

Charlotte Poultry Show Comes To A Close This Evening

This is the closing day of Charlotte's fifteenth annual poultry show, which has proved to be the largest and best display of blooded fowls ever displayed here. Th Judges have finished their task and every exhibitor seems satisfied, not a single protest having been entered.

With few exceptions, nearly all the leading breeders of North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia, have made displays that would prove highly creditable to the breeders of any section in any show.

The large attendance at the show for the past three days goes to show that more people are becoming interested in this important industry. Many sales have been made, the prices ranging from $15 to $100 each. The White Leghorn class is probably the largest class in the show and contains birds of unusual good quality. A White Leghorn cock exhibited by Mr. R. L. Patton of Morganton has been the object of special admiration by all who have visited the show. Mr. Patton won first on this bird in class of eighteen, also first pullet in class of twenty-three. This is indeed, a very creditable showing in this variety where so many specimens were shown by the leading breeders.

Mr. Thomas, Superintendent of the Charlotte Poultry Show.

for best pen of Reds in the show. The White Orpington exhibit of Mr. Edgar D. Yoder of Hickory is a creditable one. His birds are large, well shaped and are snow white. A full list of awards in the various breeds will be published in The News Sunday.

Dr. W. A. Leslie of Morganton, N. C., had a strong display of Rhode Island Reds at the show.

Mr. Lyles, of Rockingham, N. C., showed a nice string of S. C. White Leghorns.

Flynn Elliott, as usual, took the lion's share of prizes. His exhibit was worth going far to see. Flynn breeds about everything that wears feathers, pheasants, peafowls, white and bronze turkeys, white, fawn, and pencilled Indian Runner; Pekin, Aylesbury, both north and south. The quality of his foundation stock coupled with years of experience have tended toward placing him in the front rank as a breeder of this popular variety. The classes in nearly all of the popular breeds such as Barded and White Plymouth Rocks, Wyandottes, White Orpingtons, Rhode Island Reds, Black Langshans, are well filled and contain birds that would do credit to any show.

The advantage gained by showing fowls in the "pink of condition" has long been recognized by shrewd and successful exhibitors. Birds that are in good health and plumage that have been cleaned and properly cooped, tend to have a great advantage over those that are hurriedly caught the day before, placed in a goods box and shipped to the show with broken and dirty feathers and wild as hawks.

Buff Rocks are a very good class, several specimens deserve special mention, noticeable the first prize cock shown by O. R. McAuley of Rockingham.

White Plymouth Rocks are another large class and contain birds of excellent type. The honors in this variety go to Messrs. McAuley, Gill, Potts and Whisman.

In the Black Langshan alloy honors have been pretty well divided between Messrs. Gill, J. R. Brown, Flynn Elliott and J. H. Mulligan. Rhode Island Reds are well represented. Many fine birds in this class have been awarded prizes at the Augusta, Atlanta and Appalachian exhibitions. Dr. R. E. Ware of Shelby seems to have painted things "red" in this class, winning the handsome silver loving cup offered by The News

Mr. Brown Alexander, Secretary of the C. P. A.

Rouen, White and colored Muscovy and other varieties of ducks. Emuden, Toulouse and other species of geese; Langshans, Orpingtons, many varieties of bantams and pigeons, and other breeds ad infinitum. He has made an enviable record this year at many of the leading shows of the south, including Atlanta, which was by several thousand birds the largest show ever held in the south, over 4,300 birds entered.

Capt. Thomas Rowland had a magnificent display of English Pencilled and Fawn and White Runner ducks on exhibit, and he won the prizes in that class, in addition to four valuable specials for Best display, etc. Mr. Rowland unquestionably has some of the best Indian Runners in the south, and he is going at the business with a determination which will achieve big success.

Some Plain Talk About The Wilson Near Sensation

"That eulogy over the dead body of Governor Wilson in the Observer this morning was almost equal to Mark Antony's," said Mr. E. B. Lewis, of Kinston, who is in the city on business for a few days. The only difference is that Mark was talking about a real corpse, while the Observer was discussing the livest one that ever rattled the dry bones in the valley. I think the folks in North Carolina ought to know a few facts before they take all that slush seriously. When they consider that George B. M. Harvey and the editor of the Observer are close personal friends and Harvey is said to be very close to J. Pierpont Morgan, and that Colonel Waterson is a close friend of both of them, it won't take long for them to get their bearings on this teapot storm. Of course it is a shame that Governor Wilson would not allow himself to be exploited by Morgan and his buccannery, and no doubt Harvey, Waterson, and the Observer feel much hurt over what they call, in box-car letters, his 'ingratitude.' What the folks in North Carolina are looking for is a leader who realizes the difference between a protective tariff and grand larceny and who can translate into law 'reasonable' protection from reasonable trusts. They won't care whether he ever dined with Harvey, drank with Waterson, or agreed with the editor of the Observer. Who is this Harvey, anyway, who looms so large on the Observer horizon? The only one North Carolina cares anything about was named John, and he was a North Carolinian, who spent his life in a fight against oppression in any form, whether from king, parliament or personal friend. The amenities of personal friendship are strong and powerful but they won't be allowed to sidetrack a real leader in the fight for real democracy."

—Dr. William Louis Potat, president of Wake Forest College, arrived in the city Wednesday night and spent yesterday here. He registered at the Selwyn.

SLUGGISH BOWELS CAUSE HEADACHE, DIZZINESS AND SICK, SOUR STOMACH

No odds how bad your liver, stomach or bowels; how much your head aches; how miserable and uncomfortable you are from constipation, indigestion, biliousness and sluggish intestines—you always get the desired results with Cascarets.

Don't let your stomach, liver and bowels make you miserable another moment; put an end to the headache, biliousness, dizziness, nervousness, sick, sour, gassy stomach, backache and all other distress; cleanse your inside organs of all the poison and effete matter which is producing the misery.

Take a Cascaret now; don't wait until bedtime. In all the world there is no remedy like this. A 10-cent box means health, happiness and a clear gloom and distress if you will take a Cascaret now and then. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle, cleansing, too.

MR. SCHAUB HERE TO ORGANIZE TOMATO CLUBS

Mr. I. O. Schaub, in charge of the boys' and girls' work of the state agricultural department, was a Charlotte visitor this morning. He came to consult Prof. R. A. Cochran, superintendent of county schools relative to the organization of "Tomato Clubs" in the county.

These clubs have already been organized in 12 counties of the state. They are organized and conducted on the principle as the boys' corn clubs, which have been doing such great work throughout the state and the South in creating an interest among the boys in intensive corn growing and which has resulted in a North Carolina boy winning the greatest number of bushels per acre. The tomato clubs will seek to promote among the members of the club an interest in the tomato growing industry. Both boys and girls will be eligible for membership in the clubs. An agent will be appointed in each county to supervise the work, the state department of education paying half of his expenses and the county clubs the other half.

A Guilford county girl won first prize last year in the tomato-growing contest, her net income amounting to $50 per one-tenth of an acre. This is at rate of $500 per acre, $200 per acre higher than the best results of Texas lands that are at present being widely advertised as great tomato lands.

Mr. Schaub was unable to consult with Prof. Cochran on account of the latter's present indisposition from grippe. He will therefore return to Mecklenburg at a later date to organize the tomato-growing clubs. From Charlotte Mr. Schaub went over to Gastonia today. Returning to Charlotte this afternoon, he will go to Hickory tonight.

Editor Holton Of N. C. Whig is Dead

Mr. Harrison Holton died yesterday afternoon at his home in Charleston, S. C. Thirty years ago Mr. Holton was a resident of Charlotte, where he edited the North Carolina Whig. Mr. Holton is survived by two sisters and two brothers, Miss Addie Holton, Mrs. Rachel Crisp and Mr. Charles Holton, of Charlotte, and Mr. E. J. Holton, of Charleston.

—Twenty-five bales of cotton were sold today at the local cotton platform at 9 1/4 cents per pound against 44 bales on the same date last year at 14 1/2 cents per pound.

Lacked Confidence Still It Helped

Happy Experience of Ridgely Lady, who Describes Her Own Narrow Escape From Death

Ridgely, Tenn.—Mrs. Jennie Estes, of this place, writes: "I want to say something good for Cardui. I can't begin to say enough. I was sick abed with womanly troubles, from February until October, and was in very bad condition. The doctor came to see me, three or four times a week, but he did me no good. One day, I thought I would give Cardui a trial. I had no confidence in it, at all, but I bought a bottle. In a few days, I was up and doing my housework. Now, I have gained 15 pounds, and am feeling as well as I ever felt in my life. If it had not been for Cardui, I honestly believe I would have been in my grave. I advise all sick and suffering women to take Cardui. It cured me when all other medicines failed."

In the past fifty years, thousands of ladies have written, like Mrs. Estes, to tell of the benefit received from Cardui. Such testimony from those who have tried and know Cardui, surely indicates the value of this reliable woman's remedy. For quick relief from all forms of womanly trouble, Cardui is the medicine you need. Try it. N. ### GOODE-EAGAN WEDDING

Mrs. Isaac Hardeman, Misses Martha May Carr and Sadie Davis returned last night from Atlanta where they had been to attend the marriage of Miss Julia E. Goode—sister of Mrs. Hardeman, and a most charming visitor to Charlotte, but recently—and Mr. Henry E. Eagan, which took place Wednesday night, and which was attended with social eclat. The details of the wedding are interestingly told in the Constitution of yesterday.

The marriage of Miss Julia Elizabeth Goode and Mr. Henry Edward Eagan was an interesting event of last night taking place at St. Luke's Episcopal church. Dr. C. B. Wilmer officiated, and there were present to witness the impressive ceremony a large congregation of friends.

The attendants were Mrs. Isaac Hardeman, of Charleston, matron of honor; Miss Juliette Pace, maid of honor; Misses Evelyn Eagan and Elizabeth Williams; flower girls; Mr. Earl Green, best man; Messrs. James S. Middleton, C. A. Stokes, Carl Collins and Frank Tidwell, ushers.

The bride entered the church with her brother-in-law, Mr. Henry P. Willovely in her wedding gown of white crepe de chine. The material was a gift sent her from China and it had been elaborately embroidered by Chinese artists. It was becomingly fashioned, and the point applique lace with which it was trimmed was the same used by many brides in the family. Her flowers were a shower of bride roses lilacs of the valley.

The matron of honor wore white satin trimmed with lace and embroidered in pearls, and the maid of honor was gowned in white and carried an armful of pink roses. The flower girls wore white chiffon over pink silk.

Mrs. Samuel W. Goode, the bride's mother, was gowned in black lace over black satin, and Mrs. Eagan, the groom's mother, wore blue charmeuse. Mrs. Collins, the bride's grandmother, was gowned in gray vreppe de chine. The church decorations were an artistic arrangement of palms, and on the altar were pink roses.

After the ceremony the immediate family party were entertained informally at the bride's home, and afterward, Mr. and Mrs. Eagan left on a wedding trip. Returning, they will make their home with the groom's parents on Spring street.

The bride is a pretty young woman whose charm is that of a most lovable nature as well as an attractive personality, and Mr. Eagan, who is successfully known in business, has many friends to congratulate him.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Miss Sadie Davis and Miss Martha May Carr, of Charlotte; Mrs. H. P. Williams and family, of Charleston; Mrs. E. J. Stevenson, of Mingo, Okla.

COMPLIMENTING MRS. WATT. Complimenting Mrs. Ada Watt, of Columbus, Ga., Mrs. Ralph Laxton entertains at bride tomorrow afternoon. The guests will include Mesdames Watt, Edward Patterson, Elizabeth Bussey, Edward C. Marshall, Joseph R. Ross, Walter Annette, Franklin Gordon, W. W. Phifer, A. D. Glascock, H. M. Rose, W. L. Burns, L. E. Newell, H. W. Dixon, G. L. Best, W. A. Zwiener, H. L. Adams and J. I. Staten.

MAFFITT-LONG MARRIAGE

Mr. Ben C. Maffitt and Miss Sadie Long were united in marriage last night at 8:30 at the manse of the Second Presbyterian church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. A. McGeehy. The marriage was witnessed only by Mrs. L. C. Maffitt, mother of the groom and Mr. Wade Montgomery, best man. Mr. Maffitt for some years has held a responsible position with the Charlotte water works and is one of Charlotte's most popular young men. Miss Long is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Long, of Burlington, and is pretty and attractive. For some time past she has been a stenographer in the water works office. During their business associations they were thrown together. The happy event—last night is the result.

For the present Mr. and Mrs. Maffitt will reside with the groom's mother, Mrs. Maffitt, in the Wilson apartments, on East Eighth street.

Berkshue Association Adjourns

The North Carolina Berkshire Association which was in session yesterday at the Selwyn hotel, adjourned yesterday afternoon after discussing many matters of importance to the association. Raleigh was chosen as the next place of meeting.

The committee which handled the first sale was instructed to make arrangements for another sale during the State Farmers' Convention, which meets in Raleigh the last week in August. The following committees were appointed for the year:

Membership committee: W. D. Troutman, of Troutman; A. M. Swinnerton, of Pinehurst; C. E. Shelton, of Winston-Salem. Program Committee: J. E. Thomas, of Charlotte; B. F. Shelton, of Speed; W. J. Shuford, of Hickory. Executive Committee: Edgar B. Moore, of Charlotte; L. Shuford, of West Raleigh; F. A. Cochran, of Derita; W. D. Troutman, of Troutman.

Auditing Committee: Frank Shield, of Scotland Neck; J. O. Gardner, of Charlotte, and John Hardin, of Raleigh.

The chief officers of the association were re-elected, including Mr. E. B. Moore, president; R. L. Shuford, of Newton; R. S. Curtis, secretary-treasurer.

JACKSON DAY CELEBRATED ALL OVER THE SOUTH

Atlanta, Jan. 19.—Lee-Jackson Day celebrations commemorative of the birth anniversaries of General Lee and Stonewall Jackson are being held throughout the South by patriotic organizations. It is a legal holiday in Virginia, Alabama, Georgia, Florida and both Carolinas. Banks and many public buildings were closed in these states. While General Jackson's birthday does not fall until the 21st, the two celebrations generally are held jointly on the 19th.

The vaudevilles have changed their weekly program. The Orpheum has comedian and impersonator in Ted Warwick and a clever pair of singers in Lester and Lowery. The Casino's big bill has been added to by Mack and Mead, a clever pair of comedians.

"Very little sickness among the children," reports Superintendent Alexander Graham, of the public schools.
