

Yesterday In The Legislature

THE SENATE.

The senate met at 11 o'clock, Rev. Hight C. Moore, editor of the Biblical Recorder, offering prayer.

Senator Brash, of Wayne, was allowed to withdraw his bill relative to the speed of automobiles.

On motion of Senator Hobgood, of Guilford, the bill creating a commission form of government for Greensboro was recalled from the engrossing clerk's office and ordered sent to the house without engrossment.

Introduction of Bills.

Graham, of Orange: To provide for the payment of all appropriations during the session and for the redemption of bonds falling due January 1, 1913, by authorizing the state treasurer upon the approval of the council of state to borrow money or if satisfactory loans cannot be made to issue bonds not to exceed one million dollars. Referred to judiciary committee.

Lemmon, of Union: To amend the law relative to escapes. Revisal.

Reinhart, of Lincoln: To conserve the cattle supply of the state. Propositions and grievances.

Hurdle, of Caswell: Changing the pay of jurors in Caswell county. Judiciary.

Barham, of Wayne: Relative to the speed of automobiles and penalty for violation. Propositions and grievances.

Fisher, of Polk: Authorizing the commissioners of Polk to purchase land for a county home and issue bonds to pay for same. Judiciary.

Cobb, of Robeson: Changing the name of the Indians known as the Croatan to Cherokees and providing separate apartments for the insane in the insane asylum at Raleigh. Judiciary.

Haywire, of Surry: Revising the charter of Elkin, Counties, cities and towns.

Cobb, of Robeson: Establishing a recorder's court for Robeson county. Judiciary.

The joint resolutions relative to the death of Representative John L. Stuart, of Montgomery county, and in relation to canvassing the vote for state officers and the bill appointing justices of the peace in Hertford county were ratified.

The house bill creating the office of prosecuting attorney for the recorder's court at Reidsville was received and referred to the judiciary committee.

A report was received from the commissioner of labor and printing giving the salaries paid in his office; also a report giving salaries paid in the state auditor's office.

Bills relative to challenging jurors and for the relief of sub-tenants were reported unfavorably and on motion re-referred.

Unfavorable reports were made on bills relative to advance jury costs in justice courts and providing for a more effective indexing of deeds and other instruments.

A message was received from the governor giving the salaries paid in his office and also the salaries in the offices of the secretary of state, superintendent of public instruction and insurance commissioner. The governor recommended that these department reports be made in triplicate and one for each house of the general assembly. The governor's report was ordered printed.

Bills passed third reading as follows and were ordered sent to the house:

Providing for the re-registration of deeds in 10 counties; supplying records of grants in Moore county; establishing standard times in the state; amending the road law of Montgomery county; relative to working the public roads of Lincoln county; authorizing a bond issue for good roads in Youngsfield township, Franklin county.

Senator Martin, of Buncombe, offered a resolution that all bills reported unfavorably be on the table. Referred to committee on rules.

Invitations were accepted to attend a recital by pupils of the Blind Institute Friday night, January 20, and the sessions of the State Historical and Literary Society last evening.

The senate ordered that 250 copies of Senator Graham's bill relating to appropriations be printed.

The senate at 12:10 adjourned until 11 o'clock Friday.

THE HOUSE.

Representative Woodson, of Cleveland, offered the prayer when Speaker Dowd convened the house at 11 o'clock.

Petitions were sent up by Means, of Haywood, in regard to pensions and by Ray, of Macon, for change of Macon school districts.

For Constitutional Amendment.

Reports of committees being called the committee on constitutional amendments reported favorably the Stubbs resolution for calling a constitutional convention in May, 1913, provided the people so vote and it was made a special order for Wednesday, January 25.

The Koonce joint resolution for a legislative commission with full court powers to investigate the conduct of fire insurance companies in North Carolina came from the judiciary committee No. 1, with recommendation that it go to the committee on propositions and grievances, of which its author is chairman.

There was a motion that it go to the committee on insurance instead. This brought Koonce to his feet with a vigorous speech in which he took the position that a number of the members of the insurance committee are insurance men or interested one way or another in insurance matters and he feared they would be unduly influenced in passing on his bill. He said there is already a strong lobby at work against his resolution.

There came from Representative Woodson, of Cleveland, indignant resentment at Mr. Koonce's reference to possible bias on the part of insurance committeemen. He insisted that the resolution should go to a committee that has some actual knowledge of insurance conditions in this state. He impeached the knowledge of Mr. Koonce as to insurance matters, declaring after Koonce had replied to questions that he was not an insurance man but knew something of these matters and that he had license to practice law, that he never knew of a lawyer who had any practical knowledge of insurance matters. A number of members urged that the committee on insurance, yet to be appointed, be given the bill. Others contended that Mr. Koonce's position was well taken. On an aye and no vote the bill went to propositions and grievances.

There was favorable committee report on the bill by General Carr amending the charter of Trinity College so that that institution can hold more than two million dollars property, this being to enable the college to rebuild the administration building on a scale desired.

New Bills Introduced.

Rose, of Cumberland: Amend law as to terms of court in Cumberland. Also validate probates of certain decrees.

Ray, of Macon: For relief of Miss Maud Berry, court stenographer. Relating to pay of officers and witnesses in Macon; amend Macon stock law.

Marshall, of Surry: Authorize bonds by Elkin.

Kirkman, of Guilford: Prevent depredations by domestic fowls. Carr, of Durham: Provide salaries for Durham county officers.

Pitt, of Edgecombe: Relating to registration of automobiles.

Swain, of Washington: Amend charter of Plymouth; regulate hunting in Washington.

Carr, of Duplin: To regulate passenger rates.

Carr, of Durham: Regulate Confederate pensions.

Taylor, of Vance: Safeguard the agricultural building of the state.

Caviness, of Wilkes: Amend road law of Wilkes.

McArthur, of Robeson: Regulate practice of veterinary surgery.

Carter, of Randolph: Protect peace in Randolph, by conferring police powers on certain officers.

Coxe, of Randolph: Protect o'possums in Randolph.

Markham, of Pasquotank: Appoint a justice of the peace in Pasquotank.

Heigeman, of Watauga: Incorporate Blowing Rock and Lenoir Turnpike Company; also improve public roads of Lenoir; also incorporate Caldwell and West Turnpike Company.

McPhaul, of Robeson: Appoint W. M. Hedgcock justice of the peace in Robeson.

Nellum, or New Hanover: Regulate pay of justices of the peace in New Hanover; also issue bonds for roads in New Hanover county.

McPhaul, of Robeson: Appoint S. B. McNeill, justice of the peace in Robeson county.

Caudill, of Wilkes: Authorize commissioners of Wilkes to attach property.

Trullington, of Iredell: Giving corporation commission supervision over railroad scales.

Ewart, of Henderson: Raising age limit for working on roads; also authorize Henderson county to build bridge across the French Broad river; also to pension Sarah Shipley.

Message was received from the governor transmitting the report of the department of industries, the report of the insurance commissioner and also the report on pardons granted.

The following house bills passed third reading:

Amend dog law in Granville county; repeal law relating to throwing saw dust in Big Ivy creek; amend charter of Trinity College; validate election of justices of the peace in Alleghany county; amend charter of Buckhorn Academy; amend fishing law of Albemarle Sound; prevent detention of women in houses of prostitution; regulate pay of jurors and special veniremen in Stanly county; amend law relating to butchers keeping records in Pamlico county; also a resolution inviting the State Historical Society to meet in the house chamber last night; also senate bill appointing C. H. Harris and J. W. Robbins justices of the peace in Nash county.

The house at 12:45 adjourned until 11 o'clock Friday.

Traffic Manager Is Needed for City

Prominent Business Man Talks of The Advantages That Would Accrue to The City With a Traffic Manager.

In regard to the need of a traffic manager for the city, suggested by Mr. W. T. Corwith, of the Greater Charlotte Club, a number of citizens heard to express their views on the subject, are in favor of it.

Every manufacturer and shipper of goods in large quantities should be interested in the movement.

A gentleman who has given the matter a great deal of thought and study gave The News this morning a number of substantial reasons as to the advantages that would accrue to the business interests of the city:

"A successful traffic manager must of necessity by a man, having practical experience with, and technical knowledge of the intimate relation of transportation charges to commerce, and who will devote his entire time and thought to investigation and solution of traffic problems for the benefit of those manufacturers requiring his service.

"Classification of freight is an important factor in determining the freight charge and contains many valuable advantages for those who know, yet on account of being complicated, many shippers do not understand its provisions.

"The provisions in the different classifications at present existing, may not be uniform, being often higher in one than in the other and it requires an experienced man to discover the differences.

"The railroads charge the shipper according to the description on the bill of lading, and trade names by which the article is known to the shipper frequently aren't specified in their classification.

"The traffic manager studies the commodity and the classification, instructing the shipper how to pack and describe his goods to conform to their various provisions of classification and tariffs, thereby securing the lowest available freight charges.

"To a shipper a certain rate may not appear unreasonable, or more than the traffic will bear, yet a competitor located in another city, may enjoy a preferential rate that places his competitors at such a disadvantage as to exclude them from participating in a certain market or force them to equalize freight and thereby reduce their legitimate profit.

"Many shippers continue to equalize freight charges by making a freight allowance to their customers instead of securing a correct relative adjustment of the rates, because of difficulty and collectively shippers in large cities have been more active in their attention to freight rates, they now enjoy many advantages over small cities and these advantages have great weight with the prospective manufacturer seeking a location and frequently exceed the attractions of other inducements offered."

"There's a Reason"

Maybe This Is Worth Reading

I have built up my business from a one-typewriter desk-room proposition in another man's office, to where I now occupy my own office building filled up with hundreds and hundreds of all kinds of typewriters. I have personally looked after each typewriter, carbon paper, ribbon and every service that went from my office in past years, guaranteeing absolute satisfaction or money refunded. I am no "cheap-screw" wanting your money for nothing. I propose to continue my business for 1911 on the same high, square and fair business basis, and if you get anything from my office at any time not entirely satisfactory I will make it satisfactory. I make it a rule to never allow any customer to be displeased. I would appreciate any of your business for 1911.

Is Your Name There?

We're going to begin the New Series Saturday, the 7th, and the man, young or old, who hasn't sufficient ambition to make an effort to better his condition this new year ought to go west and "grow up with the country."

There's a lot of bums and other worthless ducks of all ages in every town—the greater the opportunity for the fellow of nerve, determination and character. You'll not be worth a "Hill of Beans," my boy, unless you save something. Save, sir, save while you're young and you'll have the wherewithal to do things. Until you start the ball you're naught but a worthless atom.

LISTEN TO ME, LISTEN NOW.

The Mutual B. & L. has no superior, and few if any equals as an aid to legitimate fortune and useful citizenship. If you've a grain of sense we can show it to you. Some folks haven't that grain, you know.

OUR NEW SERIES

starts January 7th, and, God helping, we shall make more joy, and gladness, and sunshine in 1911 than in any of our past 30 years of unparalleled success.
