IVEY'S

Social and Personal

By ADDIE WILLIAMS CALDWELL

The Day's Quotation.
Calamy is man's true touchstone.
—Montaigne and Fletcher.

Business may appear under the face of pain, losses and disappointment, but let him have patience and he will see them in their proper figure.—Addison.

Our estimate of a character always depends much on the manner in which the character affects our own interests and passions.—Macauley.

If you want to succeed in the world, you must make your own opportunity as you go on. You can depend on no greater ally than to sit by the roadside until some one comes along and invites you to ride with him to wealth or influence.
—John B. Gough.

Whist.
How after hour the cards were fairly shuffled
And fairly dealt, but still I got no hand.
The morning came, and with a mind unshuffled
I only said, "I do not understand."

Life is a game of whist. From unseen sources
The cards are shuffled and the hands are dealt;
Blind are our efforts to control the forces That though unseen, are no less strongly felt.

I do not like the way the cards are shuffled.
But you I like the game and want to play.
And through the long, long night will I unshuffled, Play what I get until the break of day.
—From "The Rhythms of Ironquill."

Reference on the Stage.
It is easy enough to see that the bill signed by Gov. Dix, prohibiting the presentation in any theatrical performance of living character representing the Divine Person, aims to prevent injury to the religious sus-ceptibilities of a good many people.
But it is also plain that if the bill just enacted had been in force five years ago it would have prevented the staging of the most worthy popular play of the decade. The case of "The Servant in the House" and of its author, "The Passing of the Third Floor Back," illustrates the difficulty of framing a censorship law that shall not begin by stultifying it self and end by proving ineffective.
It must have been either of these two plays, who found either of these two plays objectionable in subject or treatment. And yet, if the discent-ed few were to have invoked this new censorship law, it is by no means sure that the courts would have been with them. What is a "prosecution?" In neither of the plays in question is the name of the Divine Person employed. The method is one of suggestion, and once you enter on that vague field, who, under the law, is to say where suggestion ends and presentation begins?—New York Evening Post.

MISS VAUGHAN COMPLIMENTED

Atlanta Journal: "A lawn party was given Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Geddings, on Park street, by Mrs. S. R. Davies, in honor of her guest, Miss Vaughan, of Charlotte, N. C. About 40 young people were invited."

Hendrick Meeting Well Attended

For the third time Rev. E. E. Hendrick is with the people of the East Avenue Tabernacle. He began a 15-day meeting here yesterday morning.
The full houses which greeted him bear loud testimony to the accepta-bleness of his previous services. In the morning his message was from the granting of the fishing boat to the Master. His use of it and His return for its use. In the evening John 3:16 was effectively laid upon the hearts of the hearers under the headings, "God living, Christ saving, and Man believing. Services will be continued every afternoon at 8 o'clock and in the evening at 8:15.

Mr. Hendrick is an evangelist of exceptional power and influence. His services are in constant demand and he has held successful revivals in every section of the country. The meeting at East Avenue will continue for two weeks.
Excellent music by the church orchestra and choir is a feature of the services, at both of which there was a very large attendance yesterday.

Aldermen to Meet.
The board of aldermen will meet tonight at 8:30. Unfinished business in regard to permanent street improvements will be taken up.

Sweet Girl (affectionately)—Papa, you won't like me to leave you, would you?
Papa (fondly)—Indeed, I would not, my darling.
Sweet Girl—Well, then, I'll marry Mr. Poopchop. He is willing to live here.—New York Weekly.

Mrs. J. A. Rollins Died Yesterday

Mrs. Jeannette Ann Rollins Passed Away Yesterday Afternoon at St. Peter's Hospital After an Illness of Several Days.

Mrs. Jeannette Ann Rollins, wife of Mr. H. T. Rollins, died yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at St.
Peter's hospital where she had been for treatment for a period of several days. She had been critically ill for several days and wholly unconscious for two days preceding her death.

Mrs. Rollins was formerly Miss Jennie Ann Oliver and was the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Oliver of Harnett county. She was born in that county in 1851. Her husband is also a native of that county. They were married in July 4, 1875 and came to Charlotte shortly afterward.
They have resided here ever since.
Mr. Rollins is in the railroad postal service of the Seaboard Railroad. Beside her husband, Mrs. Rollins is survived by two sons, Messrs. Emmett and Harry B. Rollins.

Mr. G. M. Stephens of Jonesboro, a half brother, arrived Saturday in answer to a telegram announcing Mrs.
Rollins' serious illness.

The funeral will be conducted this afternoon at 5 o'clock from the residence, No. 811 North Tryon street by Rev. W. O. Goode, pastor of Brevard Street Methodist church, of which deceased was a member, assisted by Rev.
G. T. Rowe, with which she was formerly affiliated. Both she and her husband were charter members of Brevard Street Methodist church.

Mrs. Rollins was a woman of singularly fine character and was esteemed by a wide circle of friends, as a woman who exemplified the highest type of Christian womanhood.

The pall bearers at the funeral will be Messrs. James Ker, Jr., C. E. Hayes, C. W. Ramsay, I. W. Durham, L. A.
Misenheimer and M. F. Kroy.

Killed Yesterday by Seaboard Train

Nancy Samples, Aged Colored Woman Hit and Instantly Killed by Seaboard Freight Train Near Sardis Yesterday Morning.

Nancy Samples, an old colored woman, who lived in the 200 block of North Alexander street and who had wandered out to the Seaboard railroad tracks to Sardis station, was struck and instantly killed by a special freight train near that place yesterday morning at 11:19. She was struck about the waist by the wooden beam of the engine's pilot.

The woman was walking toward Sardis station and the train was coming toward the city. When she was first seen by Engineer Barrett she was about 100 yards distant from the train, walking on the south side of the track.
He pulled the whistle and watcher her cross over to the other side of the track, but clear of it by a good margin. She, however, strayed close to the track again and the engineer at once applied the brakes, bringing the train to a stop within half its length, but before she was struck by the beam of the engine's pilot.

The body was brought on to Charlotte to the undertaking establishment of J. M. Harry & Co., and Coroner Z. A. Hovis summoned a jury and held an inquest. It was thought then that she was a white woman. Coroner Hovis gave his opinion that the body was that of a mulatto woman and inquiry substantiated the coroner's opinion.

The body was then turned over to Coles & Smith, the colored undertakers, for burial. The old woman had wandered away from the home of a colored relative, on Alexander street, Saturday morning and search had been made for her in vain. She was said to be 82 years of age.

The coroner's jury was composed of Messrs. G. H. McGinn, William Johnston, R. E. Cochrane, W. E. Long, W.
M. Wallace and J. O. Thomas. Their verdict was that the woman came to her death as a result of her own negligence.

of two little twin girls I once heard of who thus addressed their mother:

of early Christians, poor things, who'd been thrown to a lot of lions and tigers who were devouring them."

THOMPSONS

PRIZE TO THE ONE TURNING IN MOST MONEY THIS WEEK

Fine Gold Watch Will be Given The Contestant Turning in the Most Money on Subscriptions Between Now And Saturday Night.

This Special Prize Has no Connection With the Final Result of the Contest But is For This Week's Work Only.

After today there is exactly one month until the close of The News' Pony Contest. One month more and it will all be history and some girl or boy will be the new owner of the beautiful Shetland Pony and Outfit and the Two Bicycles offered by The News as prizes.

In one month many things can happen. Those who are now ahead in the contest may be ever so much more ahead. Some one who is now in an obscure place in the list may have taken the lead with a walk-away. You can never tell just what the end will bring forth.

There is one thing certain, however, and that is that some one will win the Pony and Other Prizes and that that same one is going to have to work hard every day from now on until the close of the Contest. People are already asking, "Who do you think will win?" That is a question that many would like to know the answer to, but is one of those things that will remain a mystery until the 20th of July.

The only way to be certain of your standing is to work each day for subscriptions. Don't leave a single stone unturned in the hunt. Go after every one you know. And keep everlastingly at it.

Special Prize This Week.
For the benefit of any who did not see the announcement in yesterday's News in regard to the special prize for the best work this week, regardless of the result of the whole Contest, we will again state the particulars.

A fine gold watch, Elgin or Waltham movement, 20-year gold-filled case, to suit either girls or boys, will be given to the contestant who turns in the most money on subscriptions during the week, starting today and ending next Saturday night.

The votes do not have to be placed to your credit in the list of standings yet. When they are turned in coupons will be given the contestant good for the number of votes they are entitled to. These can be held back and voted at any time during the Contest.

The winner of the watch will be announced in The News on Monday following the close of the special offer and the watch will be awarded on Tuesday. The number of subscriptions secured by the winner will not be given out, for the benefit of those who are holding votes in reserve. The records of the Contest will show all turned in, the dates, etc., and at the close of the Contest, if any one wants to re-check their standings, the records will all be open to inspection.

This Special Prize gives every one an equal opportunity. No matter how much or how little you have already done, it is the work done this week that will win the watch. Subscriptions

MISS RUTH SOLOMON.

One of the most enterprising and hardest workers among the contestants, who has been leading the list for some time, until yesterday, and who is now a close second.

on which votes have already been issued and which are being held in reserve, do not count. It is for subscriptions actually turned in this week, accompanied by the money.

The list of standings will be published again tomorrow, and will include all votes deposited in this office up to 7 o'clock tonight.

Dr. Vines May Leave Asheville.
By Associated Press.
Asheville, June 19.—While the Rev.
W. M. Vines, pastor of the First Baptist church, this city, will make no statement relative to his call to the First Baptist church at St. Joseph, Mo., advice received from that city state that he will accept and that he will take large September 1.

His Reasons.
"Why is your friend always wishing people would go to a warm climate? He is very malicious, it seems."
"Not malicious at all. Merely the force of business habit. He's in the ice business."—Baltimore American.
