternoon the Philanthropic department held their regular meeting and made plans for an orster supper to be given next Tuesday for the benefit of the poor.

The board of lady managers of the hospital held a most helpful meeting Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. A. G. Dixon, the chairman, made an earnest plea for the work and submitted some splendid plans for extending the work. A larger amount of dues was turned in than former meeting. It was decided to make the next meeting a great rally, and to this effect Mrs. A. J. Owen, Miss Clara Cox and Miss I. Irwin Paylor were appointed a membership committee.

Of the many pretty compliments paid Mrs. Elwood Briggs none was prettier or dearer to the memory than the small bridge party given by Mrs. Edward Parker Tuesday.

Many rounds of this innocent game was played over which the daintiest of luncheons was served. The remembrances given the honoree was useful as well as beautiful.

The most enthusiastic meeting the Woman's club has ever had was held Wednesday afternoon at the Manly turers' club rooms. There was a very large attendance and reports from the five departments. Committees were appointed to visit school, select colors and motto for club. The Civic department had charge of the program.

Morrow-Sykes.
 The announcement of the marriage of Mr. Vance Sykes, a well known young man of this city and Miss Myrtle Morrow, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Morrow, of Mebane, will be received with distinct pleasure in this city, the home of the groom. The wedding transpired Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at Bethlehem church.

Curfees-Short.
 Fremont, N. C., Nov. 26.—On the night before Thanksgiving, Mr. Frank Warren Curfees, of Greensboro, was called to the Methodist church in which was beautifully decorated in green and white, numberless candles twinkling among masses of ferns, making a fitting setting for a lovely bride.

Stephens-Suggs.
 Apex, Nov. 26.—The first Baptist church at Apex was the scene of quiet localities on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, when Miss Dovie Suggs gave her hand in marriage to Dr. Romulus W. Stephens.

A large concourse of friends gathered to witness the wedding.

Wadesboro

Special to Sunday News.
 Wadesboro, Nov. 26.—The members of the Book Club met with Mrs. Jas. A. Hardison Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Books were exchanged and the evening passed off very pleasantly.

Mrs. H. B. Allen, of Greensboro, entertained the Tuesday Afternoon Club this week. After a very pleasant social hour the members with invited guests were served with refreshments.

Several young ladies and gentlemen of the town gave a play "Six Shards and one Plat" at the graded school auditorium Tuesday night. The characters were brought out well and the large audience enjoyed the evening very much. Dr. R. M. Huntley was on hand with some clever selections.

Perrow-Sears.
 Durham, Nov. 26.—Information reaches here from Bay City, Texas, that Miss Katrina Sears and Mr. W. G. Perrow were married at that place. It was a quiet affair, celebrated at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. W. W. Whitted. Miss Sears left here two weeks ago for the ostensible purpose of visiting her sister and the marriage comes as a surprise to her many friends here. The groom is also well known here, where at one time he worked for the Norfolk & Western.
