at a conference in the Greater Charlotte Club office.

Merrs. Frank H. Cotton and W. S. Rush, represented the Scale Company at the conference.

After having been assured by Dr. A. D. Glasscock, chairman of the Greater Charlotte Club, industrial and commercial, and others interested, that all necessary stock would be subscribed, the company's representives decided to bring their plant to Charlotte.

This is one of the most important moves that have been made in the) business world here for some time. Not only will this be a good advertisement for Charlotte, but it must mean ag much in the commercial and manufacturing life of the city. It was found by the company, that it could manufacture and put its goods on the market from four to five dollars cheaper than they are able at present to do. The excellent grade of the product can be seen in the different sets of scales now on exhibit at the Greater Charlotte Club.

Dr. Glasscock, of the American Trust Company, has the balance of the stock to be sold.

The Scale Company expects to begin moving here about the first of February. Their location has not been chosen, nor any of the details been gone into. The company expects t ohold another conference soon to make final arrangements.

Dr. H. Q. Alexander, president of the North Carolina Farmers' Union, has Roast Young Turkey returned from Raleigh, where he attended a meeting of the Union. Among the main items of interest discussed Braised Tenderloins of Western Beef was that of the locating of a chain of farmers' warehouses where all farm products can be stored. There will Baked Virginia Ham be a central warehouse in Raleigh, Charlotte, Greensboro or Wilmington, whichever town makes best inducement. The warehouse company will be incorporated if established.

Another important matter discussed was in regard to the time of paying for fertilizer. A conference was held on this subject with fertilizer manufacturers. The Union wishes to change the time of paying for fertilizer. It is the custom of the farmers to pay for fertilizer in November. They wish to change this so that they can pay one-third in December, onethird in March and one-third in July of the ensuing year. By the latter dates of payment the farmers will not be forced to market all their cotton in the fall.

The fertilizer manufacturers seemed pleased at the suggestion, and the new time of paying will no doubt be arranged.
