Address Of Hon. Herioi Clarkson At Convention

Of wide interest will be the fol ident of the league: ADDRESS

Mr. Clarkson's Address.

Gentlemen of the Convention: "With malice toward none, with charity for all," this convention reconvenes after four years. These years, I believe have been the most peaceful the brave. The shackles of the saloon and dispensary on our body politic have been taken off by the free men of this commonwealth. The majority was large, 44.196 votes. We look back and we are thankful that a kind Provilearless Judge Jeter C. Pritchard, the gil S .Lusk and the ministers of the gospel of peace, the shepherds of our us gather here today.

bition wished, but it was a safe and laws being enforced. sane measure. It struck down the questions to be settled. Some have and others have to be. The passage of the act was a declaration of independence, but it did not mean that independence was won-the American patriots fought eight years in the Revtime to come, when a people will learn the great truth of the Fatherhood of God and brotherhood of man, and adder.' we practice the divine idea to love our neighbor as ourselves. So I stand here today and thank God and take courage. No sooner than we struck down the saloon and distillery than little foxes have tried to spoil the vines and we create public sentiment to destroy the near beer contest. The United States government requires all who sell any drinks that contain over onehalf of one per cent of alcohol to take out federal license. The town of Morehead City passed an ordinance United States Produces More Than All that it was unlawful fon any one to sell any drink that the United States government requires a tax on. The in the United States has been notable supreme court decided that unless there was in the charter a provision authorizing it, the ordinance was void.
