

"General" A. L. Smith

Colonel A. L. Smith, who has been for years in the service of the North Carolina National Guard was retired from the service, with an additional grade in rank in advance. According to the state law after an officer has served ten years he may retire with the additional rank "Col." Smith now ranks as a brigadier general. The commission was issued from Raleigh Tuesday.

The pipe for the river life is being shipped, and is arriving daily. It is being unloaded at, or beyond Hoskins.

Mile Of Chatham Car Line Is Now Completed

It is said that the Chatham car line will have over a mile of the line in working order by Saturday. The cars are of the storage battery type and will run without trolley. The power will be furnished by the Southern Power Company.

All men of the city interested in advertising are requested to meet at the Selwyn tonight at 8:30 to perfect an organization of the Charlotte ad-men.

Mrs. Van Landingham, Pres. General

North Carolina D. A. R. Will Present the Name of This Able Woman and Noted D. A. R. Leader for The Office of President General.

When the Continental Congress, D. A. R., meets next in Continental Hall, Washington, the state of North Carolina will present the name of one of its foremost women for the office of president-general—Mrs. John Van Landingham, of Charlotte.

The State Congress at its approaching meeting at Tarboro, will unanimously endorse Mrs. Van Landingham for the highest office in the D. A. R. National Society.

An undercurrent of enthusiasm for Mrs. Van Landingham to be elected president-general dating back several years, has burst into active zeal, and throughout North Carolina called meetings have been held, and are being held, so that each and every chapter of the state can endorse Mrs. Van Landingham for this high office. Her name will be presented at the state convention, with the unanimous endorsement of every chapter in the state.

The five Charlotte chapters have themselves given their enthusiastic endorsement of this gifted daughter for the leader of the D. A. R. hosts. Second to none in ability, of Geolliot type of mind, of wide reading, fine poise, dignified grace, commanding and handsome appearance; a wise parliamentarian and a charming diplomat, there is no woman in the Nation who would wear the robes of the high office with more ability or grace.

Mrs. Van Landingham served her state for several terms at State Institute. She has been regent of Mecklenburg Chapter, the first chapter organized in the state, and regarded as the oracle in D. A. R. matters.

The National Society, would honor itself in honoring Mrs. Van Landingham.

Finlayson Co. to Double Capital

One of Charlotte's Great Mfg. Concerns Enters Upon a New Year of Marked Success—Will Double Capital And Enlarge Business.

The E. V. Finlayson Manufacturing Company, manufacturers of pants, held their first annual stockholders' meeting at their office, No. 211 West Fourth street, Tuesday, October 24.

The old board of directors was re-elected for the coming year, Mr. Finlayson was re-elected president and treasurer, and Mr. W. H. McCabe, Jr., secretary.

The annual report shows that the company has had a very successful year. They unanimously decided to double their capital stock in order to do a much larger amount of business.

This firm employs fourteen salesmen, who cover twenty-five states. They have a plant that will turn out six hundred pair of men's pants daily and their business for the past year has warranted their running every day.

Aviator Whitmer

Mr. Andrews is a son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Andrews. He was born and reared in Charlotte, but for a short while has been living in Greensboro. Mr. Whitmer thinks Mr. Andrews will make quite a success in the aviation business.

The Machine. The bi-plane which will take Mr. Whitmer into Charlotte's upper strata, is about the same proportions of the McCurdy machine, but is stronger built in that the wings have an underlining. McCurdy's machine had only a top cover.

The machine has a 60-horsepower engine, and weighs 550 pounds. Mr. Whitmer and several other Curtiss men were busily at work yesterday examining the machine, making sure of every wire, every part of the "bird."

Mr. Whitmer is an unmarried man. His parents are living. He talking of the risk the aeronaut takes, said: "We never think of that. We don't anticipate anything going wrong. Of course one must be very careful. I never attempt a flight with the wind against me. I am not that foolhardy. With a machine in perfect order, and good men on the machine, and a man who knows how to manage it, it is as safe as an auto."

Speaking of local conditions, Mr. Whitmer said: "This is the worst field to soar in I have ever seen. The ground is very rough, the fences and the trees are close in, and the wind seems to have a cinch on that southwest corner. That's what got McCurdy when he tried to fly here. If I can get up out of here, above the tree tops, and those winds from that corner don't strike me I am all right. After I get up high—out of the wind—I'm all right also."

"I will go 2,000 feet or more, if the weather is nice—that is if the wind is right."

The hour of flight, it seems, is governed by the wind. Mr. Whitmer, as announced on the News bulletin this morning, expected to "soar" any time between 12 m. and 5 p. m. The best time, he said, is a little after 4 o'clock.

Charlotte Bonds Deposited in N. Y.

City Treasurer Arthur H. Wearn and City Attorney Brenizer have arrived safely in New York with the $463,000 of city bonds which the city acquired recently from the American Trust Company, who bought the water bonds and the school bonds.

Mr. Wearn and Mr. Brenizer went at once to the National Bank of New York, which the American Trust Company does business, and turned over their burden to the bank authorities.

Although Mr. Wearn is missing the gala affair of the season here—the county fair—he will probably be able to stand the disappointment after he has watched the sights along Broadway for a day or two. One of the city clerks predicts that when he returns he will have the correct minutes in short hand of all the events he witnessed in the metropolis and will be able to read them off to any of the city boards on demand.

Mr. R. H. Holland Died Last Night

A telegram to Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Holland, last night, announced the sad news of the death of their son, Mr. Ralph Holland, in New York City. As distressing as the news was it was not wholly unexpected as Mr. Holland had been in bad health for a year. His host of friends in Charlotte had hoped that he would, in time, be restored, but the hope was in vain.

Mr. Holland was born in Charlotte. He was 40 years of age. He attended Baird's school and afterwards went to Davidson College, and later to the University of North Carolina. His law study began at the University of North Carolina. He was graduated from Columbia University. He was assistant professor of law at Columbia. While holding this position he was coach, in law, to Richard Croker's son. Mr. Holland was prominently known in the legal and social world of New York, especially in southern society circles in which he was exceedingly popular. His career was watched with interest and pride by his host of friends in Charlotte. As handsome as an Apollo, brilliant in mind and magnetic in personality he was well fitted to succeed even in as great a city as New York.

Mr. Holland married Miss Virginia Hewitt, of New York, who survives him, also his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Holland, his sister, Miss Alice Holland and two brothers, Mr. Hazel Holland, of Camden, S. C., and Mr. Algie Holland, of Sumter, S. C. The funeral arrangements have not been made.

Electrical Men Plan Big Time

"Sons of Jove" Rejuvenation to Wake Up the Old Town Saturday Night—The Jovian Congress Made Up of Jolly Good Fellows.

More than 50 rooms have been reserved at the hotels to accommodate the visiting electrical men who are to be in Charlotte to attend the first Rejuvenation of the Sons of Jove to be pulled off Saturday night in the Masonic Temple on the fourth floor of the Piedmont building.

Telegrams and mail bring news from all over the Carolinas that electrical men are deeply concerned and that the slogan of the order "All together, all the time for everything electrical" is on the tongue and in the heart of every man interested in the electrical development of the Carolinas.

Men of high rank in the Jovian order to attend and participate in the team work. E. D. Strickland, member of the Jovian congress and assistant to the reigning Jupiter will come from St. Louis and bring with him the working paraphernalia, "Electrical Effects" the regalia and costumes used regularly for annual meetings only, but to be used in the Charlotte meeting because of the unusually dignified rejuvenation and the large number of candidates to be initiated Saturday night.

Past Jupiter Oscar C. Turner of Birmingham, Alabama, will officiate as the reigning Jupiter. Mr. C. McKew Parr, of Hartford, Conn., will be "Avarnim." Mr. F. W. Bryne and Mr. L. S. Montgomery, of Atlanta will play respectively the parts of Vulcan and Apollo. Mr. Julian Binford of the Town of Binford Electric, Manufacturing or Binford Electric, Manufacturing Company of Richmond, Va., will impersonate Neptune and other old Jovian will make up the cortege of Heralds, Imps and guides who will assist the worthy satellites to approach Great Jupiter's throne.

Mr. Julian McGill Dorstret, manager Westinghouse Electric & Mfg. Co., Atlanta will be toast master at a big banquet to be given after the meeting at the Selwyn hotel.

More than 100 candidates will be initiated. A large number of men in local organizations have signed applications and will stay over Saturday night in Charlotte.

Mr. Ab. V. Harrill, vice president Charlotte Power Co., is chairman of the reception committee.

Foley Kidney Remedy vs. A Hopeless Case.

Hon. Ark. J. E. Freeman says: "I had a severe case of kidney trouble and could not work and my case seemed hopeless. I used several well known remedies, and had the services of a doctor, all of which gave me no relief. One large bottle of Foley's Kidney Remedy cured me and I have never been bothered since. I have also recommended it to my friends who all received the same good results. Bowen Drug Store on North Square.

Sickness in Family Of Rev. Dr. Orr. A HOUSEHOLD MEDICINE THAT GIVES CONFIDENCE. Is Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. Mrs. T. J. Adams, 522 No. Kansas Ave., Columbus, Kas., writes: "For a number of years my children have been subject to coughs and colds. I got some of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and have found that it cured their coughs and colds in a very short time, so I keep it in the house all the time." Bowen Drug Store on North Square. Uterly Wretched. Nervous Prostration Long Endured Before Remedy was Found. Miss Minerva Reminger, Upper Bern, Pa., writes: "For several years I had nervous prostration, and was utterly wretched. I lived on bread and beef tea because my stomach would not retain anything else. I took many remedies, but obtained no relief until I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, when I began to gain at once. Am now cured." Pure, rich blood makes good, strong nerves, and this is why Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies and enriches the blood, cures so many nervous diseases. Get it today in usual liquid form or chocolate tablets called Sarsatabs.

War Will Continue. Berlin, Oct. 26.—Advices from Constantinople state that reports of a recent battle with Italian losses of 300 at Tripoli have ended for the present any chance for mediation. The Turkish government, adopting the standpoint of the people, has swung over to the idea of continuing the war. Germany accordingly sees no opening for intervention.
