LOST-Heavy black overcoat from

(By THOMAS SHOTWELL)

New York, Nov. 26.-Underlying strength with no imprtant changes in the leaders but with sme specialties advanced left the stock market at the close of today' session about where it began. Dealings were on a very light scale. The bank statement showed a very small gain in reserves on the average but the actual statement showed a material loss in surplus reserve. The loan showed an increase of above $17,000,000 in the actual statement of business at the close of the week, compared with a $12,000,000 Increase shown in the average statement. This increase of leans is due chiefly to the transfer of such accounts from the trust companies to the banks because of the low price of money. Proof of this is furnished in a decrease of $13,000,000 in the loar item of the banks and trust companies not members of the clearing house. London was steady and professional Wall Street looked forward to a continuation of strength in the local mar-

In spite of an uprising in Mexico and a mutiny in the Brazilian navy the stock market held stubbornly firm this week. When those troubles were announced the bear party began selling rather freely, but failed to bring out any stock of importance They proved that the market is sold out and that the technical position demands an advance. The trouble in Mexico caused some selling of Mexican bonds and for a few days there was weakness in the stocks of the National Railway of Mexico. It is possible that the disturbance also caused hesitation in South ern Pacific, for that company has more than a thousand miles of track in Mexico. American Smelting stock was sold because of the Mexican trouble also, but only by professionals, and they started to get back their stock when they discovered that the plants of the company would not be interfered with, even if the trouble became Railroad men were much cheered by the speech of Chairman Knapp of the interstate commerce commission, in which he made clear his belief that an increase of rates should be permittedd. This has been understood among iniders for some time, but Chairman Knapp's address was the first public admission that the cdvance probably would be allowed.

Alone When Shaft Hhirls.

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 26,-Thomas E. Malin, owner and proprietor of the Shellpot Mills, sustained a broken arm, one ear was almost torn from his head and he was badly cut and bruised on the head and body when he was whirled around a shaft in his plant. He was adjusting a belt when his coat caught on the shaft and he was spun about until the garment was torn apart, releasing him, Malin was alone in the mill at the time, but he managed to telephone to his house at Shellpot and his wife and daughter hurried to his side and conveyed his home. Dr. B. R. Veasey reduced the fracture of the arm and with several stitches attached the torn ear to his head.

In the first place, this Presbyterian congregation worships in a temple, not a rectangular, steeple-capped edifice of the old type, but a structure It has already produced good fashioned by the brain and spirit of for its leavening infinence Stanford White, Dr. Parkhurst says that it was Stanford White's last and New Theatre came best work. Everything in it and about it is symmetrical and beautiful in the last degree of nicety. Nevertheless it is so simple that one must look at it in detail in order to discover its superiority. Now, Dr. Parkhurst was emphasizing yesterday yesterday the truth that man is only the instrument and God the creator, of every gift. This is a very trite statement nowadays, since we already know that no man can make for himself any talent; he can only cultivate the one talent, or the two talents of the ten talents which may have been given to him by the Almighty. No reference was made to Stanford White, who, as almost everybody knows, led an un- children, and it is safe to say churchly life and was slain by Harry Thaw, but the sermon was made elo- equally of adults and young quent by the fact that Stanford White ranging down to five or six years was written all over and about the edilage. I saw one little girl about fice in which it was delivered. Not Stanford White, the weak

It has not been many weeks since Mr. Rockefeller gave approximately four million dollars adidtional to the Institute of Medical Research which he established some years ago, and this may be considered as a contribution toward the well being of the whole community. The idea is to find ways and means of preventing contagious and pestilences of al sorts to the inhabitants of New York, and by consequence, of course, the people of other cities and places. Within a short time of this gift, another thing happened which, to my mind, is the finest illustration we have had of the general desire of the wel-to-do to share what they have with the poor. That was the throwing open of the New Theatre, which is undoubtedly the finest and best of the Metropolitan playhouses, to the East Siders for a performance of the "Blue Bird." The whole house was given over to these poor people at prices ranging from 10 cents to 50 cents, and the poor who availed themselves of the opportunity saw the same actors and the same mise en scene that the rich people see at prices many times greater than they had to pay. This inaugurated a feature of theatre-going in New York which will undoubt yld in New York which will undoubtedly be continued and extended; sooner or later of course, we shall have theatres and opera houses subsidized by the government just as they are in Europe. This New Theatre in itself is an out-To Cure Bone Felon Use
